Welcome/Overview

Kentucky School Participants,

Thank you for your interest in the 2016 Kentucky School of Alcohol and Other Drug Studies and the online conference brochure. In this, the 43rd year of providing a KY School, the planners have worked hard to preserve the most valued pieces of the conference but also sought to offer cutting edge, “move us forward,” information and overall conference enjoyment.

Participants will have lots of opportunities for personal and professional development and rejuvenation throughout the week. As in years past, there are foundational prevention and treatment courses, advanced multiple day courses, annual peer/professional group meetings, a large exhibit hall, and the Tuesday evening awards banquet with live music.

In addition to the wide variety of courses, presented by leaders in their field, we will have workshop tracts dedicated to Prevention Specialists Certification courses, Adolescent Substance Use Prevention and Treatment courses. Please take time to learn about all we have to offer in the following pages and we look forward to seeing you in July!

Sincerely,

Natalie Kelly

Conference Logistics

Before You Arrive:

Online Registration
Registration for the conference is available online: http://dbhdid.ky.gov/dbh/ksaods.aspx. Participants may attend one to three days at a cost of $125 per day or $450 for the full conference (a $50 savings).

Participants may register to attend any combination of workshops but are reminded to pay careful attention to the workshops that are conducted over a span of two days, or which occur just a half day. Participants should be careful not to sign up for more than one workshop in the same time slot. The registration system will charge for all workshops, even if those workshops overlap. For questions regarding registration, please email: Diana.Hobbs@eku.edu

Deadline for Registration is
June 30, 2016

Registration Fee(s)
$450.00/week or $125.00/day

All registration and payment details are provided through the online registration site. Registration fee is required to be paid at the time of online registration using PayPal. To register: http://dbhdid.ky.gov/dbh/ksaods.aspx

Awards Banquet
Persons registering for the full week will be able to participate in the banquet at no extra cost but must indicate their participation when registering online. Persons not indicating they want to attend the banquet will not be included in the final count. Persons registering for 1-3 days are still welcome to attend the banquet at a cost of $40.00.

Accommodations
If you need an ASL Interpreter, CART, or other accommodations, please make your request to Michelle Niehaus no later than July 1, 2016. Workshop choices must be confirmed at the time of registration. The Department will make every effort to meet your needs.

(Email) Michelle.Niehaus@ky.gov
(V) 502-782-6181
(VP) by appointment

Handouts
Handouts will be posted online prior to KSAODS. Each registrant will be emailed the link to workshop(s) to download and print handouts for their sessions (approximately July 1, 2016). Registrants are responsible for this process. Printed handouts will not be available on-site.

Scholarships
Limited scholarships are available for Kentucky residents only. Applications are due May 31, 2016. Scholarships cover registration fee only. Scholarship recipients will be emailed instructions on how to register in lieu of payment. If you apply for a scholarship, please do not register for Kentucky School until you learn if you have received a scholarship. Follow this link to obtain the scholarship application: https://redcap.uky.edu/redcap/surveys/?s=MCCWT4DH7R

Hotel Accommodations

Crowne Plaza Hotel Sleep Rooms: There is a KY School block of rooms with a special room rate of $99 per night plus tax/fees. They are reserved under KY School of Alcohol and Other Drug Studies, and will be available until June 15. After June 15th, there is no guarantee of availability or rate. Make your reservations as soon as possible. Please follow the link above to make your hotel reservations or call the hotel at 800-633-8723 or 502-367-6161. You may also visit their website for more information about the Crowne Plaza conference site. www.cplouisville.com

ONCE YOU ARRIVE:

Onsite Check-In: REQUIRED

Onsite check-in will be open Sunday, July 17, 2016, from 2:00-6:00 pm. Sunday’s plenary begins at 5:00 pm, followed by a reception. Check-in will be open each morning from 8:00-10:15 and Thursday from 7:30-8:45. Nametags and information packets will be distributed at this time. The location for onsite check-in is outside Crowne A Ballroom. Check-in is required only the first day of your workshops.

Attendance

All registration will take place online: http://dbhdid.ky.gov/dbh/ksaods.aspx

All participants choose workshops on a first-come, first-serve basis and workshops will be closed when room capacity is filled. When you register online, you will be guided through this process. At the end of the online registration process, there is a confirmation message that you can print. You will receive a confirmation email as well that will outline the workshops and other events that you registered for, along with the cost of each, and then a total cost.

Please note, a workshop that has a Px or Ad designation may also be appropriate for a treatment provider and vice versa. The designations are indicated to provide preventionists and adolescent treatment providers guidance in selecting workshops that will be most appropriate for their credentialing boards’ approval.

Evaluations

Your feedback is valued by conference planners.

- Plenary - session evaluations will be available. Please complete at the conclusion of each session and leave on ballroom tables.
- Workshop - evaluations will be distributed and completed at the conclusion of each workshop; leave with workshop facilitator.
- Conference - evaluations will be conducted online, and upon completion, certificates will be available to participants.

Vendors/Exhibitors

A list of vendors and exhibitors will be available in registrant folders received at Check-In. Please be sure to visit the 2016 Vendors/Exhibitors in the Exhibit Hall. Satisfaction surveys will be in participant folders. Please complete after visiting the exhibit hall and take to registration area.

Roving Counselors

Roving counseling available if needed. See info table outside Crowne A.

Nametags, Barcodes and CEUs

Nametags include a barcode that will be scanned at the beginning and the end of each workshop (including when you exit and re-enter at lunch), and at the beginning of each plenary. Certificates for CEUs and Contact Hours will be generated after the conference based on participants’ scans. Please keep name badge secure and easily accessible for scanner.

Certificates with CEUs or Contact Hours earned will be available online to download and print after August 21, 2016. An email message with instructions will be sent to attendees after August 21st. No partial credit will be given. In order to receive credit for attendance, participants must attend the entire workshop, receiving a scan within 10 minutes of the workshop morning start time and after lunch. Participants must also sign the roster in each workshop and include professional board license number(s) on the sign-in sheet(s).

A complete list of licensing boards with approved CEU options is noted on the next page.

PLEASE KEEP YOUR NAMETAG SECURE AND WEAR IT AT ALL TIMES. A $5.00 fee will be assessed to replace lost nametags. See Onsite Registration outside the Crowne Ballroom for replacements.

PLEASE NOTE: No partial continuing education credit will be given. Participants must attend the entire workshop and sign ALL roster/sign-in sheets to receive any continuing education credit hours, as well as scan in and scan out of sessions.

Meals

Lunch will be provided daily and is included in your registration fee. Lunch Monday and Thursday are buffet style. Lunch Tuesday and Wednesday are box lunches.

Tuesday Evening Banquet: There is no additional cost with full-week registration for the Tuesday evening Awards Banquet; however, please indicate your attendance during the registration process. Other registrants are welcome to attend, but must indicate this through the online registration and pay $40.00.

Please Remember To...

- Bring downloaded handouts to all sessions (copies will not be available onsite)
- Bring sweater/light jacket for air conditioning comfort (it is almost always chilly in sessions)
- Keep nametag accessible for scanners
- Arrive to sessions at the scheduled times, Thursday is an earlier start time
- Silence electronic devices during all sessions

Prevention-Specific Track

KCBPP Approved Courses

The field and focus of Substance Abuse Prevention has drastically changed over the past 11 years. This change for the better has only been made possible by those who believe in hard work, persistence and, most of all, the importance of Substance Abuse Prevention to our coalitions and communities. Likewise, the Kentucky School of Alcohol and Other Drug Studies has changed to reflect the merits of Prevention. 2016 will see our Kentucky School again including workshops that feature national speakers presenting topics that will link the new fields of prevention and behavioral health. Workshops that fit this designation will have the letters Px in the workshop code. The Kentucky Certification Board for Prevention Professionals has reviewed the Kentucky School Courses and approved the following for credit toward the Certified Prevention Specialist designation:

Adolescence is the time when many mental health disorders begin to present in addition to the time that young people may explore substance use. Substance use and abuse can be difficult to discern as something different from mental health issues, and they are often times co-occurring. The complex needs of this population are remarkably different from those of the traditional adult treatment population, requiring different expertise and guidance on how a treatment and recovery system can best serve them.

In recognition of the differences in developmental and emotional growth between adolescents and adults, the Kentucky School of Alcohol and Drug Studies has developed this adolescent specific track to distinctively address the unique needs of adolescents and their families who may be dealing with substance use issues. These sessions will benefit both the entry-level clinician as well as the seasoned veteran, providing them with the most up to date information in the ever emerging field of adolescent substance use and co-occurring treatment.

Since 2005, the Michael E. Townsend Leadership Academy has offered professional development opportunities for professionals in the field of Substance Abuse. The Michael E. Townsend Leadership Academy is an opportunity for those who wish to become leaders throughout Kentucky in the field of substance abuse/recovery and mental health to collaborate and further enhance their skills.

For 2016 the Townsend Leadership Academy will continue; however it will be held at a different time and location and not during the KY School Week. Information will be sent to the Kentucky School mailing list and will also be posted on the DBHDID website when available: (http://dbhdid.ky.gov/dbh/ksaods.aspx). For more information please contact Mike Barry at mike@peopleadvocatingrecovery.org

The purpose of this leadership initiative is to develop leadership talent and skills for the future of Kentucky substance abuse professionals. Participants in the Leadership Academy have been challenged to grow both individually and professionally. The larger outcome of the Leadership Academy Challenge Projects has been widespread influence throughout law enforcement, prevention, recovery and treatment arenas, and many of the results of these Challenge Projects have continued to be widely used today.

The Leadership Academy views leadership as a set of interrelated capabilities and provides a lens to assist a leader to develop a robust approach and guide for action. This leadership framework is based around five interrelated leadership capabilities, each supported by a number of leadership practices. These five leadership capabilities include leadership context, setting direction, building capability, inspiring commitment and personal effectiveness.

Continuing Education Units (CEUs) are offered for completion of this program. Specifically, during the workshop and the two retreats, Leadership Academy participants will be introduced to skills required to become the next leaders in their fields, including building coalitions and teams, effective strategic planning, communication, decision-making, creativity, resolution of conflicts, dealing with diversity, press relations and messaging, and more.

In addition, the Leadership Academy participants will be required to work on a team of their Leadership Academy peers for the entire year, creating and regularly reporting on projects that will be designed by them to greatly benefit their fields. These projects are the legacies the Leadership Academy members leave behind as a service to their fields. They will also be required to read and review current leadership literature provided to them both before and during their Leadership Academy year, and complete other assignments as directed.

2016 Mike Lowther Award for Excellence in Prevention Work

Substance Abuse Prevention lost a friend and a pioneer in October of 2014. Mike Lowther was a member of both the SHSA and ONDCP teams and shared his knowledge with Preventionists across the states. He was a constant guide. This year, the Kentucky School of Alcohol and Other Drug Studies will present the second “Michael Lowther Award” that focuses on the individual or community that shares Mike’s belief that “local people solve local problems best; people support what they create, and science matters.”

- Connie Smith, Former Branch Manager, Kentucky Division of Behavioral Health, Prevention and Promotion Branch

In honor of the late Mike Lowther, the Kentucky School of Alcohol and Other Drug Studies is pleased to announce the second annual Mike Lowther Award for Excellence in Prevention Work.

Mr. Michael O. Lowther, a native of Oklahoma and a resident of Nebraska, was a highly regarded expert in the field of substance abuse prevention. He was the founding director of the Southwest Prevention Center at the University of Oklahoma, served as a director of State Programs at the U.S. Health and Human Services Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration, and worked at the White House Drug Policy Office where he contributed significantly to the President’s National Drug Control Strategy.

Additionally, Mr. Lowther served in leadership positions at the Pacific Institute for Research and Evaluation and worked at JBS International. Mr. Lowther received the 2001 National Prevention Network Lifetime Achievement Award for outstanding contributions to the field.

Mr. Lowther was an advocate for systems change to enhance the health and well-being of all people. He believed in building local capacity for comprehensive, population-based approaches that are based on objective and valid needs assessments. Mr. Lowther’s mantra was “local people solve local problems best, people support what they help create, and science matters.”

The winner of the 2016 Mike Lowther Award for Excellence in Prevention Work will embody the high professional standards, effective communication skills, proven leadership abilities, and dedication to the field and science of substance abuse prevention of which Mr. Lowther demonstrated.

The 2016 Mike Lowther Award for Excellence in Prevention Work will be presented during the Tuesday night KSAODS banquet. The award winner will be selected by DBH prevention staff.
Dear KY School Participants,

The Kentucky Association of Addiction Professionals (KAAP) is the state affiliate of NAADAC, the National Association of Addiction Professionals. The Kentucky School serves as KAAP’s primary forum for training addiction professionals in state of the art information for prevention, intervention, treatment and research related to addiction studies. As co-sponsor of the 2016 Kentucky School, KAAP members will receive a registration discount as an incentive to become a member of Kentucky’s statewide professional organization for addiction professionals and advocates. Annual membership in KAAP is $110.00 for Professionals, $89.00 for Associates (working toward their CADC or prevention certification) and $47.50 for student membership.

Information on NAADAC membership and becoming a member of KAAP can be found at www.naadac.org. KAAP members will receive a $100.00 discount for four day registration and a $25.00 discount for daily registration at this year’s Kentucky School. Please contact Mike Townsend to receive your code for discounted registration via email at mike6567@gmail.com. This discount will only apply to NAADAC members who are registered in Kentucky to become members of the Kentucky Association of Addiction Professionals.

On behalf of KAAP, we encourage addiction professionals to become active with KAAP and to become an active member of NAADAC as we move to strengthen the Substance Abuse field in the coming years.

Mike Townsend
President
Kentucky Association of Addiction Professionals

The Grassroots Speaks The Face and Voice of Recovery:

Young People in Recovery (YPR) - A Presentation With A Facilitated Panel Discussion

Tara Mosley, BS
Presenter and Facilitator

1 CEU

5:00 p.m.-6:00 p.m.

This panel will consist of members of the Young People in Recovery (YPR) chapter in Louisville, Kentucky, and each person will discuss what it was like to find recovery at a young age. They will discuss what type of treatment they needed or sought to begin recovery. Panelists will describe what barriers they encountered when trying to develop a stable life in recovery. They will describe what support was given to sustain long term recovery from a substance abuse disorder. Panelists will also discuss what experiences they had with speaking openly about their recovery and why it is important to speak out, and the stigma associated with substance Abuse disorders.

Learning Objectives:
- What are barriers that young people face in early/long term recovery.
- What support do young people need to sustain recovery.
- Why there is not a “one size fits all” treatment plan for youth with a substance abuse disorder.
- Why speaking out about personal recovery can empower others and themselves.

Panel:
Tara Moseley, Chapter Lead/Panel Facilitator
Jenni Meredith, Housing Lead
Russell Alvey, Education Lead
Matthew Murohy, Events Coordinator

Focus Trends: The History and Future of Addictions Treatment in America

Mark Sanders, LCSW, CADC

1 Hour Plenary - 1 CEU
9:00 a.m.-10:00 a.m.

This keynote address highlights 10 historical milestones that shaped modern addictions treatment and will describe changes that will impact the future of addictions treatment, including: technology erasing millions of jobs in the United States and implications for addictions treatment; expectations of the use of evidence-based practices; state budget cuts; the need for nontraditional sources of funding; changing client demographics; the aging of the addictions workforce; demographic shifts; the use of computers in addictions counseling; and multiple pathways of recovery. Emphasis will be placed upon learning from the past and preparing yourself to deal with future changes.

Learning Objectives:
By the end of this presentation you will learn:

1. 10 historical milestones that shaped modern addictions treatment.
2. How to clinically prepare for changing client demographics.

Mark Sanders, LCSW, CADC, is an international speaker in the behavioral health field whose presentations have reached thousands throughout the United States, Europe, Canada, and the Caribbean Islands. He is co-author of Recovery Management and author of Relationship Detox: How to Have Healthy Relationships in Recovery. He has had two stories published in the New York Times best-selling book series, Chicken Soup for the Soul. His most recent book is entitled, Slipping through the Cracks: Intervention Strategies for Clients with Multiple Addictions and Disorders. He is a lecturer at the University of Chicago.
Workshop Abstracts

M1 - Psychoactive Medications: Risks, Benefits and Relationship to Substance Abuse

Demetra Antimisiaris, Pharm.D., CGP, FASCP

1 Day Workshop • Monday
5 CEUs

Understanding pharmacological and physiological aspects of psychoactive medications (both intended and unintended psychoactive) can be valuable to the substance abuse professional. All medications can have effects on the psychological wellbeing of an individual, even if the medications are not labeled as psychoactive. This session will review elements of psychoactive pharmacology, intended and unintended psychoactive medication effects, and the various conditions or circumstances that can lead to unintended psycho-activity of many medications and substances.

Objectives:
1. Describe examples of how psychoactive medications interact with the human nervous system to result in tolerance, neuroplasticity, and toxicity.
2. Name three medications ordinarily considered non psychoactive which have psychoactive effects.
3. List physiological conditions which can result in increased psycho-active activity of any medication.

M2 - Addictions Medicine: Partnering with Treatment for Sustaining Recovery ~ An Addiction Psychiatrist’s Perspective

Susan Blank, M.D.

1 Day Workshop • Monday
5 CEUs

We know that addiction is a brain disease that can affect every organ system in the body. But, what does that really mean? In this workshop we will look at some overlooked and underappreciated ways in which active substance use can affect a person’s cognitive functioning, hormonal systems, nutritional status and coping abilities. Simple, inexpensive, innovative ways to evaluate the person and gain insight into when and how to refer someone for a more thorough evaluation will be introduced, evaluated, and discussed. We will look at some special circumstances related to pain in patients with addiction, the differences in dealing with stress between men and women, and find out why antidepressants usually don’t help many of our patients. Ways to deal with these companion substance use issues will be explored so that you will have more tools and options for helping your patient move toward integrated healing from the beginning of your treatment planning.

Objectives:
1. Participants will be able to identify at least three effects of the use of drugs and alcohol on the neuroendocrine system.
2. Participants will recognize signs of poor nutrition in patients who are active in their addiction.
3. Participants will be able to identify the role of stress in relapse risk, particularly for women.
4. Participants will recognize when patients may benefit from a referral for a more advanced medical work up when antidepressants don't seem to work for their patients.
M3 - Recovery Oriented Systems of Care: Working smarter not harder: Shifting the focus to recovery improves outcomes

Ed Johnson, M.Ed., MAC, LPC

1 Day Workshop • Monday
5 CEUs

Eighty-five percent of individuals return to using within the first ninety days after completing treatment. How can we improve this? This workshop explores what addiction treatment and prevention currently look like and what they might look like, based on current research, if the focus were on recovery. Participants will explore how a recovery-oriented system facilitates more individuals being able to initiate and sustain recovery. Participants will explore the issues of acute versus chronic care, stigma, community engagement and the concept of recovery capital, recovery management and the use of peer support. The importance of language and terminology will also be discussed

Objectives:
Upon completion of this workshop, participants will be able to:

1. Compare and contrast the acute care and chronic care model of substance use disorder treatment.
2. Demonstrate increased understanding of the concept of “Recovery Capital” and how it impacts recovery initiation and support.
3. Articulate the differences between Recovery Management and Relapse Prevention.
4. Increase their understanding of terms that addiction professionals’ use that perpetuates the stigma associated with substance use disorders.

M4-Px - Prevention Forward: The ACA and Why Prevention IS Health Reform

Jane Goble-Clark, M.P.A., CSAPC

Prevention Track
1 Day Workshop • Monday
5 CEUs

The “Prevention Forward” workshop provides an overview of the ACA and shows that prevention is at the heart of it. Participants will learn and discuss topics such as: 1) systems-level changes related to the ACA/health reform movement, 2) challenges related to those changes, and 3) the basics of prevention and how it is relevant to the work they already do. It will empower participants to be proactive, rather than passive, participants within an evolving health care system. This workshop is applicable to practitioners at the community, state, regional and national level since we are all striving to create and/or adjust to integrated health care models.

Objectives:
1. Participants will be able to describe how the ACA/health reform centers around prevention.
2. Participants will be able to describe the National Prevention Strategy.
3. Participants will be able to describe how prevention relates to their work, or for prevention practitioners, be able to describe to non-prevention colleagues how prevention is health reform.
M5 Ad - When Programs Aren’t Enough: Building Multi-Agency Prevention Supports

Jonathan Cloud, B.A., B.A.

Adolescent Track
1 Day Workshop • Monday
5 CEUs

At both the individual and community levels, there are times when isolated programs working alone aren’t enough to prevent at-risk adolescents from moving into “deep end” services. This workshop defines the key characteristics of such times, or the conditions at individual and community levels that require sophisticated strategic planning among multiple agencies. In doing so, this question is answered: When should our agency move from doing its own thing and develop strategic partnerships with other agencies? Building on this answer, the workshop utilizes a highly engaging series of interconnected small group exercises to move participants through the stages of building a cross-sector prevention strategy focused on at-risk adolescents. Each stage exposes participants to one or more evidence-based practices from the fields of Positive Youth Development, Collective Impact, Cross-Sector Partnerships, and Project Management. Findings from research on the neuroscience of addiction and avoidance behaviors are also utilized.

Objectives:
Participants will:
1. Understand five types of multi-agency partnerships and be able to determine when conditions at individual and community levels require strategic planning among multiple agencies.
2. Understand the core principles of Positive Youth Development and how they apply to prevention of substance abuse among at-risk adolescents.
3. Understand the importance of formulating a theory of change on which to base substance abuse prevention efforts and how to utilize data to set and achieve measurable prevention outcomes.
4. Be able to explain the steps involved in building a multi-agency cross-sector substance abuse prevention strategy focused on at-risk adolescents.
5. Be able to use the workshop tools to develop or strengthen a multi-agency substance abuse prevention strategy in their community.

M6 - Geriatric Issues in Substance Use Treatment

Jeff Georgi, M.Div., LSAS, LPC, CCS, CGP

1 Day Workshop • Monday
5 CEUs

Traditionally, the substance abuse treatment community has not done well in addressing issues of geriatric concern. This often hidden population has a wide range of psychosocial needs which they often medicate with alcohol or other drugs. Encountering a variety of ailments, our older citizens often are seeing multiple physicians who are not coordinating medical care, which leads to drug interactions and drug toxicity. In addition to the above, most of the treatment interventions are designed primarily for younger individuals who are working and seem to have fuller lives. The geriatric patient not only is encountering significant biological and metabolic changes, but inevitably encounters multiple levels of loss in terms of the death of friends and family, the loss of prestige associated with work and productivity, and the loss of freedom as they are confined more and more to the home or skilled nursing facility. All these issues compound drug and alcohol abuse, requiring specific interventions to address this special patient population. In the six-hour workshop clinicians will be given a brief review of the most poignant issues facing the geriatric patient. These issues will then be tied to specific interventions, utilizing a motivational interviewing frame to help engage the older patient in their own treatment plan.

Objectives:
Participants will:
1. Be able to internalize and discuss the special needs of the geriatric patient population.
2. Review both from a biological, psychological, sociological, and spiritual point of view the special vulnerabilities associated with aging.
3. Learn specific interventions and be able to articulate those interventions to the specific needs of the geriatric substance abusing patient population.
M7 - Eating Addiction: Recovery, Relapse, and Prevention

Stephen Grinstead, Dr. AD, LMFT, ACRPS, CADC-II

1 Day Workshop • Monday
5 CEUs

This workshop will present a strategic roadmap for effectively working with compulsive overeaters, food addicts, eating addicts and binge eaters. These terms describe people who use eating and food to manage feelings and cope with life instead of for fuel. One primary purpose of this workshop is to teach the participants to develop a relapse prevention plan and create a schedule of activities to assist in that goal. Participant will learn the importance of first assisting their clients in developing a personalized definition of abstinence that works for them as well as an effective recovery plan that is life enhancing, which I refer to as a Healthy Living Plan. The workshop will also go through a series of steps to make sure that participants can aid clients to become stable in their recovery and cover the necessary steps for that to occur. The second part of the workshop focuses on how to develop an effective and strategic relapse prevention plan—the missing component for this population. We will also discuss how for people in recovery for alcohol and/or other drugs this process eating addiction can lead them to relapse in their chemical recovery.

Objectives:
1. Be able to assist their clients in developing a bio-psycho-social-spiritual Healthy Living Plan and identifying the common triggers that can sabotage quality recovery in each of those four areas.
2. Teach clients to develop their personal definition of what recovery (abstinence) means to them and signing a Healthy Living Contract that includes a personalized Healthy Eating Plan.
3. Take their clients through a thirty (30) item Eating Addiction Problem Checklist and help the clients understand what their score really means.
4. Learn how to identify at least twenty-seven (27) common high risk situations that lead clients from stable recovery to becoming dysfunctional and eventually start using eating to cope instead of for fuel.
5. Be able to teach clients how to develop a strategic treatment plan that will assist them in identifying and managing future high risk situations that could lead to relapse.

M8-Px - It’s Not Tobacco Anymore - Electronic Nicotine Devices: Implications for Tobacco Prevention

Amy Jeffers, M.A., CPS

Prevention Track
1 Day Workshop • Monday
5 CEUs

In the last half century, tobacco prevention has made great strides in reducing cigarette use and establishing smoke-free environments. Then electronic nicotine devices (ENDS) appeared on the scene, changing the way we define cigarettes and tobacco use. The popularity of electronic cigarettes and vaping devices has exploded in recent years especially among young people. Despite this new delivery system that claims to be safer than smoking traditional cigarettes, these products still contain nicotine and other chemicals that are harmful to the user and those around them. Nevertheless, these products are creating a new language and sub-culture, changing behaviors and challenging policies. In order to address this, those in prevention must be prepared to make changes as well. This workshop will look at how to rethink tobacco prevention language, messaging, and strategies in order to prevent ENDS from becoming the gateway to nicotine addiction for a new generation.

Objectives:
1. Provide attendees with a basic understanding of electronic nicotine devices.
2. Educate attendees on these new devices require a paradigm shift in traditional prevention strategies.
3. Provide attendees with resources and tools to implement comprehensive tobacco prevention efforts.
M9 - Clinical Challenges: Medically Assisted Treatment and the Opioid Addicted Patient

Mark Miller, M.A., M.S., LMFT

1 Day Workshop • Monday
5 CEUs

Medically Assisted Treatment has been around for over a half a century in the form of methadone and, more recently, Buprenorphine with Naloxone, for opioid-addicted patients. This seminar will focus on medically assisted treatment from a clinical perspective, highlighting both challenges and goals for working with patients in MAT. What is Harm Reduction and how does it work? How have changes in legislation impacted the patients that we work with? What are the typical opioids that patients are using prior to treatment? Looking beyond the old standbys of “exchanging one drug for another” and “legal dope dealers”, how do MAT programs benefit their patients and what does this mean for you? Finally, how can you work toward prevention of heroin use in the community you are from, especially given all the challenges we are discussing? Come be a part of an exciting dialogue about this still-cutting edge treatment modality!

Objectives:
1. Understand what MAT is.
2. Learn the differences between Buprenorphine with Naloxone and Methadone.
3. Establish and address particular challenges of preventing heroin in the communities our participants are from.
4. Establish and address particular challenges of this population: pain management, co-occurring disorders, community investment.

M10 - Treating the Emerging Adult with Substance Use Disorders

Cardwell Nuckols, Ph.D.

1 Day Workshop • Monday
5 CEUs

In treatment programs throughout North America, as much as one-half to two-thirds of the patient population is 18 -30 years old. This is good news as more and more alcoholics and addicts are having the opportunity at an early age to enter into recovery.

This emerging young adult population has difficulty with treatment programs designed for more mature adults. Their subjective experience of life is much different than that of someone who has already achieved some success in the social and business world. Often they need habilitation instead of being candidates for rehabilitation.

This skills development training will give participants hands-on techniques based upon neurobiological and social science evidence. Neuroplastic changes are necessary to allow the prefrontal cortex to develop the abilities for formalized thought, management of affect and relationship skills. Without these skills the patient will not have an opportunity for life enhancement- to hold a good job, to raise a child and to be a part of a committed relationship.

“This is the most important treatment issue facing the addictions, mental health and criminal justice treatment system today.”

Objectives:
Upon completion of this training, participants will be able to:
1. Positively impact the patient’s development of cognitive change from a concrete to a more formalized model.
2. Design an aggressive discharge plan in order to facilitate continued positive development.
3. Assist the patient in the development of social skills (communication, management of anger, etc.) and give the young adult a “tool box” that can help them in relationships (personal, business, etc.).
4. Assist the young adult in nurturing their spiritual self in the discovery of meaning in their life.
5. Model the experience of a fair and consistent environment as they discover how a healthy family functions.
M11 - Cognitive Therapy for Addictions

Todd Reynolds, M.S.S.W., CADC

1 Day Workshop • Monday
5 CEUs

Cognitive Therapy is a proven, evidence-based practice in working with addictions. This workshop will focus on effective strategies and skills that comprise utilizing cognitive therapy in working with addictions. Cognitive therapy is sometimes called cognitive behavior therapy because the goal is to help people in the ways they think (the cognitive) and in the ways they act (the behavior). It is based on the concept that the way we think about things affects how we feel emotionally and what we do behaviorally. Cognitive therapy focuses on present thinking, behavior, and communication rather than on past experiences and is oriented toward problem solving.

Objectives:
1. Be able to clearly define cognitive therapy.
2. Become comfortable with the use of cognitive therapy in treating people with addictions.
3. Identify the roles of a person’s thoughts, feelings and behavior in treating addictions.
4. Learn at least 3 cognitive therapy skills to utilize with patients with addictions.

M12 - Mindfulness - Meditation for Self Care and Client Treatment: An Evidence Based Practice

Frank Snyder, Ph.D., LCSW, M.S.W.

1 Day Workshop • Monday
5 CEUs

Mindfulness has been described as non-judgmental moment-to-moment awareness. The use of mindfulness in the clinical settings is a rapidly growing area of study and practice in the mental health and recovery fields in recent years. The number of research articles, books and popular press articles on the topic is growing exponentially each year for these evidence-based interventions. Its first application working with pain and stress was developed by Jon Khatot-Zinn at the University of Massachusetts and called Mindful Based Stress Reduction (MBSR). Since then other approaches focused on different populations have been introduced: Mindfulness-based cognitive therapy (MBCT), Acceptance and commitment therapy (ACT), Dialectical behavior therapy (DBT), Mindful Based Relapse Prevention (MBRP) and others.

This workshop will be an introduction to mindfulness and its applications. This will be a learn by doing workshop as the way to learn mindfulness is to do mindfulness. The participant will be learning how to attend to the mind and body using the practice of mindfulness. The experiential exercises will be evenly supported with didactic presentations. In the didactic sessions we will explore evidence base for these interventions, the psychobiological changes which occur and where mindfulness practices fit in relapse prevention. So bring a yoga mat and meditation cushion or bench if you have one and if not come still come, not required at all; wear comfortable clothing and come to experience and learn.

Objectives:
1. Understand the central role of mindfulness meditation practice in facilitating self-regulation of emotions mood and the relapse process.
2. Articulate the vital importance of the therapist’s ongoing mindfulness meditation practice and sustained mindful awareness within a psychotherapy framework.
3. Develop and/or deepen their own mindfulness meditation practice, emphasizing both formal meditative practices and mindfulness as a mode of being in daily life.
M13 - Advanced Workshop for Addiction Professionals: How to Be the World’s Best Group Therapist

Mark Sanders, LCSW, CADC

1 Day Workshop • Monday
5 CEUs

The most frequent modality in the treatment of addiction is group therapy. In this workshop you will learn how the best therapists facilitate groups and will develop skills to help you increase your effectiveness as a group therapist.

A partial list of topics includes: The 10 Things that the Best Group Therapists Do; How to Build Cohesion in Addictions Groups; A Research-based Perspective on Factors Most Conducive to Building Group Cohesion in the Early, Middle, and Late Stages of Group; How to Deal with Rapid Group Turnover in Addictions Settings; 10 Strategies for Addressing Group Conflict; and How to Solve Any Group Therapy Problem.

Objectives:
By the end of this presentation you will learn:
1. 10 things that the best group leaders do.
2. Strategies for building group cohesion.
3. 10 strategies for managing conflict in addictions groups.

MT1 - Intensive Skill Training in Motivational Interviewing (Beginning Course)

Karen Garrity, MS.Ed., NCC, LPCC, CADC

2 Day Workshop • Monday & Tuesday
10 CEUs

This two-day training is a skill-based strengths training that focuses on skill-building for direct practice staff working with challenging clients. The information will be presented over two days, utilizing multimedia presentations, interactive lecture and facilitated small and large group exercises. A mixture of small group discussions, videos, case scenarios and full room exercises keep the training pace lively and engaging.

The emphasis for this training is on skill-building and "theory-to-practice" group work for direct application of these various curriculums.

WORKSHOP LIMITED TO 15 participants

Objectives:
Upon completion, participants attending this training will be able to:
1. Define and understand the spirit and processes of motivational interviewing. Understand the spirit and processes of motivational interviewing that increase client-staff rapport and increase the client’s readiness to change.
2. Be able to demonstrate, in direct practice, resistant-lowering techniques that will improve the engagement of reluctant clients.
3. Be able to identify activities that will continue the skills development of MI.
MT2 - Current Science and Clinical Practice: Medication-Assisted Treatment for Opioid Use Disorders

Hendree Jones, Ph.D.

2 Day Workshop • Monday & Tuesday
10 CEUs

This workshop will discuss key scientific concepts of opioid use disorder, practice ways to reduce stigma and prejudice against those who have substance use disorders and who take medication as a part of treatment for opioid use disorders. As an interactive group, participants will examine the factors that underlie the development of substance use disorders and review how different medications including methadone, buprenorphine and naloxone work as a part of a complete treatment for opioid use disorders. Medication issues with populations with unique clinical needs will be discussed (e.g., pregnant women, babies prenatally exposed to opioids).

Objectives:
1. Participants will practice strategies to address stigma associated with individuals who use substances.
2. Participants will practice strategies to address stigma associated with Medication Assisted Treatment with staff and patients.
3. Participants will compare and contrast the common ways methadone and buprenorphine work as an important part of a complete treatment approach to opioid dependence.

Focus Treatment - The Connection Between Trauma and Substance Use Disorders: Creating a Healing Process

Hendree Jones, Ph.D.

1 Hour Plenary • 1 CEU
9:00 a.m.-10:00 a.m.

Individual trauma has been defined by the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration as “results from an event, series of events or set of circumstances that is experienced by an individual as physically or emotionally harmful or threatening and that has lasting adverse effects on the individual’s functioning and physical, emotional or spiritual well-being.” While not everyone who experiences trauma develops a substance use disorder, research indicates that trauma is a major underlying issue for many who have substance use disorders. This presentation will review current research findings on the prevalence and outcomes of individuals who have trauma and substance use disorders. It will highlight the advances in neuroscience that have begun to explain the mechanisms by which neurobiology, psychological processes, and social attachment shape substance use disorders across the life-span. Finally, it will focus on the healing process to recover from trauma and substance use disorders. The brain has enormous healing potential; an important part of recovery is learning to access this potential. Thus, current methods for accessing the potential to heal pain and learn and sustain healthy behaviors and thoughts will be summarized.

Learning Objectives:
1. Compare and contrast the most recent findings on the prevalence and treatment outcomes of individuals who have trauma and substance use disorders.
2. Identify three ways that neuroscience informs understanding of trauma experiences and the development of substance use disorders across the life-span.
3. Articulate at least two methods for helping individuals who have experiences of trauma and substance use disorders learn and sustain healthy behaviors.

Hendree Jones, Ph.D., is a Professor in the Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology, School of Medicine, University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill and Executive Director of Horizons, a comprehensive drug treatment program for pregnant and parenting women and their drug-exposed children. She is also an Adjunct Professor in the Department of Psychology, UNC, Chapel Hill and an Adjunct Professor in the Psychiatry and Behavioral Sciences and in the Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology, School of Medicine, Johns Hopkins University. Dr. Jones is an internationally recognized expert in the development and examination of both behavioral and pharmacologic treatments for pregnant women and their children in risky life situations. Dr. Jones has received continuous funding from the United States National Institutes of Health since 1994 and has over 165 publications, two books on treating substance use disorders (one for pregnant and parenting women and the other for a more general population of patients), several book and textbook chapters. She is a consultant for the United Nations and the World Health Organization. Dr. Jones leads or is involved in projects in Afghanistan, the Southern Cone, the Republic of Georgia, South Africa, and the United States which are focused on improving the lives of children, women and families.
T1 - Veterans and Addictions: Homelessness and Post Traumatic Stress Disorder

Shelia Cundiff, CSW, CADC

1 Day Workshop • Tuesday
5 CEUs

After 14+ years of continuous conflict in multiple theaters of deployment our Service Members are returning home. Over 1.1 million Service Members will face the challenge of reintegrating back into society. Many veterans are addicted or will become addicted to alcohol and/or drugs, many will become homeless due to the difficulties with reintegration, and many will suffer and struggle from Post Traumatic Stress Disorder. This workshop will identify some of the struggles including the impact of homelessness that veterans face upon return from conflict and identify strategies to empower professionals to help the healing so necessary for our Veterans to re-enter and function well in our communities. The treatment for veterans with addictions and PTSD, and the importance of case management services will be discussed.

Objectives:
1. Participants will gain an understanding of the stigma surrounding addiction treatment for veterans.
2. Participants will gain an understanding of the causes of the increasing number of homeless veterans.
3. Participants will gain an understanding of the importance of case management for veterans.
4. Participants will gain an understanding of the signs and symptoms of PTSD.

T2-Ad-  Peter Pan is Alive and Well and Living in His Parents’ Basement: Working with the Avoidant Young Adult

Janice Gabe, LCSW, MAC

Adolescent Track
1 Day Workshop • Tuesday
5 CEUs

They won’t work, they won’t help around the house, they won’t go to school, and they won’t leave the basement. No one really knows what to do with them. They are avoidant young adults and their numbers are increasing at a concerning rate. This workshop is designed to help professionals understand and effectively intervene with this population.

Objectives:
1. Participants will become familiar with the developmental dynamic of the avoidant young adult.
2. Participants will become familiar with the dynamics of avoidance as a coping strategy.
3. Participants will learn effective strategies for disrupting self sabotaging patterns and moving clients forward.
4. Participants will be provided strategies to assist the parents of these young adults.
T3 - Shame: The Emotional Energy That Drives Addiction

Jeff Georgi, M.Div., LSAS, LPC, CCS, CGP

1 Day Workshop • Tuesday
5 CEUs

Shame is a corrosive state of being that sends the message “I am not good enough.” Shame is different from guilt in that the latter is anchored in what we do and the former is tied to who we are or see ourselves to be. As seen through the lens of the biological, psychological, sociological, spiritual experiential model of addiction, shame is the affective energy that ignites the biology of the disease. Utilizing the works of Heinz Kohut, Sylvan Tompkins, Nathaniel Robinson and Phil Flores, this workshop will examine the origins of shame and its impact on the substance abusing patient. Specific attention will be given to issues of limbic resonance and the potential clinical pitfalls that can damage the therapeutic relationship which is so essential to supporting the recovery of patients with substance use disorders. The implications that shame has on our understanding of prevention and intervention will also be reviewed.

Objectives:
1. Participants will be able to discuss a working definition of shame as an important treatment variable.
2. Participants will be able to examine how best to avoid activating the shame of their clients.
3. Participants will discuss the negative impact of shame upon the therapeutic relationship.
4. Participants will examine the implication of shame as it impacts our implementation of substance abuse prevention and intervention efforts.

T4 - Dilemmas Surrounding Medication Management in Recovery

Stephen Grinstead, Dr. AD, LMFT, ACRPS, CADC-II

1 Day Workshop • Tuesday
5 CEUs

Healthcare and treatment providers are on the front line to accurately assess, intervene upon and develop appropriate treatment plans for people in recovery or the chemically impaired patient who needs to be in recovery who live with a chronic pain condition. Therefore, a major focus of this workshop will center on identification and effective intervention and treatment of prescription drug abuse for chronic pain patients. This will be accomplished in part by discussing how to identify the most common red flags of prescription drug abuse, and the high risk situations patients experience that lead to prescription drug abuse and/or addiction. It is also important that participants become familiar with common pain management drugs of abuse as well as recovery friendly alternatives.

For people in recovery who have chronic pain and/or psychological disorders including addition a multidisciplinary treatment approach is crucial. This specialized treatment plan includes medication management, emotional and/or psychological symptom management, and non-pharmacological pain management interventions for chronic pain conditions. Positive treatment outcomes can be accomplished by managing pain and coexisting disorders utilizing the Addiction-Free Pain Management® synergistic multidisciplinary treatment system.

Objectives:
1. Identify at least ten (10) of the most common prescription drugs of abuse as well as identifying at least ten (10) recovery friendly medications for pain management.
2. Understand and explain the unique needs and obstacles confronting patients and their families who are in recovery and living with chronic pain conditions and other coexisting psychological disorders including addiction and need to be on prescription medications.
3. Identify at least twenty-five (25) Red Flags that indicate that clients are using their prescription medication problematically and learn simple interventions to address those problems.
4. Educate their clients about the importance of utilizing a multidisciplinary team approach for patients in recovery from an addictive disorder who need to be on prescription medications.
T5 - Doing the Same Thing Expecting Different Results: Examining All the Treatment Options for Opioid Use Disorder

Ed Johnson, M.Ed., MAC, LPC

1 Day Workshop • Tuesday
5 CEUs

Addiction is a “chronic medical condition” but does it make sense that there is only one treatment? The increase in mortality due to the misuse of prescription medications has brought new urgency to this discussion. This increase in mortality is also causing Addiction Professionals to reexamine how we define “recovery” and how we define “successful outcomes”. This session explores the specifics of Opioid Use Disorder and discusses all the various modalities and medications currently available for its treatment, including abstinence based behavior modification. Specific emphasis will be placed on treatment options for pregnant women who have opioid used disorders.

Objectives:
1. Have increased understanding of the neurobiology of opioid dependence and it’s treatment.
2. Become familiar with the various medications used to treat opioid use disorder.
3. Become familiar with the use of Naloxone and the concept of “harm reduction” in the context of opioid use disorders.
4. Explore the efficacy of the various treatment options for opioid use disorder, including abstinence based behavior modification and medication assisted treatment.
5. Explore specific treatment issues related to women who are pregnant and have opioid use disorder such as Neonatal Abstinence Syndrome (NAS) and use of opioid medications during pregnancy.

T6 - Understanding the Cultures of Addiction and Criminality

Michael Johnson, M.S.W., LMSW

1 Day Workshop • Tuesday
5 CEUs

The training discusses the parallels of addiction and criminality and the developmental processes leading to these lifestyles. The training addresses the impact of eroding values, changing norms, shifting attitudes and the perceptions of what is normal in the view of the addicted/offender. Its focus is on the anti-social characteristics of the offender and its impact on resistance, relapse and recidivism.

Objectives:
1. How to identify the “primary diagnosis” of the client as with many offenders their criminality is the primary problem which proceeds drug and alcohol use.
2. Assist counselors in developing a treatment plan which has an improved usefulness to both the therapist and client.
3. Explain that the addict and offender is also enmeshed in lifestyle behaviors that can influence self-defeating behaviors and impede the process of recovery.
4. Provides insight concerning the ambivalence that this population presents in therapy.
5. Discuss the importance of continuity of care, e.g., the role of the treatment, parole/probation officers and out-patient therapists.
T7 - Foundation Skills for Substance Abuse Counseling

Mark Miller, M.A., M.S., LMFT

1 Day Workshop • Tuesday
5 CEUs

This workshop is for new counselors entering the treatment field or for counselors that are beginning to see more addiction clients on their caseloads and want to be more effective with this population. Utilizing TAP 21: Addiction Counseling Competencies, pertinent aspects of assessment, diagnosis, and treatment planning will be reviewed. Techniques for engaging clients and their families and running effective treatment groups will be explored. Utilizing interventions that correspond to a client’s stage of change will also be reviewed.

Objectives:
1. Explore their professional readiness to work effectively with the addiction population.
2. Review a variety of Practice Dimensions, along with evidence-based practices for treating the addiction population.
3. Review techniques to enhance engagement with clients and how to formulate appropriate client involved treatment plans.

T8 - Treating the Addicted Patient with Early Life Developmental Trauma (PTSD) and Borderline Personality Disorder

Cardwell Nuckols, Ph.D.

1 Day Workshop • Tuesday
5 CEUs

NOTE: THE EMPHASIS OF THIS TRAINING IS TO TAKE CERTAIN CO-OCCURRING SCENARIOS COMMON TO CLINICAL PRACTICE AND TO DELVE AS DEEPLY INTO THEM AS TIME ALLOWS. THIS IS NOT AN OVERVIEW COURSE.

This advanced clinical skills training will assist participants in the neurobiological understanding and the neuroplastic (psychotherapeutic and pharmacological) treatment of addictions co-occurring with other common psychiatric disorders Post-traumatic Stress Disorder (early life developmental trauma) and Borderline Personality Disorder.

A case study model will be utilized and clinical treatment options will be thoroughly described and discussed.

Objectives:
1. Discuss the neurobiology of Addictive Disorders and describe psychotherapeutic and pharmacological interventions based upon the research.
2. Discuss the neurobiology of Post-traumatic Stress Disorder and describe psychotherapeutic and pharmacological interventions based upon the research.
3. Discuss the neurobiology of Borderline Personality Disorder and describe psychotherapeutic management techniques based upon the research.
T9 - Healing the Hearts of Men

Todd Reynolds  M.S.S.W., CADC

1 Day Workshop • Tuesday
5 CEUs

There are specific differences between men and women, biologically, emotionally, mentally, socially, spiritually. In addition, men with behavioral health and substance abuse issues may have difficulty finding their way into recovery. Men suffer from behavioral health and substance abuse issues differently than women. This workshop will explore the specifics of men’s issues, masculinity, and healing. This training will empower its participants personally, as well as having a deeper impact on the men they serve. This workshop will help participants build deeper and more meaningful relationships with men in their lives. Transformation begins in a safe space that promotes authentic transactions between two or more men. Thus, hearts of men begin healing in our offices, facilities, institutions, and communities. This workshop supports all genders and diversities.

We will explore an understanding of healing the hearts of men through a combination of didactic and experiential experiences. The presenters will utilize information from personal practice, case studies, with theory based in the men’s movement, and data from Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration. Addressing the Specific Behavioral Health Needs of Men.Treatment Improvement Protocol (TIP) Series 56. HHS Publication No. (SMA) 13-4736. Rockville, MD: Substance Abuse and Mental Health Administration, 2013.

The participants will have an opportunity for personal growth for themselves and the men that they work with, as well as putting theory into practice.

Objectives:

1. Identify specific issues for men in behavioral health, substance use and healing.
2. Leave with at least 3 experiential techniques to utilize with men with whom they work.
3. Gain knowledge of and understanding of the developmental stages of men.
4. Identify a sound theoretical basis and understanding of helping men.

T10 - Father Hunger/Father Wounds: Intervention Strategies with Chemically Dependent Clients Impacted by Fatherlessness

Mark Sanders, LCSW, CADC

1 Day Workshop • Tuesday
5 CEUs

A hidden precursor to developing a substance use disorder is father hunger and father wounds. Father hunger occurs when a child did not receive enough fathering, and father wounds occur when the client was injured physically, mentally, sexually, or emotionally by his/her father. Fatherlessness for chemically dependent women increases the risk of childhood sexual abuse, premature entrance into adulthood, addictive relationship styles, and early substance use. For men father hunger and father wounds can lead to destructive peer group affiliation, mistrust of other men, anger, rage, violence, and substance use. This workshop will address the impact of father hunger and father wounds across the lifespan and will offer intervention strategies to help clients impacted by fatherlessness recover.

Objectives:

By the end of this presentation you will be aware of:

1. 5 ways chemically dependent women are impacted by father hunger/father wounds.
2. 5 ways in which chemically dependent men are impacted by father hunger/father wounds.
3. 10 intervention strategies to help clients impacted by fatherlessness recover.
T11 - Helping Women Recover: A Program for Treating Addiction (Based on Dr. Stephanie Covington’s Manualized Curriculum)

Twyla Peterson Wilson, LCSW, ACSW

1 Day Workshop • Tuesday
5 CEUs

Over the past thirty years our knowledge of women’s lives has increased drastically, and we have added significantly to our understanding of the treatment needs of chemically dependent women. Based on Dr. Covington’s treatment curriculum Helping Women Recover: A Program for Treating Addiction, the workshop offers a comprehensive treatment model that integrates theories of addiction, women’s psychological development, and trauma. Designed to give counselors, clinicians, recovering women, and others a basic understanding of the current knowledge related to addiction, the workshop focuses primarily on women’s recovery. The workshop emphasizes the key issues of self, relationships, sexuality, spirituality, and the therapeutic techniques for dealing with these issues. Throughout the workshop, Dr. Covington also discusses how the treatment program materials can be used with women in the criminal justice system, the most hidden group of women in our society.

Objectives:
1. Discuss the history of women’s treatment.
2. Integrate current theoretical perspectives.
3. Examine the multiple issues in women’s recovery.
4. Demonstrate specific treatment strategies.
5. Increase participants’ understanding of the needs of incarcerated women.
6. Identify the roles of a person’s thoughts, feelings and behavior in treating addictions and trauma.
7. Learn cognitive therapy skills to utilize with patients with addictions and trauma.

T12-Px- How to Market Prevention to Community Stakeholders and State Legislators

Tom Workman, Ph.D.

Prevention Track
1 Day Workshop • Tuesday
5 CEUs

Fully engaging community members and policy makers in state and local prevention efforts takes strategy, skill, and planning. This workshop will identify approaches and techniques to effectively market the value of prevention and promote specific activities to critical stakeholders through the creative use of data and stories, stakeholder interest-bridging, and calls to action. Participants will utilize tools for message development and identify opportunities for marketing prevention efforts to a broad range of stakeholders.

Objectives:
1. An understanding of the key facets of social marketing and message development as they relate to communities and legislators.
2. The use of communication tools to assist them and their colleagues in developing marketing messages for the community and state legislators.
3. The ability to utilize data, narratives, and interest bridges to enhance messages that focus on local issues and interests.
4. The ability to promote specific local and state actions based on community prevention goals.
TW1 - Best Practices in Clinical Supervision
(Fulfills clinical supervision requirements: 908KAR1:310 and 370; 6 hours/day)

Geoff Wilson, LCSW, CADC

2 Day Workshop • Tuesday/Wednesday
Workshop ends at 5:45pm on both days

12 CEUs

Audience: This class is for those who have experience in the field of addictions and who are entering role of clinical supervisor or who would like to improve on their clinical supervision skills.

This is a two day workshop offering 12 CEUs beginning at 10:30am and ending at 5:45pm each day—6 hours each day. The training fulfills the clinical supervision requirements outlined in 908 KAR 1:310 and 908 KAR 1:370. It will provide attendees with an in-depth overview of what clinical supervision is in practice. Various models of supervision will be reviewed along with how a particular supervision model may best fit a supervisor. Specific issues that clinical supervisors are often confronted with will be discussed in an in-depth fashion (program morale issues, supervisees that may not want to be supervised, ethical issues, etc.) This is an interactive workshop where attendees will have the opportunity to establish and improve on practical clinical supervision skills.

Objectives:
1. Explore the path that individuals often take to becoming a clinical supervisor.
2. Discuss stages of change for individuals becoming effective clinical supervisors and specific techniques to maintain effectiveness.
3. Review various models of clinical supervision and identify techniques that can enhance approaches to becoming more effective.
4. Discuss common pitfalls that clinical supervisors often are addressing and ways to effectively address them.
5. Addressing problematic supervisees will be explored along with an emphasis on effective feedback by clinical supervisors.
6. The difference between case management, case staffing, and “spending 8 hours with supervisees and counting it as supervision” vs. actual clinical supervision will be highlighted.
Speaker: John Tilley
Secretary, Justice and Public Safety Cabinet
1/2 Hour Banquet Presentation • No CEU

6-6:30 p.m.

John Tilley was appointed Secretary of the Justice and Public Safety Cabinet by Governor Matthew G. Bevin. A native of Hopkinsville, Tilley is a former prosecutor who is nationally recognized for his work in the arenas of criminal justice reform and drug control policy. Secretary Tilley served five terms in the Kentucky House of Representatives and chaired the House Judiciary Committee from 2009 until his appointment.

During his legislative tenure, he co-chaired several joint bipartisan House/Senate task forces on criminal justice. He sponsored key pieces of legislation including the landmark criminal justice reform bill House Bill 463, which triggered a national model for change. The legislation is heralded for protecting public safety while holding offenders accountable, controlling corrections costs and increasing drug treatment. Secretary Tilley also led efforts to combat synthetic and prescription drugs. He has traveled internationally to speak on criminal justice reform and drug control policy and has received numerous awards and national recognition.

A graduate of the University of Kentucky and Chase College of Law, Secretary Tilley is a board member for the Council of State Government’s Justice Center and co-chairs the National Conference of State Legislatures Law and Criminal Justice Committee. He brings a high level of passion and innovation to the Justice Cabinet’s top post. Focus Prevention - 7 Habits of Highly Successful Prevention Programs

Robert J. Ackerman Ph.D.

1 Hour Plenary - 1 CEU

9 a.m.-10 a.m.

To keep something from happening in the first place is often the goal of many intervention programs whether in alcohol and drug abuse, domestic violence, teen pregnancy and other family problems. This workshop will address the research based seven habits of prevention programs that have been effective. Ideas to enhance protective factors rather than a reduction of risk factors to increasing the effectiveness of prevention will be discussed. Prevention programs that are family-based, institutional and community based will be included.

Objectives:
Upon completion the participant will be able to:
1. To identify the seven most common components of effective prevention programs.
2. To discuss the application of a “protective factors” approach to prevention.
3. To discuss the principles of family, school and community-based prevention programs.
4. To describe short and long term issues of evaluation of prevention programs.

Dr. Robert J. Ackerman is Professor Emeritus from Indiana University of Pennsylvania and the previous Director of the Mid-Atlantic Addiction Research and Training Institute. He is co-founder of the National Association for Children of Alcoholics. Currently, he is the Editor of Counselor: The Magazine for Addiction and Behavioral Health Professionals.

As an author he has published numerous articles and research findings and is best known for writing the first book in the United States on children of alcoholics. Twelve books later, many television appearances, and countless speaking engagements he has become internationally known for his work with families and children of all ages. His books have been translated into thirteen languages.

He has served on many advisory boards and has worked with the National Institute of Mental Health, National Institute on Alcoholism and Alcohol Abuse, and the U.S. Department of Education. He served on the White House Task Force on Resiliency and At-Risk-Youth.

He is the recipient of many awards including the Distinguished Alumni Awards from Western Michigan University, the University of Northern Colorado, and Louisiana State University, the 2006 Special Recognition Award from the U.S. Journal of Alcohol & Drug Dependence, the 2008 Father Martin Appreciation Award and the 2014 Professor of the Year from the University of South Carolina, Beaufort. He is a veteran of numerous TV appearances and his work has been featured on CNN Headline News, the New York Times, the Today Show, USA Today newspaper, Newsweek Magazine, Oprah, and other social media.
W1-Px - Understanding the Social Context of Prevention: What do we want to prevent, who do we want to influence and how are we going to do it?

Robert Ackerman, Ph.D

Prevention Track
1 Day Workshop • Wednesday
5 CEUs

This workshop will focus on the multiple causes and resources to develop a better prevention approach for individuals, families, and communities struggling with alcohol and drug problems. A social context approach will provide the basis to develop a prevention mandala in order to incorporate the many facets of prevention. Research on successful and effective prevention programs will be presented. Additionally, negative and anti-prevention approaches will be highlighted in order not to reinvent the wheel.

Objectives:
1. Identify the social context and multiple causes of alcohol and drug abuse as a basis to develop prevention programs.
2. Design a prevention mandala that incorporates a variety of resources to be include in prevention programs.
3. Identify effective prevention techniques at the individual, family and community levels.
4. Identify research findings of effective prevention approaches to reduce alcohol and drug abuse.

W2-Ad - Engaging Families in Treatment and Recovery

James Campbell, M.A., CACII

Adolescent Track
1 Day Workshop • Wednesday
5 CEUs

Families have a tremendous impact on individuals with an addiction. All too often we know this to be true, and yet very few treatment programs effectively engage families and treat the family system as a whole. Engaging Families in Recovery is a look at addiction as a family disease as well as recovery as a family process. Special emphasis is placed on how to engage families in treatment as well as effective interventions with families.

Objectives:
1. Develop an understanding of the impact of family systems on substance use disorders.
2. Define historic views of family roles and how those have impacted family engagement.
3. Distinguish between families of origin and families of support.
4. Explore how to leverage families in fostering recovery through practical, effective steps and suggestions for engaging families in treatment.
W3 - Addiction 101: Understanding the Disease Model and Basics of Addiction for Addiction Professionals

Shelia Cundiff, LCSW, CADC

1 Day Workshop • Wednesday
5 CEUs

This course is based on the disease model of addictions and reinforces the 12-step recovery process. This workshop provides participants information to assess, increase, grasp and develop an understanding of addiction and the process of recovery. This workshop will focus on the disease model of addiction and its effect on the brain. The workshop is designed to assist participants in evaluating their own thoughts and beliefs about addiction. The instructor will also present and discuss working definitions for addiction and recovery, along with demonstrating techniques and strategies for identifying and decreasing denial.

Objectives:
1. Learn about addictions and their effect on the brain and the progressive nature of the disease.
2. Learn the use and interpretation of an addiction progression chart.
3. Be introduced to the technique of using the stages of recovery chart and theory.
4. Be introduced to strategies for identifying and decreasing denial.
5. Have a general understanding of the tools for screening and assessment and a basic understanding of the importance of a 12 Step model in the recovery process.

W4 - The New ASAM

Fred Dyer, Ph.D., CADC

1 Day Workshop • Wednesday
5 CEUs

Since 1991, the American Society of Addiction Medicine, ASAM has published the most comprehensive set of guidelines for assessment, service planning, placement, continued stay, and transfer/discharge of individuals with addictions and co-occurring disorders. A new edition of the Patient Placement Criteria for the treatment of substance–related disorders of the American Society of Addiction Medicine [ASAM] was unveiled October 24th, 2013, in Arlington, VA, and with the issuance of the new ASAM there are applications to adult special populations which includes older adults, and parents or prospective recovering, addiction treatment concurrently with children, persons in safety sensitive occupations, as well as persons in criminal justice settings, and including gambling disorders and tobacco use disorders. There is also new terminology in the ASAM Criteria, the individuals served in treatment are the most often referred to as “individuals” “persons participated or patient” and these are used interchangeably.

Objectives:
1. Understand and identify the rationale and reasons for changes in the New Edition of the ASAM Criteria.
2. Effectively utilize case study material to structure and organize the various multi-dimensional data to individualize treatment and placement.
3. Explain the utilization of the ASAM criteria in developing, implementing, and managing persons-centered recovery plans.
W5 - Intermediate to Advanced
Motivational Interviewing for Skill Development & Supervision

Annie Fahy, RN, LCSW
1 Day Workshop • Wednesday
5 CEUs

Working issues of a behavior or lifestyle change in patients takes flexibility and innovation as well as solid skills in Motivational Interviewing (MI) and health coaching. This workshop will offer skills and practice opportunities to think, and speak Motivational Interviewing. Using practice opportunities to work through difficult presentations and stuck places that patients operate from, improves skills and resilienties in the worker. Additionally observed practice, coaching with feedback is recognized in research as the best practice method for creating full implementation culture change to MI as well as a higher level of confidence in the skills (Miller, W. R., et al., 2004 Fixsen, D.L., et al., 2009). This workshop will supplement MI Basics for those who have experience and training using and developing MI protocols. Clinicians will gain many great ideas for implementing MI culture in a variety of health care settings. Incorporating MI into practice and work settings provides professionals with ways to address behavior change in a “patient/client centered” way.

MI activities and practice will address issues such as: smoking cessation, medication adherence, job and lifestyle skills, safer sex practices, chronic health diseases like asthma, diabetes and heart problems, abuse and addiction, organizational change

Objectives:
1. Review and Practice basic Skills Open Questions, Affirmations, Reflections & Summaries (OARS) & Elaboration questions, Affirmations, Reflections & Summaries (EARS).
2. Understand the research that supports ongoing training and coaching for implementing MI is healthcare culture.
3. Practice specific evocation skills that create and reinforce change talk.
4. Develop skills for addressing and managing sustain talk, discord and other barriers to change.
5. Gain understanding and develop skills if self-evaluation and other evaluation using MITI 4 coding principals.
6. Create personal learning plan.

W6-Ad - GUYS AND DOLLS: Unraveling the Mystery of Adolescent Males and Females

Janice Gabe, LCSW, MAC
Adolescent Track
1 Day Workshop • Wednesday
5 CEUs

“He won’t talk in therapy.” “She’s a drama queen.” Males and females maneuver adolescence differently and present gender specific challenges and communication patterns. This workshop is guaranteed to entertain while providing practical and effective gender specific strategies for working with teens.

Objectives:
Participants will:
1. Become familiar with communication patterns and developmental challenges presented by male adolescents.
2. Become familiar with communication patterns and developmental challenges presented by adolescent females.
3. Learn gender specific strategies for communicating with adolescents and engaging them in the process of change.
W7 - Taking The Mystery Out of Relapse: An Overview of the Gorski-CENAPS® Relapse Prevention Model

Stephen Grinstead, Dr. AD, LMFT, ACRPS, CADC-II

1 Day Workshop • Wednesday
5 CEUs

This clinical skills workshop is for professional clinicians who want to learn how to help their clients identify and manage the warning signs and high risk situations that lead to relapse despite a commitment to sobriety. Participants will learn that relapse is a process not an event and that there are many identifiable warning signs that occur far in advance of alcohol and other drug use. Valuable tools will be introduced that will enable the participants clients to take the mystery out of the relapse process and develop a strategic relapse prevention plan.

Participants will learn how to develop an early relapse intervention plan and abstinence contract to set the foundation for the remainder of the training process. Then the participants will be led through a strategic step by step high risk situation identification process. The training process ends with teaching participants to help clients develop a relapse prevention plan designed to help them identify and manage future warning signs and high risk situations. This training includes a combination of lectures, demonstrations, group discussions, and experiential exercises designed to enhance the training process.

Objectives:
1. Explain relapse as a process—not an event—and teach their clients that recognizing and managing early relapse warning signs is crucial step in stopping the relapse cycle.
2. Assist their clients to identify and manage relapse warning signs and high risk situations—and teaching clients that not recognizing and dealing with those two indicators of potential danger can lead to entering a relapse cycle that eventually ends in chemical use.
3. Understand how the inner saboteur—A/K/A A Return To Denial—is always the first step of entering the relapse cycle.
4. Identify the twelve (12) denial patterns employed by clients that are crucial to manage in order to stop a relapse cycle.

W8 - Previewing the DSM5: Diagnosing Disorders in Adults

George Haarman, Psy.D., LMFT

1 Day Workshop • Wednesday
5 CEUs

The DSM-IV was published in 1994 and updated by the APA’s DSM-IV-TR in 2000. Since then the DSM has become the “gold standard” and the “mental health bible” for those practicing in mental health. With the publication of the DSM-5 in May 2013, the new standard for the diagnosis of Psychological and Emotional Disorder has been established. Some disorders are eliminated completely; others are reclassified; and some are subsumed under other disorders. New classifications are also established to clarify appropriate diagnostic criteria and allow for more effective treatment planning. Many of these have generated considerable controversy and debate among healthcare professionals, even before the manual’s release. Other disorders have undergone minor changes in order to reflect the current thinking and new research available. It’s imperative that all mental health professionals update their understanding of the APA’s new edition of the DSM to effectively identify, diagnose, and classify behavioral and mental health issues in individuals.

While providing a brief overview of all the changes adopted in the DSM-5, this workshop focuses on diagnosis for adults. Because the DSM-5 is organized in sequence with the developmental lifespan and an internalizing/externalizing continuum, the disorders previously addressed have been reconceptualized. Therefore, accurately diagnosing is more important than ever, as those in the mental health field look to avoid misdiagnosing and overmedicating people. As a psychologist and a marriage and family therapist with more than 30 years’ experience, Dr. George Haarman, Psy.D., LMFT, brings clarity to the forefront regarding the new classifications issued in the DSM-5 and the rationale behind those changes. Using numerous case studies, Dr. Haarman prepares each attendee to be able to provide an accurate diagnosis that is essential to evidence based treatment.

Objectives:
1. Participants will be able to identify the disorders that are new to the DSM-5 that relate to adults.
2. Participants will understand the theory, rationale, and development of the DSM5.
3. Participants will be able to distinguish between Bipolar and Persistent Depressive Disorder.
4. Participants will develop a working knowledge of the severity scale for assessing mild, moderate, or severe Substance Use Disorder.
W9-Ad - Making Treatment Safe for Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, Transgender and Questioning (LGBTQ) Youth and Their Families Improves Outcomes

Ed Johnson, M.Ed., MAC, LPC

Adolescent Track
1 Day Workshop • Wednesday
5 CEUs

Youth and adolescents with emotional, behavioral or substance use issues present unique challenges to behavioral health providers. Issues related to sexual orientation and gender identity are frequently not recognized or addressed. This oversight significantly contributes to unsuccessful outcomes for those youth and their families. This workshop will review the general constructs of sexual orientation and gender identity within the context of adolescent identity development. It will explore the particular issues and life experiences of this frequently hidden minority and discuss ways and interventions that can mitigate emotional and behavioral problems. Additionally, issues related to family support or lack thereof will also be addressed, as will ways of creating safe, supportive, affirming and inclusive treatment environments.

Objectives:
1. Understand the difference between Sexual Orientation and Gender Identity.
2. Increase their understanding of the impact of trauma on LGBTQ Youth and its relationship to unsuccessful treatment outcomes.
3. Be able to identify the ways that family support can impact health gender identity and sexual orientation development.

W10 - Treating Moral Injury

Cardwell Nuckols, Ph.D.

1 Day Workshop • Wednesday
5 CEUs

Morality refers to a code of values and customs that guide social conduct. When an action cannot be accommodated or assimilated moral injury and resulting guilt and shame can be presenting emotions causing disruption in an individual’s life.

The neurobiology, goals for treatment and therapeutic approaches are different for moral injury as compared to Post-traumatic Stress Disorder (PTSD). Although there is overlap in symptoms, moral injury may present with reexperiencing and avoidance symptoms but not the hyperarousal symptoms observed when a real or perceived life-threatening situation is encountered. Extinction is not the goal in the treatment of moral injury.

This skills-training event will provide clinicians with a treatment model and rationale for approaching those suffering the guilt and shame of moral injury. For diagnostic purposes, PTSD and moral injury will be compared and contrasted.

RECOMMENDED READING LIST:

Objectives:
Upon completion of this training, participants will be able to:
1. Describe differences in the neurobiology and treatment approach for moral injury as compared to PTSD.
2. Discuss the differences in treatment goals for the management of moral injury compared to PTSD.
3. Discuss and implement a treatment model for the management of guilt and shame associated with moral injury.
W11-Px - Toxic ‘girly thoughts’ Gone Wild: The High Price of Booze, Trauma, and Sex

Patricia A. O’Gorman, Ph.D.

Prevention Track
1 Day Workshop • Wednesday
5 CEUs

Why do women engage in harmful behaviors: bully each other in school, continue this in the workplace, stay in abusive relationships, diet to the point that it almost kills them, numb their trauma and stress through drinking and drugging repeatedly, excessively and in public with strangers? The answer, in part, is the power of what Dr. O’Gorman (2013, 2014) has named toxic ‘girly thoughts’: women doing to themselves what society does to them. Be prepared to laugh as you learn both to identify toxic ‘girly thoughts’ and learn strategies to change this negative self-talk so counter-productive for women.

Objectives:
1. Identify the sources of societal messages that devalue women in major life domains.
2. Describe how women internalize toxic ‘girly thoughts’.
3. Apply strategies that interrupt women acting on their toxic ‘girly thoughts’ through the development of:
   - Self-medicating through alcohol and drug use
   - Eating disorders
   - Abusive relationships
   - Bullying others at school or in the workplace
   - Teaching their daughters and sons to value toxic ‘girly thoughts’
4. Through employing empowerment strategies that focus on tackling toxic ‘girly thoughts’ by:
   - Dissecting media messages with friends, family, co-workers, clients
   - Change thinking
   - Stopping high-risk coping behaviors such as excessive alcohol and drug use, excessive dieting and exercise
   - Learning to soothe the trauma associated with toxic ‘girly thoughts’, and redirect anger towards change

W12 - 15 Strategies for Engaging and Improving Recovery Rates for CD Clients

Mark Sanders, LCSW, CADC

1 Day Workshop • Wednesday
5 CEUs

Research reveals that chemical dependence recovery rates have barely increased over the past 50 years, and in most states, approximately 50 percent of clients drop out of treatment prematurely. In this workshop you will learn 15 strategies for engaging chemically dependent clients in treatment and 15 strategies for improving recovery rates once they are engaged. Other topics include: 10 Strategies to Help Clients Successfully Complete Treatment; The Use of Evidence-supported Practice in Increasing Recovery Rates; The Use of Recovery Management Principles to Increase Recovery Rates; How Workers Can Improve Personal Effectiveness with Addicted Clients—A Review of the Research; 10 Strategies for Increasing 12-step Involvement; Improving Recovery Rates by Increasing Family Involvement; and 5 Organizational Strategies for Increasing Recovery Rates.

Objectives:
By the end of this workshop participants will:
2. Be aware of increasing recovery rates with chemically dependent clients.
W13 - Beyond Trauma: A Healing Journey for Women

Twyla Peterson Wilson, LCSW, ACSW

1 Day Workshop • Wednesday
5 CEUs

While research and clinical experience indicate a high incidence of co-occurring disorders in women’s lives, counselors and clinicians often struggle with the realities of providing treatment. This workshop is based on a woman-centered trauma treatment curriculum, Beyond Trauma, designed for use in outpatient, residential, and criminal justice settings.

Cognitive-behavioral techniques, mindfulness, expressive arts, and the principles of relational therapy are integrated in this strength-based approach. The curriculum also has a psycho-educational component that teaches women what trauma is, its process, and its impact on both the inner self (thoughts, feelings, beliefs, values) and the outer self (behavior and relationships, including parenting). The training includes interactive exercises that demonstrate techniques that counselors can use to help clients develop coping skills, as well as emotional wellness. In addition, there is a segment on specific issues in criminal justice settings. The abbreviated 5-session version entitled Healing Trauma is also discussed.

Topics • Developing gender-responsive services • Connection between trauma, mental health, and substance abuse trauma-informed services • Gender differences in terms of risk and response • Triggers and retraumatization • Emotional development • Secondary traumatic stress • Specific concerns and challenges in criminal justice settings

Objectives:
1. Understand the historical background of trauma.
2. Explore the connection between addiction, trauma, and mental health.
3. Discuss gender differences.
4. Explicate the process of trauma.
5. Provide specific therapeutic interventions.

W14-Px - Grants - Funding the Work: Successful Grant Seeking and Writing

Tom Workman, Ph.D.

Prevention Track
1 Day Workshop • Wednesday
5 CEUs

In this era of limited government and foundation funding for alcohol and other drug prevention, creating a successful plan for seeking and winning grants is more important than ever. In this session, participants will learn how to discover and target public and private funding institutions, develop “capture plans” for future funding opportunities, and create winning plans and writing teams. Focus will be placed as well on the actual grant writing process, offering specific tips and techniques that communicate the match between funding institution missions and community projects and create strong arguments for funding projects.

Objectives:
Participants will;
1. Be able to understand and apply the basic principles of effective grant proposal planning and writing.
2. Be able to understand and apply approaches to capture planning for funding opportunities.
3. Be able to identify key strengths and weaknesses in the proposal writing process for themselves and their team.
WE1 - Film: The Anonymous People, with facilitated discussion

Mike Barry, B.S. - Facilitator

2 Hour Film • Wednesday Evening

A Grassroots Social Justice Movement Takes Aim At Changing The Conversation From Problems To Solutions For America’s Top Health Problem!

THE ANONYMOUS PEOPLE is a feature documentary film about the 23.5 million Americans living in long-term recovery from alcohol and other drug addiction. Deeply entrenched social stigma and mass participation in widely successful anonymous 12-step groups have kept recovery voices silent and faces hidden for decades. The vacuum created by this silence has been filled by sensational mass media depictions of addiction that continue to perpetuate a lurid public fascination with the dysfunctional side of what is a preventable and treatable health condition. Just like women with breast cancer, or people with HIV/AIDS, courageous addiction recovery advocates are starting to come out of the shadows to tell their true stories. The moving story of The Anonymous People will be told through the faces and voices of the leaders, volunteers, corporate executives, and celebrities who are laying it all on the line to save the lives of others just like them. This passionate new public recovery movement is fueling a changing conversation that aims to transform public opinion, and finally shift problematic policy toward lasting recovery solutions. (http://manyfaces1voice.org)

Objectives:
1. Learn the history and reasoning behind the new Addiction Recovery movement sweeping the country.
2. Learn to become a Recovery Advocate and why your story is important to help others recover.
3. See how the new public recovery movement is fueling a changing conversation that aims to transform public opinion, and finally shift problematic policy toward lasting.

Workshop Abstracts

TH1-AM - Holistic Recovery

James Campbell, M.A., CACII

1/2 Day Workshop • Thursday
3 CEUs

Active addiction impacts every aspect of the lives of those who have it. Likewise, effective treatment should engage every aspect of the individual as they enter recovery. Holistic Recovery is a didactic and experiential exploration of how to assist those with severe substance use disorders in moving from active addiction to an active and vibrant recovery.

Objectives:
1. Develop a science-informed, holistic understanding of the nature of addiction.
2. Identify biological, psychological, social, spiritual, and experiential factors that contribute to substance use disorders.
3. Explore the implications of a holistic view of addiction on the language used in treatment.
4. Examine how therapeutic interventions can be utilized to help cultivate effective recovery.
5. Gain an understanding of practical steps and therapeutic tasks to assist those we serve in moving increasingly towards recovery.

TH2-AM - Getting to Know the 12 Steps and 12 Steps Fellowships

Gerry Boylan, Ph.D., CADC

1/2 Day Workshop • Thursday
3 CEUs

This workshop is designed to increase the participants’ knowledge base and understanding of the 12 Steps. An introduction to the structure and origin of 12 step fellowships along with a review of the 12 steps individually will be given and the spiritual principles underlying the 12 steps will be independently examined and examples of their application will be presented. A comparison of treatment and 12 Step fellowships will be made with techniques for linking the two processes explored. This workshop will explore the steps and their practical application both in treatment and afterwards. Essentially the 12 Steps are a spiritual path, and the wisdom embodied there can be used successfully by anyone seeking growth and freedom. The workshop will explore how the steps support that spiritual path and how treatment can help it develop. The exploration will be both didactic and experiential.

Objectives:
1. Increase ability to explain and present the 12 steps to clients and staff.
2. Gain ability to distinguish between various 12 step fellowships.
3. Be able to match client with, and make more accurate referral to 12 Step Fellowships.
4. Be able to present and discuss the differences between 12 step fellowships and treatment programs.
5. Be able to align the steps with therapeutic elements of treatment.
TH3-AM - Writing with Intention: Creating writing groups that build self efficacy in therapeutec settings

Annie Fahy, RN, LCSW

1/2 Day Workshop • Thursday
3 CEUs

This workshop uses elements from The Amherst Writers & Artists (AWA) method to offer participants an experience of how creative writing may offer an alternative to other traditional forms of therapy and as a mode of developing a deeper connection with the true voice.

In writing, we see, sometimes with fear and trembling, who we have been, who we really are, and we glimpse now and then who we might become.”

— Pat Schneider, How the Light Gets In: Writing as a Spiritual Practice

Objectives:
1. Participants will learn and experience a workshop approach that creates writing experiences with non-writers and special populations. (This method is not therapy but may work with similar themes around biography and past experience with safety and increased autonomy about what participants choose to share.)
2. Participants will practice and understand the five principals of healthy workshop writing and how to give feedback to new writers and writing and separate this from group therapy issues that may arise.
3. Participants will enhance their group management skills and integrate a person centered approach to a group with a creative focus balancing the needs of the individual with the needs of the group.
4. Participants will have a chance to explore their own writing and experience the method and learn how to participate with the group while holding healthy boundaries.
5. Participants will address diversity, ethics and stigma issues that may arise during writing workshops.

TH4-AM-Ad - Heroin Use with Teens and Young Adults

Janice Gabe, LCSW, MAC

Adolescent Track
1/2 Day Workshop • Thursday
3 CEUs

Heroin use, particularly among young people is devastating and a tremendously destructive phenomenon for youth, family and community. Heroin use among young people has created a significant crisis in the clinical community as we struggle to find the most effective ways to address this issue. This workshop will provide participants with an understanding of and solutions to these challenges.

Objectives:
1. Review the neuro chemical aspects of heroin addictions with a population whose cognitive development is fragile.
2. Provide a profile of young adult heroin addicts.
3. Explore family dynamics and family interventions for this population.
4. Discuss dynamics of physical, neurological and psychological recovery for heroin addicts.
5. Benefits and pitfalls of pharmacological assistance in treating heroin addiction.
TH5-AM - Increasing Cultural Competency in Working with Sexual and Gender Minority Patients: Inclusivity and Awareness Improve Treatment Outcomes

Ed Johnson, M.Ed., MAC, LPC

1/2 Day Workshop • Thursday
3 CEUs

Issues related to sexual orientation and gender identity are routinely not recognized and frequently not addressed in Substance Use Disorders Treatment. Individuals who are Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, Transgender or Questioning (LGBTQ) enter treatment programs with a unique set of challenges. Unaddressed, these issues all too often contribute to unsuccessful treatment outcomes. This didactic and experiential workshop will review the general constructs of sexual orientation and gender identity. It will explore the particular issues and life experiences of this frequently hidden minority that have contributed to the development of substance use disorders. Participants will become familiar with interventions specific to the LGBT individual’s phase of identity development and will be introduced to ways of creating safe, supportive, affirming and inclusive treatment environments.

Objectives:
1. Understand the difference between Sexual Orientation and Gender Identity.
2. Increase their understanding of the impact of trauma on individuals who are LGBTQ and its relationship to unsuccessful treatment outcomes.
3. Be able to identify ways of creating supportive, affirming and inclusive treatment environments.

TH6-AM - Introduction to Screening, Brief Intervention, and Referral to Treatment (SBIRT)

Alan Lyme, LISW, ICADC, ICCS

1/2 Day Workshop • Thursday
3 CEUs

SAHMSA describes the SBIRT brief intervention as “a brief intervention that focuses on raising patients’ awareness of substance abuse and motivating them to change their behavior”. This three hour interactive workshop will review some of the data that supports SBIRT as well as introduce the moving parts. Successes and roadblocks will be explored.

Objectives:
1. Define SBIRT and why one might choose to implement it.
2. Utilize various screening tools to determine appropriate next steps.
3. Discuss the value of Motivational Interviewing as a core component of SBIRT.
TH7-AM - Dialectical Behavior Therapy Model: Adding mindfulness and self-regulation to treatment

Fausta Luchini, M.A., LPP

1/2 Day Workshop • Thursday
3 CEUs

We know that cognitive behavioral therapy is effective. This workshop will teach you how to add skills from the Dialectical Behavior Therapy model. Using mindfulness and other specific skills on how to tolerate unpleasant emotions and manage moods effectively will increase the tools in your toolbox and may benefit clients who are not responding well with other interventions.

Objectives:
1. Participants will be able to identify key factors in using a DBT approach to substance abuse treatment.
2. Participants will understand how the use of mindfulness can contribute to recovery, and learn 3 mindfulness techniques.
3. Participants will understand the use of self-regulation techniques to support recovery and be able to identify 3 strategies to regulate emotions.

TH8-AM-Px - Examining the Shared Risk and Resiliency Factors of Substance Abuse and Violence Prevention

*Melissa Paris, LCSW
Tomy Molloy, B.A.*

Prevention Track
1/2 Day Workshop • Thursday
3 CEUs

“A good solution solves multiple problems.” The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention Institute has examined shared risk factors and resiliency factors for multiple forms of violence in an effort to make the case for innovative, collaborative prevention work that increases public health impact. The same model can be used in substance abuse prevention efforts, since risk factors for substance abuse are shared with multiple forms of violence, youth delinquency, and other social challenges. Participants will learn about these shared risk and resiliency factors and be able to identify partners and tactics for organizing coalitions that will increase the effectiveness of prevention efforts. Participants will learn how substance abuse prevention and teen dating violence prevention efforts in Louisville have maximized their impact through innovative partnerships and youth leadership opportunities.

Objectives:
1. Participants will gain an understanding of shared risk and resiliency factors for substance abuse and various forms of violence.
2. Participants will be able to identify connections between multiple issues impacting youth.
3. Participants will be able to identify potential prevention strategies, partnerships, and cross-sector collaborations that will address shared risk and resiliency factors and increase the impact of prevention efforts.
TH9-AM - Family Intervention Strategies: Assisting families in their own process from addiction through recovery

Todd Reynolds, M.S.S.W., CADC

1/2 Day Workshop • Thursday
3 CEUs

Recovery is hard. Relapse rates can be very high. This workshop focuses on bringing the family and the addict together to create a recovery support system to help all in the recovery process. You will be able to assist this system to mutually support each other to address the challenges of recovery and improve the opportunity for recovery.

Objectives:
1. Identify the difference between enabling and helping.
2. Identify 3 ways the family can support the addict and each other in recovery.
3. Identify the 5 essential components of a successful program of recovery.
4. Identify 3 key aspects to implement with families for healthy recovery.

TH10-AM-Px - Culturally Competent Prevention: A Focus on Services and Health Disparities

Mark Sanders, LCSW, CADC

Prevention Track
1/2 Day Workshop • Thursday
3 CEUs

In this workshop you will learn the 10 characteristics of culturally competent prevention specialists, strategies for incorporating positive aspects of culture into substance abuse prevention programming, how to utilize cultural strengths in prevention programming and discover therapeutic gems within the community that support prevention efforts, the impact of health disparities on substance use rates and how to advocate for needed services, and examples of effective prevention programming drawn from Native American, African American, faith-based, and Asian communities.

Objectives:
1. Be aware of 10 characteristics of culturally competent prevention specialists.
2. Be aware of strategies for incorporating positive aspects of culture into substance abuse prevention programming.
3. Be aware of how to utilize cultural strengths in prevention programming.
TH11-AM - Romancing the Brain

Cynthia Moreno Tuohy, NCACII, CDCIII, SAP

1/2 Day Workshop • Thursday
3 CEUs

With funding from NIDA, Cynthia Moreno Tuohy worked with Danya International to conceptualize, develop, and evaluate a multi-component, multi-media tool for use by addiction and other helping professionals to assist adults and youth improve their life traumas and conflict through knowledge, attitudes and skills. Romancing the Brain skills are an intensive set of psycho-emotional-social-spiritual Cognitive Behavioral Therapy (CBT) treatments that, if followed, will result in a lifestyle change. This program will affect a “self and other” assessment of conflict style with a communication style, with the goal of behavior changes that are instilled in the brain. Some treatment sessions are based in brain research and CBT treatments that have been effective for anger and relapse-triggering problems. Other techniques are employed that unify the principles of social learning and emotional intelligence theory that mark this program as different from “anger management” programs. This program affects behavioral learning with emotional development and maturity that results in long-term changes in the brain and behavior. This training includes substance use disorder and mental health issues and how these issues affects criminogenic behaviors and impairs the client’s ability to benefit from treatment and recovery.

Objectives:
1. Participants will be able to identify at least 5 words, phrases and behaviors in the limbic area of the brain and how that hampers recovery.
2. Participants will be able to identify the 5 stages that relationships tend to traverse through in romantic relationships. (Honeymoon, Disillusion, Misery, Awaking, Peace/Calm).
3. Participants will be able to identify at least three other types of relationships that also traverse through the 5 stages of relationships. (self/recovery, children, work, friendships).
4. Participants will be able to identify the four types of agreements to lead persons out of the stage of misery. (Financial, Emotional/psychological, Spiritual, Physical/Spatial).
5. Participants will be able to self-identify where they are in their own relationships (stages) and what they need and want in the four types of agreements.

TH12-AM - Re-Licensure Ethics for Social Work, Alcohol and Drug Counselors, and Other Counselor Professions

Geoff Wilson, LCSW, CADC

1/2 Day Workshop • Thursday
3 CEUs

For those practicing in the drug and alcohol treatment field, the ability to maintain professional boundaries with clients and practice from a sound ethical foundation are essential. This program will serve to satisfy continuing education requirements for Social Workers, specific to 201 KAR 23:080, as well as for Certified Alcohol and Drug Counselors specific to 201 KAR 35:030, Code of Ethics for Certified Alcohol and Drug Counselors. The agenda for this workshop will include a review of specific mission statements for various disciplines, core value and principles, ethical standards and responsibilities. The ethical decision making process, and issues pertaining to Dual Relationships will be reviewed along with specific case examples. Issues pertaining to counselor burnout, value clarification, boundaries, and responsibility to clients will also be explored.

(Please Note: If you are another Counselor profession, other than Social Work or CADC, we ask that you check with your occupational Board to find out if this workshop will meet your requirements. LMFT is not covered by this workshop. Thank you.)

Objectives:
1. Participants will review 201 KAR 23:080 regulation with regard to Social Work ethics, and 201 KAR 35:030 Code of Ethics for Certified Alcohol and Drug Counselors to gain a clear understanding of their content and practice implications.
2. Attendees will discuss what it means to practice ethically and will define who their clients are.
3. Attendees will review and discuss specific case examples that pertain to the Code of Ethics of a variety of disciplines.
4. Attendees will process common experiences that may lead to counselor burn-out and boundary violations.
TH13-PM - Engaging the Arts in SA Recovery

James Campbell, M.A., CACII

1/2 Day Workshop • Thursday
3 CEUs

Many of those we serve struggle with self-expression. Engaging the Arts in Recovery will provide a clinical rationale for utilizing the arts as a modality in treatment and will serve as an experiential means of teaching skills for engaging individuals at any skill level in using the arts as a means of self-expression and healing in treatment. It will serve as an introduction to utilizing art in a therapeutic setting with an emphasis on the usefulness of art as a tool for communication, self-expression, and recovery regardless of skill level or artistic talent.

Objectives:
1. Gain a basic understanding of the scientifically-based reasons why the arts can serve as an effective tool in addiction treatment.
2. Be introduced to diverse means of engaging various art forms in clinical settings.
3. Participate in creative exercises to experience the utility of expressive arts in a clinical setting and increase empathy regardless of artistic skill level.
4. Identify exercises that they can use with those they serve immediately.

TH14-PM - Peer Support Specialists’ Tools and Issues: You passed the exam; you got the job... now what?

Molly Clouse, M.Ed., KPS

1/2 Day Workshop • Thursday
3 CEUs

This class will address issues specific to those employed as Peer Support Specialists and provide tools and resources they can use on a day-to-day basis to help those they serve move forward in their recovery.

Objectives:
2. Articulate strategies for addressing on-the-job issues such as:
   • Ethical decision making
   • Boundaries
   • Self-care
3. Apply tools for:
   • Listening
   • Sharing recovery stories
   • Facilitating support groups
   • Developing and facilitating recovery groups
TH15-PM - Compassion Satisfaction: Flipping the paradigm on Compassion Fatigue in SA workers

Annie Fahy, RN, LCSW

1/2 Day Workshop • Thursday
3 CEUs

This workshop will clarify and identify terms and pertinent research related to Compassion Fatigue, Vicarious Trauma and burnout. Participants will look at system, team and individual practices that can decrease incidence and suffering from these kind of symptoms. Self-Care and Mindfulness practices will be highlighted as stress and exacerbation prevention of symptoms and sequelae.

This workshop uses kinesthetic learning principals so that participants are active in mind and body and utilizes elements from mindfulness and active listening practices method to offer participants an experience of self evaluation and check in related to work stress and vicarious stress that comes from working with acute and chronic care of clients.

I. Self Assessment/Relaxation & Play- These exercises are designed to separate the worker from the relentless work experience that never ends. Participants will explore their own ability to separate, and develop healthy empathy while holding a protective neutrality.

II. Awareness and Narratives- These experiences are designed to heighten participants’ understanding of terms and ways that CF, VT and its associated symptoms may create disruption in business as usual

III. Reflection and Understanding- This experience offers participants a chance to interact with the overt and covert messages that they receive and also tell themselves that creates a status quo for overwork, ineffective empathy and lack of self care.

IV. Transformation- This aspect of the workshop creates the space for new thinking and action around old behaviors that aren’t working anymore.

Objectives:
This training experience offers participants a chance to explore their own experience while addressing major concepts of Compassion Fatigue.
Participants will:
1. Refocus their attention to themselves and complete an individual self assessment as well as practice with empathy skills and a neutral workplace perspective.
2. Understand terms associated with workplace stress, vicarious trauma, Compassion Fatigue and burnout out at physiologic and cognitive processes.
3. Gain an experience of pertinent research related to worker fatigues.
4. Explore mindfulness exercises as well as identify their own protective factors and risks.
5. Participants will identify strategies and modalities that can assist and build resiliencies for future work and revision of habits.
6. Develop skills to analyze and intervene with workplace risks.

TH16-PM-Ad - Challenges: Adolescent Juvenile Justice Population with Substance Use

Fred Dyer, Ph.D., CADC

Adolescent Track
1/2 Day Workshop • Thursday
3 CEUs

Research informs that the cost of substance use to juvenile justice programs is at least $14.4 billion annually for law enforcement, courts, detention, residential placement, and incarceration. This does not even factor in the cost of probation, physical and mental health services, child welfare and family services, school costs and the cost to the victims. The Juvenile Justice System is presented with an opportunity to not only hold juveniles accountable, but to also provide a wide range of services to meet their needs and help them become productive citizens. Substance using juvenile offenders enter the Juvenile Justice System with a myriad of challenges including but not limited to medical care, mental health services, education, employment training, special education for the learning disabled, substance use treatment, counseling, transitional support aftercare and reentry into their families schools, communities and a re orientation prosocial –life skills development. It is necessary that substance using adolescent juvenile offenders receive not only a myriad of services but that services are comprehensive, and reflect evidenced based gender responsive trauma informed care.

Objectives:
1. Understand from research the unmet needs of substance using adolescent juvenile offenders in the juvenile justice settings.
2. See the importance of screening and assessment for substance use which interfaces with other areas (i.e., school history, parental substance use, history of past substance use treatment, negative peer influence).
3. Explain the importance and significance of juvenile drug court and it significance in addressing challenges in the Juvenile Justice System.
4. From juvenile research and clinical practice delineate what are the best practices for addressing substance use among juvenile offenders with corresponding challenges.
TH17-PM - The “What” and “How” of Evidence Based Practices (EBP)

Ed Johnson, M.Ed., MAC, LPC

1/2 Day Workshop • Thursday
3 CEUs

The term “EBP” is ubiquitous in the literature and in federal guidelines. This workshop will help providers better understand what an Evidence Based Practice is (and is not). More importantly, however, this workshop will discuss the process of identifying and implementing an EBP within and agency or organization in order to achieve optimum outcomes for the patients served. The issues of supervision and fidelity of Evidence Based Practices will be stressed.

Objectives:
1. Be able to articulate what makes a therapeutic intervention “evidence based”.
2. Be able to effectively utilize the “Change Book” when implementing an EBP.
3. Increase their understanding of the importance of supervision and fidelity to implementing EBP.

TH18-PM - When We Get Behind Closed Doors: Clinical Supervision for Client Safety and Clinician Growth

Alan Lyme, LISW, ICADC, ICCS

1/2 Day Workshop • Thursday
3 CEUs

As the substance use and mental health field is constantly changing, clinical supervision is the cornerstone for staff development and quality assurance. Whether a seasoned veteran or fresh-out-of-college, addictions counselors legally and ethically need clinical supervision. How well that supervision is managed may have an impact not only on the clinician but also on the experience and outcome for each client. This overview of clinical supervision will offer a window into managing staff needs in an array of issues, including some new ethical dilemmas, and will address not only the challenges that quality supervision presents but also some solutions that may help both supervisor and supervisee get more from the experience.

Objectives:
1. Defend the need for direct observation.
2. Differentiate between case management and clinical supervision.
3. Define vicarious liability in supervision.
TH19-PM - Women With Substance Use and Unintended Pregnancy: All Options Counseling and Referrals

Fausta Luchini, M.A., LPP
Liz Epperson

1/2 Day Workshop • Thursday
3 CEUs

Making good referrals is often part of the work of a substance abuse counselor. This training will overview the Provide Curriculum using the STAR model, a guide for how to make referrals for women with substance use and other conditions and feel comfortable providing full options counseling with clients who experience unintended pregnancy. The goal is to help counselors know what to do and how to do it in a way that respects client autonomy and recognizes the providers’ own values and feelings.

Objectives:
1. Use empathic listening with patients or clients ambivalent about an unintended pregnancy.
2. Consult knowledgeably on parenting, abortion, and adoption resources in the community.
3. Navigate emotions that arise around personal belief and professional obligations.
4. Cultivate a sense of comfort and professional pride in referrals.
5. Honor client autonomy.
6. Serve as an informed resource on specialized reproductive health care, including unintended pregnancy and abortion.
7. Offer empathy to patients or clients when making referrals even if individual beliefs conflict with the referral.

TH20-PM-Px - Examining the Shared Risk and Resiliency Factors of Substance Abuse and Violence Prevention

Prevention Track
Melissa Paris, LCSW
Tomy Molloy, B.A.

1/2 Day Workshop • Thursday

Objectives:
1. Participants will gain an understanding of shared risk and resiliency factors for substance abuse and various forms of violence.
2. Participants will be able to identify connections between multiple issues impacting youth.
3. Participants will be able to identify potential prevention strategies, partnerships, and cross-sector collaborations that will address shared risk and resiliency factors and increase the impact of prevention efforts.
TH21-PM - Adverse Childhood Events and Neonatal Abstinence Syndrome: Connecting the Dots

Lori Devlin-Phinney, D.O., M.H.A.
Ruth Shepherd, M.D., FAAP

1/2 Day Workshop • Thursday
3 CEUs

This session will examine the connection between Adverse Childhood Experiences (ACEs) and Neonatal Abstinence Syndrome (NAS). The presentation will evaluate the impact of childhood trauma on the incidence of drug use during pregnancy and Neonatal Abstinence Syndrome in the exposed infant. Review trends in substance abuse during pregnancy and assess the impact of pharmacologic and non-pharmacologic therapy on NAS and provide a protective factor framework for integrating parents into the care team. Highlight opportunities to improve short-term and long-term outcomes for NAS infants and their families.

Objectives:
1. Review the clinical presentation of Neonatal Drug Withdrawal/Neonatal Abstinence Syndrome.
2. Discuss the incidence of illicit drug abuse during pregnancy and the differences in substance abuse in women, including the role of ACEs.
3. Examine the incidence of Neonatal Abstinence Syndrome nationally and in the state of KY.
5. Discuss the opportunities to improve short-term and long-term outcomes for NAS infants and their families.

TH22-PM - Chronic Homelessness and Engagement: Using Targeted Case Management as a Gateway to Recovery

Kelly Ruff, M.Ed., LPCA
Jessica Sucik, LCSW

1/2 Day Workshop • Thursday
3 CEUs

Safe and stable housing is a basic right and need for all individuals. This workshop is designed to educate behavioral health providers in the importance of the helping relationship between clients living in chronic homelessness and the Targeted Case Manager (TCM). The TCM has a unique opportunity to infuse Housing First Principles and establishing therapeutic rapport by meeting the basic needs of their client. Ending chronic homelessness for an individual fosters an ability to engage them in their recovery process and link them to services that will contribute to regaining independence.

Objectives:
1. Learn strategies for effective engagement with the chronically homeless population.
2. Understand the importance of community partnerships and outreach.
3. Identify the principles, standards, and philosophical structure of the Housing First Model.
4. Understand the Targeted Case Manager’s role in linking clients to services and supports to maintain housing and recovery.
5. Develop understanding of the importance of restoring an independent level of functioning through the helping relationship.
TH23-PM - Culturally Competent Prevention: A Focus on Services and Health Disparities

Mark Sanders, LCSW, CADC

1/2 Day Workshop • Thursday
3 CEUs

In this workshop you will learn the 10 characteristics of culturally competent prevention specialists, strategies for incorporating positive aspects of culture into substance abuse prevention programming, how to utilize cultural strengths in prevention programming and discover therapeutic gems within the community that support prevention efforts, the impact of health disparities on substance use rates and how to advocate for needed services, and examples of effective prevention programming drawn from Native American, African American, faith-based, and Asian communities.

Objectives: By the end of this workshop participants will:
1. Be aware of 10 characteristics of culturally competent prevention specialists.
2. Be aware of strategies for incorporating positive aspects of culture into substance abuse prevention programming.
3. Be aware of how to utilize cultural strengths in prevention programming.

TH24-PM - Romancing the Brain

Cynthia Moreno Tuohy, NCACII, CDCIII, SAP

1/2 Day Workshop • Thursday

With funding from NIDA, Cynthia Moreno Tuohy worked with Danya International to conceptualize, develop, and evaluate a multi-component, multi-media tool for use by addiction and other helping professionals to assist adults and youth improve their life traumas and conflict through knowledge, attitudes and skills. Romancing the Brain skills are an intensive set of psycho-emotional-social-spiritual Cogitative Behavioral Therapy (CBT) treatments that, if followed, will result in a lifestyle change. This program will affect a “self and other” assessment of conflict style with a communication style, with the goal of behavior changes that are instilled in the brain. Some treatment sessions are based in brain research and CBT treatments that have been effective for anger and relapse-triggering problems. Other techniques are employed that unify the principles of social learning and emotional intelligence theory that mark this program as different from “anger management” programs. This program affects behavioral learning with emotional development and maturity that results in long-term changes in the brain and behavior. This training includes substance use disorder and mental health issues and how these issues affects criminogenic behaviors and impairs the client’s ability to benefit from treatment and recovery.

Objectives:
1. Participants will be able to identify at least 5 words, phrases and behaviors in the limbic area of the brain and how that hampers recovery.
2. Participants will be able to identify the 5 stages that relationships tend to traverse through in romantic relationships (Honeymoon, Disillusion, Misery, Awaking, Peace/Calm).
3. Participants will be able to identify at least three other types of relationships that also traverse through the 5 stages of relationships (self/recovery, children, work, friendships).
4. Participants will be able to identify the four types of agreements to lead persons out of the stage of misery (Financial, Emotional/Psychological, Spiritual, Physical/Spatial).
5. Participants will be able to self-identify where they are in their own relationships (stages) and what they need and want in the four types of agreements.
TH25 - Preparing to Become ADC (Alcohol and Drug Counselor) in KY

Jeanne Keen, M.S., RN, CADC
Mike Vance, M.B.A, CADC, CPP, LSW

1 Day Workshop • Thursday
6 CEUs

This workshop will provide the history and development of professional certification by ICRC and the Kentucky Application and Credentialing process. The instructors will provide numerous suggestions about study methods, test taking ideas and techniques for successful exam taking. A sample exam will be given and will be scored on the last day of the class.

Objectives:
1. Understand the IC&RC and development of the certification process.
2. Identify and describe the 12 Core Functions.
3. Discuss the process of the written exam.
4. Understand the CADC certification process.

TH26 - Understanding and Treating Cannabis (Cannabinoid) Use Disorder

Cardwell Nuckols, Ph.D.

1 Day Workshop • Thursday
6 CEUs

Marijuana is the most commonly used illicit substance with 7% of the US population admitting to current use. Now compare this number to the less than 1% of the American population using heroin, cocaine and methamphetamine.

1.5% of citizens struggle with an active cannabis addiction. The number of reports citing the use of the synthetic cannabinoids only adds to the problem.

This skills-training event will give the participant state-of-the-art understanding of the following:

- The DSM-5 diagnostic criteria for Cannabis Use Disorder
- The neurobiology of cannabis use and addiction
- The short and long-term health effects of cannabis use
- An understanding of the cannabis acute abstinence syndrome and its treatment
- The evidence-based psychotherapeutic approaches to the treatment of Cannabis Use Disorder
- Current perspectives on the pharmacological treatment of Cannabis Use Disorder

Objectives:
1. Discuss the neurobiology of marijuana (cannabis) use and addiction.
2. Describe the evidence-based psychotherapeutic approaches helpful in the treatment of Cannabis Use Disorder.
3. Discuss the medications currently utilized in the treatment of cannabis acute abstinence syndrome and during early recovery.
4. Describe the short and long-term health effects of cannabis and related cannabinoid use.
TH27 - Developing Resiliency in Treatment-Making the Crises of Recovery an Opportunity

Patricia A. O’Gorman, Ph.D.

1 Day Workshop • Thursday
6 CEUs

How to provide motivation for the work of treatment, and to instill hope that recovery is possible? Some answers are obvious. Develop resiliency in our clients—that is their ability to know the power that they have within themselves, to make sense and grow from the traumas in their life.

We can do this by developing our ability to be curious about what is right in our clients, and help our clients also be curious about what is right with them. Then we assist them in making these skills/values/beliefs conscious. We can do this through developing an understanding within our clients of what is the best within them, what they are currently doing right, what they wish others to see, and what skills they have that they can learn to consciously use to forge the life they wish to lead.

By understanding Protective Factors, and drawing upon risk factor research, participants will understand how to use The 7 Steps to Developing Power (Resilience) in clients and in themselves.

Objectives:
Upon completion participants will be able to:

1. Understand the balance between protective factors and resilience.
2. Understand The 7 Steps to Personal Power, and how to use.
3. Understand the inter-generational trauma / strength cycle in a families with addiction, and how to begin to intervene.
4. How to help clients identify the best in them, and what they do to sabotage this.
5. Understand how to reframe and tease out resilience and make resilience conscious.
6. How to clinically use the concepts in 12 Step Support Groups to further strengthen the resilience of the individual and their family.

Mike Barry, BS
Mike Barry has had his share of broad life experiences from which to draw. By age 40 he had reached the peak of his profession as a TV News Anchor, reporter, and producer. But behind the polished image of success was a man already overwhelmed by the disease of alcoholism.

His story is more common than you think, which is why the driving passion of his life today is to help others in need of a new life, free from addiction and in long-term recovery, he himself found.

His new calling as an advocate for the recovery movement is enhanced by his training and experience in broadcasting and technology. His unique combination of talent, energy and devotion to the cause has placed Mike Barry at the heart of this movement.

He travels the country seeking to educate others about addiction, to remove barriers and discrimination, and thus enable those in long-term recovery and no longer using alcohol or other drugs to become productive members of society.
