Welcome/Overview

Greetings!

Thank you for your interest in the 2015 Kentucky School of Alcohol and Other Drug Studies (KSAODS). In this, the 42nd year of the KSAODS, conference planners have preserved the most valued elements of years past, while offering new, cutting-edge substance use prevention and treatment information. There are foundational prevention and treatment courses, advanced multi-day courses, peer/professional group meetings, a large exhibit hall with entertainment, and the Tuesday Evening Awards and Banquet with live music.

New features this year include a poster presentation session and specialized tracts dedicated to Prevention Specialists Certification and Adolescent Substance Use Prevention and Treatment. Please take time to view our offerings. I think you’ll see many opportunities, professional development and personal rejuvenation throughout the week.

We look forward to seeing you in August!

Regards,

Online Registration
Registration for the conference is available online: http://events.r20.constantcontact.com/register/event?oeidk=a07ea94b132630d7417&lrr=kxpzbosab. Participants may attend one to three days at a cost of $125 per day or $450 for the full conference (a $50 savings).

Participants may register to attend any combination of workshops but are reminded to pay careful attention to the workshops that are conducted over a span of two days, or which occur just a half day. Participants should be careful not to sign up for more than one workshop in the same time slot. The registration system will charge for all workshops, even if those workshops overlap. For questions regarding registration, please email: Kate.Hackett@ky.gov

Deadline for Registration is Thursday, August 6, 2015

Registration Fee(s)
$450.00/week or $125.00/day

All registration and payment details are provided through the online registration site. Registration fee is required to be paid at the time of online registration using PayPal. To register: http://events.r20.constantcontact.com/register/event?oeidk=a07ea94b132630d7417&lrr=kxpzbosab

Handouts
Handouts will be posted online prior to KSAODS. Each registrant will be emailed the link to workshop(s) to download and print handouts for their sessions (approximately Aug. 1, 2015). Registrants are responsible for this process. Printed handouts will not be available on site.

Scholarships
Limited scholarships are available for Kentucky residents only. Applications are due June 30, 2015. Scholarships cover registration fee only. Scholarship recipients will be emailed instructions on how to register in lieu of payment. If you apply for a scholarship, please do not register for Kentucky School until you learn if you have received a scholarship. Follow this link to obtain the scholarship application: https://redcap.uky.edu/redcap/surveys/?s=TbbAwZ0T59

Once You Arrive:

Onsite Check-In: REQUIRED

Onsite check-in will be open Sunday, Aug. 16, 2015 from 2:00-6:00 p.m. Sunday’s plenary begins at 5:00 p.m., followed by a reception. Check-in will be open each morning from 8:00-10:15 a.m. Nametags and information packets will be distributed at this time. The location for onsite check-in is outside Crowne A Ballroom. Check-in is required only the first day of your workshops.

Attendance

All registration will take place online: http://events.r20.constantcontact.com/register/event?oeidk=a07ea94b132630d7417&llr=kxpzbosab

All participants choose workshops on a first-come, first-serve basis and workshops will be closed when room capacity is filled. When you register online, you will be guided through this process. At the end of the online registration process, there is a confirmation message that you can print. You will receive a confirmation email as well that will outline the workshops and other events that you registered for, along with the cost of each, and then a total cost.

Please note, a workshop that has a Px or Ad designation may also be appropriate for a treatment provider and vice versa. The designations are indicated to provide preventionists and adolescent treatment providers guidance in selecting workshops that will be most appropriate for their credentialling boards’ approval.

Nametags, Barcodes and CEUs

Nametags include a barcode that will be scanned at the beginning and the end of each workshop (including when you exit and re-enter at lunch), and at the beginning of each plenary. Certificates for CEUs and Contact Hours will be generated after the conference based on participants’ scans. Please keep name badge secure and easily accessible for scanner.

Certificates with CEUs or Contact Hours earned will be available online to download and print after Sept. 21, 2015. An email message with instructions will be sent to attendees after Sept. 21. No partial credit will be given. In order to receive credit for attendance, participants must attend the entire workshop, receiving a scan within 10 minutes of the workshop morning start time and after lunch. Participants must also sign the roster in each workshop and include professional board license number(s) on the sign-in sheet(s). A complete list of licensing boards with approved CEU options is noted on the next page.

Please keep your nametag secure and wear it at all times. A $5.00 fee will be assessed to replace lost nametags. See Onsite Registration outside the Crowne Ballroom for replacements.

PLEASE NOTE: No partial continuing education credit will be given. Participants must attend the entire workshop and sign ALL roster/sign-in sheets to receive any continuing education credit hours, as well as scan in and scan out of sessions.

Meals

Lunch will be provided daily and is included in your registration fee. Lunch Monday and Thursday are buffet style. Lunch Tuesday and Wednesday are box lunches. Tuesday Evening Banquet: There is no additional cost with full-week registration for the Tuesday evening Awards Banquet; however, please indicate your attendance during the registration process. Other registrants are welcome to attend, but must indicate this through the online registration and pay $35.00.

Evaluations

Your feedback is valued by conference planners.

• Plenary - session evaluations will be available. Please complete at the conclusion of each session and leave on ballroom tables.
• Workshop - evaluations will be distributed at the conclusion of each workshop; leave with workshop facilitator.
• Conference - evaluations will be conducted online, and upon completion, certificates will be available to participants.

Please Remember To...

• Bring downloaded handouts to all sessions (copies will not be available onsite)
• Bring sweater/light jacket for air conditioning comfort (it is almost always chilly in sessions)
• Keep nametag accessible for scanners
• Arrive to sessions at the scheduled times
• Silence electronic devices during all sessions

New Prevention-Specific Track

The field and focus of Substance Abuse Prevention has drastically changed over the past 10 years. This change for the better has only been made possible by those who believe in hard work, persistence and, most of all, the importance of Substance Abuse Prevention to our coalitions and communities. Likewise, the Kentucky School of Alcohol and Other Drug Studies has changed to reflect the merits of Prevention. 2015 will see our Kentucky School adding workshops that feature national speakers presenting topics that will link the new fields of prevention and behavioral health. Workshops that fit this designation will have the letters Px in the workshop code. The Kentucky Certification Board for Prevention Professionals has reviewed the Kentucky School Courses and approved the following for credit toward the Certified Prevention Specialist designation:

Adolescent Track

Adolescence is the time when many mental health disorders begin to present in addition to the time that young people may explore substance use. Substance use and abuse can be difficult to discern as something different from mental health issues, and they are often times co-occurring. The complex needs of this population are remarkably different from those of the traditional adult treatment population, requiring different expertise and guidance on how a treatment and recovery system can best serve them.

In recognition of the differences in developmental and emotional growth between adolescents and adults, the 42nd annual Kentucky School of Alcohol and Drug Studies has developed the first adolescent specific track to distinctively address the unique needs of adolescents and their families who may be dealing with substance use issues. These sessions will benefit both the entry-level clinician as well as the seasoned veteran, providing them with the most up to date information in the ever emerging field of adolescent substance use and co-occurring treatment.

NEW THIS YEAR ...

Poster Session

Along with the current conference model of workshops and plenaries on substance abuse prevention, treatment, and recovery, the 42nd Kentucky School of Alcohol and Other Drug Studies will feature, for the first time, a POSTER PRESENTATION SESSION. Our goals in adding the poster session to our repertoire of offerings include: promoting and advancing practice in the field of substance abuse prevention, treatment, and recovery; maximizing the opportunity for presenters to share valuable research-to-practice information; and increasing participants’ knowledge in the substance abuse field.

Conference organizers believe this offers an exciting opportunity for folks at a variety of levels in research – those prominent in their field with a history of progressive research; those new to the research field through their doctoral or graduate work; and those who are boots-on-the-ground, implementing evidence-based practices with fidelity – to share their successes with their colleagues.

OBJECTIVES OF THE POSTER PRESENTATION SESSION

1. Share data and findings from research and practice.
2. Present the importance of research, project, or practice, and the validity of the work.

A poster presentation is an opportunity to share research succinctly using graphics, i.e., photographs, charts, graphs, diagrams, and text, i.e., concise written statements. The information shared is to augment or enhance a facet of substance abuse and other drugs learning occurring at KSAODS 2015.

The poster session will be presented during KSAODS 2015 Wednesday, Aug. 19, from 4:30-6 p.m. with selected presenters discussing their topic with attendees during an afternoon reception. Posters selected for presentation will be part of a jury-process, with prizes awarded to winners.

If you are planning to attend the poster presentation, please indicate as such on your registration. There is no cost to attend, but for reception planning purposes, a count is needed.

IN THE EXHIBIT HALL

Shop! Be entertained during your lunch! Get your picture taken with a celebrity! Enjoy a free afternoon cup of coffee! Register for a door prize; enter a contest! All of this and more can be found in the Kentucky School Exhibit Hall—with its 32 first-time exhibitors—just across from the Crowne Ballroom. Each day is different with new exhibitors.

Get a jump on shopping! Drop by before the morning plenary and choose from jewelry, handmade soap, exotic pearls, home drug testing kits, scented candles, beauty and aromatherapy products, leather products, artwork, and made-in-Kentucky wreaths. Not here today? Check back tomorrow!

Elvis is back! He will be providing Monday's entertainment. On Tuesday, the Circle City Steel Drum Island Music from Indianapolis will be with us, and Johnny Cash will sing lots of old favorites on Wednesday. Bring your lunch and stay for the music. Get a friend to take your picture with the celebrity of the day!

Come back during your afternoon break and enjoy a cup of hot coffee while doing more shopping and visiting the other exhibitors. Visit with the non-profits who can teach you about fibromyalgia, international adoptions, Native Americans in Kentucky, multiple sclerosis, and much more. Take advantage of the available resources for mental illness as well as substance abuse treatment and recovery from the several state agencies. Get acquainted with the treatment centers here every day.

Need a massage? Sign up at the Division of Behavioral Health (DBH) table. A massage therapist from Lifeline Chiropractic in Louisville, “Don’t put your life on the Line, Come to Lifeline,” will be available Monday and Wednesday from 10:00-3:30, and chiropractor Dawn Wietfeldt D.C. will be available for consultation only on Tuesday from 10:00-1:30. Tips are accepted for the sessions.

Don’t forget to register for the prizes! Door prizes galore are offered by the exhibitors, and daily drawings are held at the DBH table for scavenger hunt entries. Enter the poem contest and you may win the grand prize $50 gift card! First place is a $25 gift card, and a $15 gift card is given for second place. Two honorable mentions will receive $5 gift cards. Be sure to check your registration packet for entry forms and instructions.

Visiting the Exhibit Hall every day is sure to be one of the highlights of your Kentucky School experience, so come often! Look in your registration packet for a list of all the exhibitors and head to the DBH table with any questions. Staff is ready with smiles and lots of answers!

And be sure to complete your exhibitor satisfaction surveys so we know how we are doing! Just turn in at the registration desk on your last day.

Since 2005, the Michael E. Townsend Leadership Academy has offered professional development opportunities for professionals in the field of Substance Abuse. The Michael E. Townsend Leadership Academy is an opportunity for those who wish to become leaders throughout Kentucky in the field of substance abuse/recovery and mental health to collaborate and further enhance their skills.

For 2015 the Townsend Leadership Academy will continue; however it will be held at a different time and location and not during the KY School Week. Information will be sent to the Kentucky School mailing list and will also be posted on the DBH website when available: http://dbhdid.ky.gov/dbh/ksaods.aspx. For more information please contact Mike Barry at mike@peopleadvocatingrecovery.org.

The purpose of this leadership initiative is to develop leadership talent and skills for the future of Kentucky substance abuse treatments professionals. Participants in the Leadership Academy are challenged to grow both individually and professionally. The larger outcome of the Leadership Academy Challenge Projects has been widespread influence throughout law enforcement, prevention, recovery and treatment arenas, and many of the results of these Challenge Projects have continued to be widely used today.

The Leadership Academy views leadership as a set of interrelated capabilities and provides a lens to assist a leader to develop a robust approach and guide for action. This leadership framework is based around five interrelated leadership capabilities, each supported by a number of leadership practices. These five leadership capabilities include leadership context, setting direction, building capability, inspiring commitment and personal effectiveness.

Continuing Education Units (CEUs) are offered for completion of this program. Specifically, during the workshop and the two retreats, the Leadership Academy participants will be introduced to skills required to become the next leaders in their fields, including building coalitions and teams, effective strategic planning, communication, decision-making, creativity, resolution of conflicts, dealing with diversity, press relations and messaging, and more.

In addition, the Leadership Academy participants will be required to work on a team of their Leadership Academy peers for the entire year, creating and regularly reporting on projects that will be designed by them to greatly benefit their fields. These projects are the legacies the Leadership Academy members leave behind as a service to their fields. They will also be required to read and review current leadership literature provided to them both before and during their Leadership Academy year, and complete other assignments as directed.

2015 Robert Straus Award Nomination Form
Nomination forms must be received by June 30, 2015

In recognition of Dr. Robert Straus for his career-long commitment to the study of alcoholism, his tenure with the Alcohol and Drug Task Force, and his leadership in the substance abuse field in Kentucky, KSAODS will present awards for outstanding contribution to substance abuse practice in Kentucky. Nominations will be accepted in the areas of:

- Prevention (Individual)
- Treatment (Individual)
- Advocacy/Volunteer (Individual)
- Community Organization, Business, or Network in fields of ATOD Prevention/Treatment/Advocacy

KSAODS is now accepting applications for the 2015 Robert Straus Award, to be presented at the Tuesday Evening Banquet of the 2015 KSAODS Conference. All practicing professionals in the areas of substance abuse prevention, treatment and/or recovery, advocacy/volunteer, and community organization/business are encouraged to submit nominations for the award. Notification of awards will be determined by July 16, 2015, and recipients will be notified by July 20, 2015.

Nominate a peer/colleague who has demonstrated excellence in the field of prevention, treatment/recovery, and/or advocacy. You may also nominate a community organization or business.

Separate nomination forms must be used for separate nominations. Please type or print legibly; additional pages should be included as needed. In the space provided below, please describe why you feel this nominee should receive the Robert Straus Award. Please base your nomination narrative on the award criteria found on the next two pages. This form can also be found at: https://redcap.uky.edu/redcap/surveys/?s=HD2E8hEck7 and can be submitted online.

In honor of the late Mike Lowther, the Kentucky School of Alcohol and Other Drug Studies is pleased to announce the inaugural Mike Lowther Award for Excellence in Prevention Work.

Mr. Michael O. Lowther, a native of Oklahoma and a resident of Nebraska, was a highly regarded expert in the field of substance abuse prevention. He was the founding director of the Southwest Prevention Center at the University of Oklahoma, served as a director of State Programs at the U.S. Health and Human Services Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration, and worked at the White House Drug Policy Office where he contributed significantly to the President’s National Drug Control Strategy.

Additionally, Mr. Lowther served in leadership positions at the Pacific Institute for Research and Evaluation and worked at JBS International. Mr. Lowther received the 2001 National Prevention Network Lifetime Achievement Award for outstanding contributions to the field.

Mr. Lowther was an advocate for systems change to enhance the health and well-being of all people. He believed in building local capacity for comprehensive, population-based approaches that are based on objective and valid needs assessments. Mr. Lowther’s mantra was “local people solve local problems best, people support what they help create, and science matters.”

The winner of the 2015 Mike Lowther Award for Excellence in Prevention Work will embody the high professional standards, effective communication skills, proven leadership abilities, and dedication to the field and science of substance abuse prevention of which Mr. Lowther demonstrated.

The 2015 Mike Lowther Award for Excellence in Prevention Work will be presented during the Tuesday night KSAODS banquet. The award winner will be selected by DBH prevention staff.
The Kentucky Association of Addiction Professionals (KAAP)

Dear KY School Participants,

The Kentucky Association of Addiction Professionals (KAAP) is the state affiliate of NAADAC, the National Association of Addiction Professionals. The Kentucky School serves as KAAP's primary forum for training addiction professionals in state of the art information for prevention, intervention, treatment and research related to addiction studies. As a contributor of the 2015 Kentucky School, KAAP members will receive a registration discount as an incentive to become a member of Kentucky's statewide professional organization for addiction professionals and advocates. Annual membership in KAAP is $110.00 for Professionals, $89.00 for Associates (working toward their LCADC or prevention certification) and $47.50 for student membership.

Information on NAADAC membership and becoming a member of KAAP can be found at www.naadac.org. KAAP members will receive a $100.00 discount for four day registration and a $25.00 discount for daily registration at this year’s Kentucky School. Please contact Mike Townsend to receive your code for discounted registration via email at mike6567@gmail.com. This discount will only apply to NAADAC members who are registered in Kentucky to become members of the Kentucky Association of Addiction Professionals.

On behalf of KAAP, we encourage addiction professionals to become active with KAAP and to become an active member of NAADAC as we move to strengthen the substance abuse field in the coming years.

Mike Townsend

The Grassroots Speaks: The Face and Voice of Recovery

The Power of Our Stories, Transformation from Active Addiction to a Recovered Professional

Sheila Cundiff, LSCW, CADC,
Kent School of Social Work, University of Louisville

1 CEU

5:00 p.m.-6:00 p.m.

Shelia Cundiff is a Coordinator for Field Education and Adjunct Faculty for Kent School of Social Work, University of Louisville. She is the president and owner of two outpatient treatment agencies, All About Change, LLC and Alcohol Education and Counseling Services, INC. She is on the Board of Directors of Beacon House a Half Way House Addictions Program. She has worked in the field of addictions for 15 years. She has a Master of Social Work degree and is a Licensed Clinical Social Worker and a Certified Alcohol and Drug Abuse Counselor. She worked at Jefferson Alcohol and Drug Abuse Center, Louisville, KY in both the Inpatient and Outpatient Units for 15 years. Before her work in the field of addictions she was in the United States Army for 16 years.

This keynote will follow the story of Shelia Cundiff on her path from alcoholism, to recovery, to working as a professional in the field of addiction. Come hear her story of what her recovery process was like, and where she is today. In her keynote, Cundiff will share her journey from growing up around alcohol in rural Kentucky to her addiction in the United States Army. This story can change the stigma around recovery, as Cundiff’s is one of hope and healing. She shows how success is made one day at a time, and is the face and voice of recovery.

Learning Objective:
Audience will learn what skills are needed to be a day at a time recovered person while also learning what it takes to work successfully in the field of addictions.

According to the ACA, It’s a New Healthcare World: Where Do Addiction Services Fit In?

Becky Delozier Vaughn, M.S.Ed, CEO, State Associations of Addiction Services

1 Hour CEU Plenary

9:00 a.m.-10:00 a.m.

Healthcare services are changing at record speed. Changes in insurance, Medicaid, federal funding, workforce requirements, and parity regulations are just a few of the factors impacting service delivery.

What does that mean for us as providers of prevention, treatment and recovery support services? Are these changes threats or opportunities? This session will explore what changes are needed to move from “I can’t” to “I will” and how the SAMHSA-funded BH business project can help.

Objective:

Participants will identify what business practices are needed to transform an agency to take advantage of new funding opportunities.

Becky Delozier Vaughn has been working in the addictions field for over 30 years. She was a member of the founding board of The Georgia Association for the Prevention and Treatment of Substance Abuse (GAPTSa) in 1992 and became their first Executive Director in 1994. Her responsibilities included training and advocacy at the local, state, and national level. In July of 2000 GAPTSa merged with an Atlanta coalition creating The Georgia Council on Substance Abuse where she served as President and CEO until 2007. Her work continued there as an advocate at the Legislature and catalyst in the community on issues related to prevention, treatment, recovery, homelessness, and drug courts with the goal of reducing the impact of substance abuse on GA communities. Her work included passage of many bills addressing substance use disorder solutions as well as securing budget resources. Beginning in 2008 she took over the helm of the State Associations of Addiction Services (SAAS) as their CEO after serving on its Board since 2000. Since the recent merger of SAAS with the National Council for Behavioral Health, Becky is now serving as the newly created VP for Addictions at the Council with a goal of building the addiction presence and services at the Council. She has served on numerous state and federal committees and panels and speaks on the issue in a variety of settings. Becky received her degrees from the University of GA and GA State University. She grew up in Atlanta, but is enjoying being part of the DC community. As a former teacher and the mother of four, she is passionate about preventing and finding solutions to the far-reaching problems caused by untreated addiction.
Workshop Abstracts

M1 - Integrating Spirituality into Addictions and Mental Health Counseling

Mark Sanders, LCSW, CADC

1 Day Workshop • Monday
5 CEUs

Two-thirds of Americans surveyed say they would prefer to work with a therapist who has a spiritual foundation. This interactive, skill-building workshop focuses on strategies to integrate spirituality into addictions and mental health counseling. A partial list of topics include: The Differences between Religion and Spirituality; Integrating Religion and Spirituality with Traditional Addictions and Mental Health Counseling Approaches; Ethics and Spirituality; Conducting a Spiritual Assessment; and Issues of Diversity in Spirituality. Special emphasis will be placed upon working with clients with addictions and mental illnesses.

Objectives:
By the end of this workshop, participants will:
1. Be aware of the differences between religion and spirituality.
2. Be aware of strategies for integrating spirituality into traditional addictions and mental health counseling.
3. Be aware of how to conduct a spiritual assessment.
4. Be aware of ethical principles that can guide the use of spirituality in addictions and mental health counseling.

M2-Ad - Group Counseling for Adolescents: Knowledge and Techniques for Effective Group Leadership

Tony Watkins, M.A., LMFT

1 Day Workshop • Monday
5 CEUs

This training will benefit counselors, social workers, psychologists, marriage and family therapists, and others who lead groups in any setting. This training is taught from the perspective that, in group counseling, the leader is primarily responsible for the planning and implementation of the group. This training will serve as a basic skills training for those who have minimal experience leading groups and as a practical, how-to refresher course for the seasoned counselor. Throughout the training we will discuss and demonstrate different kinds of groups. As participants integrate the skills and techniques presented, they will practice basic and advanced leadership skills during role-play practice opportunities.

Objectives:
1. Participant will receive an overview of effective group leadership.
2. Participant will learn basic and advanced leadership skills for planning & implementing a group.
3. Participant will learn the importance of establishing, holding, and deepening a groups’ focus.
4. Participant will learn techniques to use in a group.
5. Participant will learn techniques to use in leading a group.
M3 - Veterans and Addictions: Homelessness and Post Traumatic Stress Disorder

Sheila Cundiff, LSCW, CADC

1 Day Workshop • Monday
5 CEUs

After more than 14 years of continuous conflict in multiple theaters of deployment our Service Members are returning home. Over 1.1 million Service Members will face the challenge of reintegrating back into society. Many veterans are addicted or will become addicted to alcohol and/or drugs, many will become homeless due to the difficulties with reintegration, and many will suffer and struggle from Post Traumatic Stress Disorder. This workshop will identify some of the struggles, including the impact of homelessness that veterans face upon return from conflict, and will identify strategies to empower professionals to help the healing necessary for our Veterans to re-enter and function well in our communities. The treatment for veterans with addictions and PTSD and the importance of case management services will also be discussed.

Objectives:
1. Participants will gain an understanding of the stigma surrounding addiction treatment for veterans.
2. Participants will gain an understanding of the causes of the increasing number of homeless veterans.
3. Participants will gain an understanding of the importance of case management for veterans.
4. Participants will gain an understanding of the signs and symptoms of PTSD.

M4 - Re-licensure Ethics for Social Work, CADC and Other Counselor Professions (LMFT Not Included)

Geoff Wilson, LCSW, CADC

1 Day Workshop • Monday
5 CEUs

For those practicing in the drug and alcohol treatment field, the ability to maintain professional boundaries with clients and practice from a sound ethical foundation are essential. This program will serve to satisfy continuing education requirements for Social Workers specific to 201 KAR 23:080, as well as for Certified Alcohol and Drug Counselors specific to 201 KAR 35:030, Code of Ethics for Certified Alcohol and Drug Counselors. The agenda for this workshop will include a review of specific mission statements for various disciplines, core values and principles, ethical standards and responsibilities. The ethical decision making process and issues pertaining to dual relationships will be reviewed along with specific case examples. Issues pertaining to counselor burnout, value clarification, boundaries, and responsibility to clients will also be explored.

(Please Note: If you are of another Counselor profession other than Social Work or CADC, we ask that you check with your occupational board to find out if this workshop will meet your requirements. LMFT is not covered by this workshop. Thank you.)

Objectives:
1. Participants will review 201 KAR 23:080 regulation with regard to Social Work ethics, and 201 KAR 35:030 Code of Ethics for Certified Alcohol and Drug Counselors to gain a clear understanding of their content and practice implications.
2. Attendees will discuss what it means to practice ethically and will define who their clients are.
3. Attendees will review and discuss specific case examples that pertain to the Code of Ethics of a variety of disciplines.
4. Attendees will process common experiences that may lead to counselor burn-out and boundary violations.
M5 - Cultivating Best Friends Forever (BFFs) in Healthcare: Integrating with Primary Care

Becky Delozier Vaughn, M.A.Ed.

1 Day Workshop • Monday
5 CEUs

The new healthcare world is all about integration and addressing the needs of the whole person. Access to substance use disorder treatment services is essential to lowering overall healthcare costs. How do we, as providers, demonstrate our value? How does that impact workforce requirements, billing capacity, and contracting ability? How do we move from a siloed system to a community of providers that includes us?

Objectives:
Participants will:
1. Identify components of an accountable care organization.
2. List potential healthcare partners in their community.
3. Develop a list of needs for their agency to prepare for partnering with primary care

M6-Px - Preventing Substance Use Disorders By Taking Action - Social Determinants of Behavioral Health

Ruth Shim, M.D. M.P.H.

1 Day Workshop • Monday
5 CEUs

This interactive workshop will consider the role and responsibility that behavioral health professionals have in addressing policies and politics that are damaging to the behavioral health of our communities. This course describes specific ways to take action on the social determinants of behavioral health, those factors stemming from where we grow, live, work, learn, and age that impact our overall behavioral health and well-being, and those factors that contribute to the development of substance use disorders. Examples of important social determinants of behavioral health include adverse early life experiences, discrimination/racism, poor education, unemployment, and housing instability, to name a few. Although substance use disorders are often underpinned by genetic predisposition, the social determinants of substance use disorders are malleable through clinical, social, and policy interventions. Addressing the social determinants of behavioral health may be one of the most effective ways to promote universal prevention of substance use disorders. The first half of this workshop will discuss the clinical perspective. We will discuss relevant social determinants a behavioral health professional might encounter in the clinical setting, screening tools and assessments that can be used to measure the social determinants in clinical practice, and implementation of interventions designed to address the social determinants of alcohol and drug use. The second half of the workshop will discuss the policy perspective, including those social determinants most influenced by policy interventions, including tips on how behavioral health professionals can advocate and push for legislative changes at the community level. Participants will leave with increased advocacy skills that will help spur action to address the social determinants of behavioral health.

Objectives:
At the completion of this workshop, participants will be able to:
1. Understand the concept of the social determinants of behavioral health.
2. Learn effective interventions that can prevent substance use disorders by addressing the social determinants of behavioral health.
3. Improve advocacy skills and take policy action to prevent substance use disorders in our communities of disciplines.
4. Process common experiences that may lead to counselor burn-out and boundary violations.
M7 - Exploring Peer Support

Andrea Morris, M.S.W., LCSW, M.A.C., LCAS, CSI, DOT SAP

1 Day Workshop • Monday
5 CEUs

As the Recovery Model gains momentum and notoriety in treatment communities, the more pressing it has become that providers gain knowledge and understanding of the true spirit of peer support. Peer Supporters offer a unique and crucial ingredient in the treatment process as they are able to bring “lived experience” and successes to share. Peers model wellness and recovery, and provide an authentic level of empathy to those they serve. In sharing their own stories of courage and resilience, peers offer the very essence of hope, which is a key foundation of wellness. In this presentation, we will explore the true meaning of wellness in community and the premise that “recovery is not only possible, it is probable.”

Objectives:
At the end of this session participants will be able to:
1. Identify recovery and wellness principles.
2. Define the role of Peer Supporters and ten guiding principles.
3. Identify programs and treatment milieus where peers may be effectively utilized.
4. Identify peer training program strengths and areas for growth.
5. Identify ways to partner with peers for an overall cohesive treatment continuum.
6. Gain resources for ongoing peer program development.

M8 - Cognitive Therapy for Addictions

Todd Reynolds, M.S.S.W., CADC

1 Day Workshop • Monday
5 CEUs

Cognitive Therapy is a proven, evidence based practice in working with addictions. This workshop will focus on effective strategies and skills that comprise utilizing cognitive therapy in working with addictions. Cognitive therapy is sometimes called cognitive behavior therapy because the goal is to help people in the ways they think (the cognitive) and in the ways they act (the behavior). It is based on the concept that the way we think about things affects how we feel emotionally and what we do behaviorally. Cognitive therapy focuses on present thinking, behavior, and communication rather than on past experiences and is oriented toward problem solving.

Objectives:
1. Be able to clearly define cognitive therapy.
2. Become comfortable with the use of cognitive therapy in treating people with addictions.
3. Identify the roles of a person’s thoughts, feelings and behavior in treating addictions.
4. Learn at least 3 cognitive therapy skills to utilize with patients with addictions.
M9-Px - Psychoactive Medications: Risks, Benefits and Relationship to Substance Abuse

Demetra Antimisarius, PharmD., CGP, FASCP
1 Day Workshop • Monday
5 CEUs

Understanding pharmacological and physiological aspects of psychoactive medications (both intended and unintended psychoactive) can be valuable to the substance abuse professional. All medications can have effects on the psychological wellbeing of an individual, even if the medications are not labeled as psychoactive. This session will review elements of psychoactive pharmacology, intended and unintended psychoactive medication effects, and the various conditions or circumstances that can lead to unintended psychoactivity of any medications and substances.

Objectives:
1. Describe examples of how psychoactive medications interact with the human nervous system to result in tolerance, neuroplasticity, and toxicity.
2. Name three medications ordinarily considered non-psychoactive which have psychoactive effects.
3. List physiological conditions which can result in increased psychoactive activity of any medication.

M10 - Creating an LGBTQ Safe Space: Inclusivity and Awareness Improve Treatment Outcomes (Lesbian, Gay, Transgender, Questioning)

Ed Johnson, M.Ed., M.A.C., LPC
1 Day Workshop • Monday
5 CEUs

Issues related to sexual orientation and gender identity are routinely not recognized and frequently not addressed in Substance Use Disorders Treatment. Individuals who are Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, Transgender or Questioning (LGBTQ) enter treatment programs with a unique set of challenges. Unaddressed, these issues all too often contribute to unsuccessful treatment outcomes. This didactic and experiential workshop will review the general constructs of sexual orientation and gender identity. It will explore the particular issues and life experiences of this frequently hidden minority that have contributed to the development of substance use disorders. Participants will become familiar with interventions specific to the LGBTQ individuals phase of identity development and will be introduced to ways of creating safe, supportive, affirming and inclusive treatment environments.

Objectives:
At the completion participants will:
1. Understand the difference between sexual orientation and gender identity.
2. Increase their understanding of the impact of trauma on individuals who are LGBTQ and its relationship to unsuccessful treatment outcomes.
3. Be able to identify ways of creating supportive, affirming and inclusive treatment environments and Persistent Depressive Disorder.
M11 - Clinical Challenges: Working with Men in Recovery

Mark Miller, M.A., M.S., LMFT

1 Day Workshop • Monday
5 CEUs

A typical tenet of recovery, whether medically assisted, inpatient, or 12-step peer support is admitting that you have a problem. How does this mesh with how men are taught and encouraged to behave? What particular skills does it take to engage with men and to connect with them? How do we as addiction experts encourage men to consider recovery from a gendered perspective? What does it mean to be a man in terms of being a father, brother, uncle, friend, colleague, lover, husband? How can those various roles help to engage men in treatment and simultaneously pull men away from treatment? Join us for a stimulating conversation about the inherent challenges in working with men who are struggling with addiction and how we might be able to address those challenges.

Objectives:
1. Understand a gendered view of what it means to be a man.
2. Learn techniques for engaging with men.
3. Identify how the disparate roles men play can challenge and reward sobriety at the same time.
4. Identify specific steps to becoming more effective in clinical work.
5. Develop a stronger understanding of the need of effective self-care and clinical supervision in order to be effective as a clinician.

M12-PxAd - Assessment and Treatment of Substance Abuse and Co-Occurring Disorders in Adolescents

Randi Tolliver, Ph.D., CADC

1 Day Workshop • Monday
5 CEUs

Recent studies indicate high rates of co-occurring mental health and substance use disorders in adolescents. Findings also reveal that youth have unique developmental, psychological, and emotional assets and needs that are distinctly different from adults. Therefore, it is important for providers to appropriately assess and offer developmentally appropriate treatment interventions for adolescents with co-occurring mental health and substance use disorders. This workshop will explore adolescent developmental tasks that may complicate the assessment process, explore screening and assessment tools for identifying co-occurring disorders, offer information about effective treatment interventions, and describe the importance of family involvement and care coordination in services for adolescents.

Objectives:
1. Identify key elements of screening and assessment for adolescents.
2. Explore challenges in the assessment and treatment of adolescents with co-occurring disorders as well as strategies to reduce challenges.
3. Describe important components of treatment interventions for programs that provide co-occurring disorder services for adolescents.
4. Discuss the role of the provider, program, and system in the development and delivery of comprehensive and integrated co-occurring disorder capable services for adolescents.
M13 - Shame: The Emotional Energy that Drives Addiction

Jeff Georgi, M.Div., LSAS, LPC, CCS, CGP

1 Day Workshop • Monday
5 CEUs

Shame is a corrosive state of being that sends the message “I am not good enough.” Shame is different from guilt in that the latter is anchored in what we do and the former is tied to who we are or see ourselves to be. As seen through the lens of the biological, psychological, sociological, and spiritual experiential model of addiction, shame is the affective energy that ignites the biology of the disease. Utilizing the works of Heinz Kohut, Sylvan Tompkins, Nathaniel Robinson and Phil Flores, this workshop will examine the origins of shame and its impact on the substance abusing patient. Specific attention will be given to issues of limbic resonance and the potential clinical pitfalls that can damage the therapeutic relationship which is so essential to supporting the recovery of patients with substance use disorders. The implications that shame has on our understanding of prevention and intervention will also be reviewed.

Objectives:
1. Participants will be able to discuss a working definition of shame as an important treatment variable.
2. Participants will be able to examine how best to avoid activating the shame of their clients.
3. Participants will discuss the negative impact of shame upon the therapeutic relationship.
4. Participants will examine the implication of shame as it impacts our implementation of substance abuse prevention and intervention efforts.

MT1 - Intensive Skill Training in Motivational Interviewing (Beginning Course)

Karen Garrity, MS.Ed., NCC, LPCC, CADC

2 Day Workshop • Monday & Tuesday
10 CEUs

This two-day training is a skill-based strengths training that focuses on skill-building for direct practice staff working with challenging clients. The information will be presented over two days, utilizing multimedia presentations, interactive lecture and facilitated small and large group exercises. A mixture of small group discussions, videos, case scenarios and full room exercises keep the training pace lively and engaging.

The emphasis for this training is on skill-building and “theory-to-practice” group work for direct application of these various curriculums.

Objectives:
Upon completion, participants attending this training will be able to:
1. Define and understand the spirit and processes of motivational interviewing.
2. Understand the spirit and processes of motivational interviewing that increase client-staff rapport and increase the client’s readiness to change.
3. Be able to demonstrate, in direct practice, resistant-lowering techniques that will improve the engagement of reluctant clients.
4. Be able to identify activities that will continue the skills development of MI.
MT2 - Neurobiology for Addiction, Mental Health and Criminal Justice Professionals

C.C. Nuckols, Ph.D.

2 Day Workshop • Monday & Tuesday
10 CEUs

This practical training will assist clinicians in their understanding of brain origin and faulty circuits involved in commonly treated disorders such as addiction, PTSD, OCD, ASPD and depression. From this understanding, the clinician can better understand how wellness, psychotherapy and pharmacotherapy aid in the recovery of their clients. To just learn neuroanatomy is futile and to understand neurobiology as it relates to disorders and therapeutic intervention is exciting.

Also of importance is the understanding of unconscious and conscious brain processes and how problems of development, such as early life developmental trauma and early alcohol and drug usage, interfere with the normal trajectory of prefrontal cortical development.

Objectives:
Upon completion of this course, participants will be able to:

1. Improve client compliance by explaining the neurobiology of both the client’s condition and need for following through on the intervention.
2. Understand how many psychiatric disorders involve faulty circuits-problems with communication between various brain areas.
3. Explain the genetic and species specific role of the unconscious brain and how it relates to addiction and trauma.
4. Describe the functions of the prefrontal cortex (orbitofrontal cortex, anterior cingulate gyrus and dorsolateral prefrontal cortex) and how delayed development is associated with many clinical problems (ADHD and personality immaturity for example).
5. Understand relationships between many different neural areas that help us understand the “seeking” of reward and brain lateralization (Right and Left Hemisphere).
6. Better understand the therapeutic relationship and how “healing” involves Right Hemisphere to Right Hemisphere “resonance”.

ME1 - On Life’s Terms: Mothers in Recovery – A Documentary film by Sheila Ganz

Facilitator: Katie Stratton, M.S., LPCA

1 Evening Workshop • Monday
2 CEUs

The 57 minute documentary by filmmaker Sheila Ganz, On Life’s Terms: Mothers in Recovery, elevates the voices of five mothers battling substance use addiction in a gender responsive residential treatment program in San Rafael, California. Their intimate story reveals experiences with domestic violence, inter-generational family issues, prostitution and incarceration. In the desire for custody of their children they transform their lives over three years through self-sufficiency and new found pride refuting the stigma and drug laws impacting women and children and will inspire hope for recovery. This timely film addresses the broader issues of Treatment Works and Family Preservation is Prevention by breaking the cycle of addiction, abuse and poverty. To view the trailer visit: http://www.onlifeterms.org.

Objectives:

1. Will gain insight of the unique needs and concerns faced by pregnant and parenting women with drug addictions.
2. Will gain an understanding and reduction of pre-existing stigma of mothers with substance use addictions through increased awareness of underlying issues that include reproductive rights, family preservation and reunification.
3. Will gain understanding of gender response residential treatment programs with comprehensive wrap-around services.
4. Will deepen understanding of the importance that the mothers gain through recovery, parenting and life-skills while having their young children with them.

ME2 - Kentucky Adolescent Substance Abuse Consortium Annual Meeting
Guest Contributor: Ginny Sprang, Ph.D
with the University of Kentucky Dept.
of Psychiatry “Adolescents, Trauma and Adverse Childhood Experiences (ACES)”

Facilitator: Robert Daniels, M.A. and Geoff Wilson, LCSW, CADC

1 Evening Workshop • Monday
2 CEUs

Objectives:
1. Audience members will increase their knowledge regarding trauma with youth and the negative impact this trauma may have on short and long-term functioning.
2. Audience members will increase their knowledge regarding what Adverse Childhood Experiences are and their impact on the individual that has experienced them.

TP-Px - Current State of Research in Prevention Practice

John Clapp, Ph.D., FAAHB

1 Hour Plenary • 1 CEU
9:00 a.m.-10:00 a.m.

This presentation addresses the current state of prevention science as it relates to AOD. Issues concerning evidence-based programs, using data to plan prevention, evaluation and the like will be discussed.

Learning Objective:
Participants will learn about the current issues in prevention science related to professional practice.

Dr. John D. Clapp is currently Professor and Associate Dean for Research and Faculty Development at The Ohio State University, College of Social Work. He is also currently the director of Higher Education Center for Alcohol and Drug Abuse Prevention and Recovery located at OSU.

Dr. Clapp has published more than 90 journal articles with his work appearing in the Journal of Studies on Alcohol and Drugs, Addiction, Drug and Alcohol Dependence among numerous other top research journals. He has been awarded over $32 million in grants and contracts (NIAAA, NIDA, U.S. Department of Education, Conrad N. Hilton Foundation) and has been Principal Investigator on over 20 funded projects.

Dr. Clapp is currently conducting research with partners in The Ohio State University College of Engineering related to computational simulation of dynamic drinking events. A Fellow in the American Academy of Health Behavior, he serves on the National Advisory Council, Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services, Center for Substance Abuse Prevention.

WORKSHOP ABSTRACTS

T1 - Cultural Competency in Addictions Treatment

Mark Sanders LCSW, CADC

1 Day Workshop • Tuesday
5 CEUs

In this workshop participants will leave with tools that will enable them to work more effectively with chemically dependent clients from diverse backgrounds. A partial list of topics include: The 10 Characteristics of Culturally Competent Addictions Counselors; A Strength-based Approach to Working with Clients from Diverse Backgrounds; Evidence-based Models of Recovery from the Native American, Faith-based, Peer-based, and Other Communities; How to Move Beyond First Impressions; Engaging Clients from Diverse Backgrounds within the First 5 Minutes of Contact; Facilitating Therapy Groups with Multicultural Memberships; How to Utilize Countertransference Reactions as a Gift in Cross-cultural Counseling; How to Assure the Clinician’s Biases, Assumptions, and Stereotypes Do Not Negatively Affect the Counseling Relationship; and Developing Cultural Proficiency, the Highest Level of a Cultural Competence Continuum.

Objectives:
By the end of this workshop, participants:
1. Be aware of 10 characteristics of culturally competent addictions counselors.
2. Be aware of 5 strategies for building rapport with chemically dependent clients from diverse backgrounds within the first 5 minutes of contact.
3. Be aware of how to utilize countertransference reactions as a gift.
4. Be aware of how to move toward cultural proficiency in clinical practice.

T2 - Helping Women Recover, A Program for Treating Addiction (Based on Dr. Stephanie Covington’s Manualized Curriculum)

Twyla Wilson, LCSW

1 Day Workshop • Tuesday
5 CEUs

Over the past thirty years our knowledge of women’s lives has increased drastically, and we have added significantly to our understanding of the treatment needs of chemically dependent women. Based on Dr. Covington’s treatment curriculum Helping Women Recover: A Program for Treating Addiction, the workshop offers a comprehensive treatment model that integrates theories of addiction, women’s psychological development, and trauma. Designed to give counselors, clinicians, recovering women, and others a basic understanding of the current knowledge related to addiction, the workshop focuses primarily on women’s recovery. The workshop emphasizes the key issues of self, relationships, sexuality, spirituality, and the therapeutic techniques for dealing with these issues. Throughout the workshop, Dr. Covington also discusses how the treatment program materials can be used with women in the criminal justice system, the most hidden group of women in our society.

Objectives:
1. Discuss the history of women’s treatment.
2. Integrate current theoretical perspectives.
3. Exine the multiple issues in women’s recovery.
4. Demonstrate specific treatment strategies.
5. Increase participants’ understanding of the needs of incarcerated women.
6. Identify the roles of a person’s thoughts, feelings and behavior in treating addictions and trauma.
7. Learn cognitive therapy skills to utilize with patients with addictions and trauma.
T3 - Craving Management

Jeff Georgi, M.Div., LSAS, LPC, CCS, CGP
1 Day Workshop • Tuesday
5 CEUs

Program Description: The DSM-5 has added craving as a major symptom of addiction, making it more important than ever to incorporate craving management at all levels of treatment intervention. For too long, we have focused on relapse prevention utilizing a cognitive model to serve our patients. Such interventions focus on engaging the frontal cortex in an effort to “out think” potential relapse. As we continue to learn more about the many pathways of addiction, it is clear that much of the energy for this illness comes from within the limbic system. When a craving strikes, the patient, much like a PTSD event, encounters a limbic storm which can literally take the frontal cortex off line. Reason and thinking simply are not enough. We need to arm our patients with craving management tools that they can use to “act” their way through the intensity of the craving experience.

Objectives:
1. Participants will have a good working definition of craving.
2. Participants will discuss the limitations of the relapse prevention approach which focuses primarily on neocortical interventions.
3. Participants will examine specific techniques to help patients “act” through a craving.
4. Participants will examine how to formulate appropriate client involved treatment plans.

T4 - Medication Assisted Treatment: Getting it Right

Debbie Acker, R.N., CFN
Mark Fisher, M.S.
Jeanne Keen, R.N., CADC, M.S.
1 Day Workshop • Tuesday
5 CEUs

This training is designed to assist the participant in developing a greater knowledge and understanding of medication assisted treatment as the gold standard treatment for opiate addicted individuals. We will begin by reviewing the history of opioids and their impact on society. We will then discuss the Medication Assisted Treatment programs in Kentucky to gain an understanding of the programs and their treatment protocols. We will focus specifically on medication assisted treatment and the pregnant woman, discussing Methadone, Subutex, and Suboxone as treatment for the pregnant woman.

Objectives:
1. Review the history of opioid addiction and discuss what is happening today in Kentucky.
2. Discuss the disease of addiction and available treatments.
3. Understand Kentucky’s Medication Assisted Treatment programs.
4. Discuss the medications available to treat opioid addiction including the risks and benefits of utilizing these medications during pregnancy.
5. To be able to implement Trauma-Informed Care principles in case management.
6. To identify and implement effective self-care techniques for the case manager.
T5-PxAd - Intermediate to Advanced Motivational Interviewing for Skill Development and Supervision

Annie Fahy, RN, LCSW

1 Day Workshop • Tuesday
5 CEUs

Working issues of a behavior or lifestyle change in patients takes flexibility and innovation as well as solid skills in Motivational Interviewing (MI) and health coaching. This workshop will offer skills and practice opportunities to think and speak Motivational Interviewing. Using practice opportunities to work through difficult presentations and stuck places that patients operate from, improves skills and resiliencies in the worker. Additionally, observed practice, coaching with feedback is recognized in research as the best practice method for creating full implementation culture change to MI as well as a higher level of confidence in the skills (Miller, W. R., et al., 2004 Fixsen, D.L., et al., 2009). This workshop will supplement MI Basics for those who have experience and training using and developing MI protocols. Clinicians will gain many great ideas for implementing MI culture in a variety of health care settings. Incorporating MI into practice and work settings provides professionals with ways to address behavior change in a “patient/client centered” way.

Objectives:

1. Review and practice basic skills, Open questions, Affirmations, Reflections & Summaries (OARS), & Elaboration questions, Affirmations, Reflections & Summaries (EARS).
2. Understand the research that supports ongoing training and coaching for implementing MI in healthcare culture.
3. Practice specific evocation skills that create and reinforce change talk.
4. Develop skills for addressing and managing sustain talk, discord and other barriers to change.
5. Gain understanding and develop skills of self evaluation and other evaluation using MITI 4 coding principles.
6. Create personal learning plan.

T6-Px - Marijuana Trending, Marijuana Misuse, Medicine and Legalization - Helping Communities and Clients Sail the Rhetorical Seas

Allan Barger, M.S.W.

1 Day Workshop • Tuesday
5 CEUs

Have you ever had a client tell you marijuana is good medicine, a beneficial herb, and that people are being thrown into jail by a draconian government out to get them? Are people in your communities persuaded that marijuana is relatively safe and should be legalized, taxed and made widely available? These ideas and attitudes impact both community prevention efforts and client treatment. This session explores current medical cannabis policy initiatives, marijuana legalization issues and a variety of negative health outcomes documented in research. It relates how we help communities and individual clients better understand the issues, explore their attitudes and beliefs before choosing what is in their own best interests. (NOTE: Images of marijuana used in this presentation could create craving in cannabis dependent individuals.)

Objectives:

Those attending will:

1. Learn the information and beliefs expressed on the Internet, in communities and by clients that hamper both prevention and treatment efforts.
2. Explore 4 risks of marijuana use supported in research;
3. Explore the accuracy of 3 arguments people are given for marijuana legalization.
4. Develop responses to help communities and clients move beyond the rhetoric and their own defenses.
T7 - Foundation Skills for Substance Abuse Counseling

Mark Miller, M.A., M.S., LMFT

1 Day Workshop • Tuesday
5 CEUs

This workshop is for new counselors entering the treatment field or for counselors that are beginning to see more addiction clients on their caseloads and want to be more effective with this population. Utilizing TAP 21: Addiction Counseling Competencies, pertinent aspects of assessment, diagnosis, and treatment planning will be reviewed. Techniques for engaging clients and their families and running effective treatment groups will be explored. Utilizing interventions that correspond to a client’s stage of change will also be reviewed.

Objectives:
1. Explore their professional readiness to work effectively with the addiction population.
2. Review a variety of Practice Dimensions, along with evidence-based practices for treating the addiction population.
3. Review techniques to enhance engagement with clients and how to formulate appropriate client involved treatment plans.

T8-Px - SBIRT Models on Campus in the Context of Comprehensive Program

John Clapp, Ph.D., FAAHB

1 Day Workshop • Tuesday
5 CEUs

This workshop will detail a comprehensive prevention model for campus alcohol-problems. The model will include several evidence-based policies and programs and discuss planning, resource allocation, implementation, and evaluation. Special attention will be given to SBIRT in the overall context of all prevention efforts.

Objectives:
1. Participants will learn the elements of a comprehensive prevention program.
2. Participants will learn how to design an SBIRT program.
3. Participants will learn the differences between SBIRT and commercial software packages.
T9-Px - Transforming Health: Using system thinking to create vibrantly effective prevention systems that can significantly improve health and well-being

Laurie Barger Sutter, MCRP, BSAS, B.A.

1 Day Workshop • Tuesday

5 CEUs

Systems thinking is providing new insights about the most effective ways to address complex problems that are intertwined with, and often rooted in, other afflictions and conditions. These syndemics—or synergistically ‘linked epidemics’—create a burden of disease that far exceeds the effect of each affliction added together and impacts multiple sectors and disciplines. Preventing a syndemic requires not only preventing or controlling each individual problem, but also the forces that tie those problems together. This, in turn, requires a close, multi-sector coordination of efforts between partners and stakeholders and a comprehensive array of strategies. When done well, this approach can generate significant outcomes across problems very quickly (as little as one to two years) and often for very small investments of funding.

The purpose of this session is to help prevention practitioners and their partners begin to use system science and theory to achieve population-level improvements in health and well-being; primarily through the development of effective, multi-sector prevention systems. Specifically, the tools and frameworks introduced in this session will help participants begin to: 1) identify, mobilize and convene needed partners and resources based on shared linkages between substance abuse and other social and public health issues; and 2) develop effective, multi-sector prevention systems that can set collective priorities, access a diverse array of resources, and design, implement and evaluate comprehensive initiatives across sectors at all levels.

Because intervening effectively in a community or similar “system” requires an in-depth understanding of how the system ‘works,’ the session will include an emphasis on “place-based” approaches which address multiple factors, including: history, culture, and values; the relationships between individuals and institutions; the economic and political climate; the demographics of resident populations; the capacity, readiness, and political will of members and leaders to define certain behaviors or conditions as problematic and act to address them; and the resources that are available to support action.

Participants will engage in interactive discussion to identify how the theories, tools and frameworks might be used or adapted within their own service areas, and explore examples of how others have used them to achieve significant health outcomes.

Objectives:
Participants will be able to:
1. Explain how systems science can be used to understand and prevent problems related to substance abuse.
2. Describe the phenomenon of a syndemic (i.e., synergistically linked health and social problems) and how it can best be prevented or reduced.
3. Explain how systems theory can be used to create effective, multi-sector prevention system infrastructure.
4. Describe key indicators for multi-sector prevention system development.
T10-PxAd - The Adolescent Brain: Expectations and Frustrations: The Experience-Dependent Brain and Drug Use

Jonathan Cloud, B.A., B.A.

1 Day Workshop • Tuesday

5 CEUs

This workshop takes participants beyond “the science of addiction” and its useful focus on the neural mechanisms of addiction. It uses interactive approaches to provide a deeper understanding of the adolescent quest for three types of intense experiences. These experiences are associated with three innate survival or well-being traits and, as such, are keys to growth and development. From this perspective, a vulnerable youth is one for whom the use and/or abuse of alcohol and other drugs is adaptive in that it offers or facilitates intense experiences, and such experiences are critical to well-being. This workshop explores this conundrum and lays out exciting prevention and intervention strategies that utilize approach goals and behaviors rather than avoidance goals and behaviors. Practical examples are provided for training and empowering youth to create the experiences that their brains have prepared them to expect. The workshop shows how these experiences activate a remarkable level of cognition capable of discerning that drug experiences cannot adequately meet well-being needs and goals.

Objectives:

1. Able to explain three hardwired survival traits and related instinctive quests for certain types of experiences that influence how youth learning, choice-making, and behavior work, and how the brain prepares youth to expect these experiences.

2. Understand how frustration from not engaging in the experiences being sought after affects brain development and architecture and negatively affects well-being, need satisfaction, and goal attainment.

3. Understand the developmental perspective of vulnerability in terms of the extent to which the drug use experience, though highly inferior to the experiences innately sought after by youth, is adaptive in light of unfulfilled expectations.

4. Able to identify the four major brain systems and how they develop and interrelate for positive adaptation to adverse circumstances (i.e., resiliency) and how this inherent capacity is the key to prevention and intervention.

5. Able to use a research-informed framework to guide interactions with adolescents and the development of informal and formal plans of care to support resiliency and growth.

T11 - Understanding the Cultures of Addiction and Criminality

Micahel Johnson, LSW, LMSW

1 Day Workshop • Tuesday

5 CEUs

The training discusses the parallels of addiction and criminality and the developmental processes leading to these lifestyles. The training addresses the impact of eroding values, changing norms, shifting attitudes and the perceptions of what is normal in the view of the addicted/offender. Its focus is on the anti-social characteristics of the offender and its impact on resistance, relapse and recidivism.

Objectives:

1. How to identify the “primary diagnosis” of the client, as with many offenders their criminality is the primary problem which follows from drug and alcohol use.

2. Assist counselors in developing a treatment plan which has an improved usefulness to both the therapist and client.

3. Explain that the addict and offender is also enmeshed in lifestyle behaviors that can influence self-defeating behaviors and impede the process of recovery.

4. Provides insight concerning the bivalence that this population presents in therapy.

5. Discuss the importance of continuity of care, e.g., the role of the treatment, parole/probation officers and out-patient therapists.
TW1-PxAd - Motivational Interviewing for Adolescents (Beginning to Intermediate)

Rose Golden, M.S.W.

2 Day Workshop • Tuesday/Wednesday
10 CEUs

This is an introductory to intermediate level, interactive workshop to learn the basic clinical style of motivational interviewing (MI). “Motivational Interviewing is a collaborative conversation style for strengthening a person’s own motivation and commitment to change.” After orientation to the underlying spirit and principles of MI, interactive exercises help participants to reinforce empathy skill, recognize and elicit client change talk, and roll with resistance.

Objectives:
1. To understand the fundamental spirit and principles of MI.
2. To strengthen empathetic counseling skills (OARS).
3. To understand the directive aspects of MI.
4. To experience and practice an MI style for meeting resistance.
5. To recognize and effectively respond to client change talk.

TW2 - Best Practices in Clinical Supervision (Note: ends at 5:45 p.m. each day)

Geoff Wilson, LCSW, CADC

2 Day Workshop • Tuesday/Wednesday
12 CEUs

The training fulfills the clinical supervision requirements outlined in 908 KAR 1:310 and 908 KAR 1:370.

Audience: This class is for those who have experience in the field of addictions and who are entering role of clinical supervisor or who would like to improve on their clinical supervision skills.

This is a two day workshop offering 12 CEUs beginning at 10:30 and ending at 5:45 p.m. each day--6 hours each day.

It will provide attendees with an in-depth overview of what clinical supervision is in practice. Various models of supervision will be reviewed along with how a particular supervision model may best fit a supervisor. Specific issues that clinical supervisors are often confronted with will be discussed in an in-depth fashion (program morale issues, supervisees that may not want to be supervised, ethical issues, etc.) This is an interactive workshop where attendees will have the opportunity to establish and improve on practical clinical supervision skills.

Objectives:
1. Explore the path that individuals often take to becoming a clinical supervisor.
2. Discuss stages of change for individuals becoming effective clinical supervisors and specific techniques to maintain effectiveness.
3. Review various models of clinical supervision and identify techniques that can enhance approaches to becoming more effective.
4. Discuss common pitfalls that clinical supervisors often are addressing and ways to effectively address them.
5. Addressing problematic supervisees will be explored along with an emphasis on effective feedback by clinical supervisors.
6. The difference between case management, case staffing, and “spending 8 hours with supervisees and counting it as supervision” vs. actual clinical supervision will be highlighted.
TE2-Px- Changing Negative Attitudes, Language Matters

Tom Coderree, B.A.

Senior Advisor to the Administrator
Substance Abuse & Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA)

1 Hour Banquet Presentation • 1 CEU

6-7 p.m.

Tom Coderre will discuss how language shapes perception and perception influences actions. He will explore behavioral health messaging in the context of individual health behaviors, clinical practice, and policy making. His presentation will include examples from the popular media as well as scientific and policy forums. The Keynote will highlight behavioral health, prevention, treatment, and recovery from addiction.

Objectives:
1. Understand how to discuss the basic scientific principles of substance use disorders using a non-stigmatizing and person-centered approach.
2. Learn techniques for adapting the language you use when talking about the treatment of substance use disorders including Medication Assisted Treatment (MAT).
3. Acquire an awareness of how language shapes perception, and perception influences health policy, practice, and health behaviors.

Well known in the addiction recovery community, Tom was Chief of Staff to the Rhode Island Senate President prior to joining SAMHSA as a Senior Advisor to the Administrator at the end of August 2014. He served as the Board Chair for Rhode Island Communities for Addiction Recovery Efforts (RICARES), and he is the former National Field Director of Faces & Voices of Recovery. Tom has an extensive background in government and served in the Rhode Island Senate from 1995-2003. He is a graduate of Rhode Island College where he earned his Bachelor's degree in Political Science. Some of you may recognize him from a recent documentary about the recovery movement, The Anonymous People.

Tom works on a variety of issues for SAMHSA and the Administrator, including but not limited to prevention, treatment and recovery programs and policy. He is coordinating collaboration on these issues and representing SAMHSA with other HHS offices and operating divisions, and with the White House. Due to the recent retirement of Dr. Westley Clark, Tom will also advise the Acting Director of CSAT during the search and transition of a new director.

Tom is the recipient of many awards and honors for his service including the 2007 Path to Recovery Award from A New Path, the 2009 National Advocate of the Year award from RICARE’s, the 2011 Community Awareness Award from the Foundation for Recovery, the 2012 James H. Ottmar Award from the RI Council on Alcoholism & Other Drug Dependence and the 2013 Vernon Johnson Award from Faces & Voices of Recovery. He is a passionate advocate and committed public servant who will no doubt be a tremendous asset to SAMHSA as they continue the important work of crafting effective public policy to reduce the impact of substance abuse and mental illness on America’s communities.

C.C. Nuckols, Ph.D.

1 Hour CEU Plenary
9 a.m.-10 a.m.

Experience the awareness and awakening of your healing SELF in this powerful program for those who are seeking to enhance their healing potential. This skills building training will increase your clinical effectiveness.

It has been stated that as much as 75% of recovery from psychiatric (psychological) disorders such as depression is attributable to the various aspects of the relationship between therapist and patient. Evidence-based approaches are important but without the creation of a healing relationship compliance is uncertain and effectiveness marginal, at best.

The skills training event will help participants learn to take advantage of their natural healing potential. The neurobiology behind this potential will be explained in detail.

Objectives:
Upon completion the participant will be able to:
1. Understand the relationship between the clinician and the patient as a dance of attachment.
2. Describe entrainment and why those with problems generally solve them on their own while in your presence.
3. Discuss how the patient's "expectations" are such an important aspect of healing.

Dr. Cardwell C. Nuckols is described as “one of the most influential clinical and spiritual trainers in North erica.” Dr. Nuckols' passion and mission is to assist in the integration of emerging scientific research with traditional spiritual and self-help knowledge. From this integration comes knowledge, inspiration and technique helpful to those whose practice assists alcoholics, addicts and other mental health patients find healing and their personal road to recovery.

Dr. Nuckols is widely published, having authored more than 60 journal articles, 30 books and workbooks, 50 DVDs, CDs and videos, and 25 audiotape series. His latest publication is entitled The Ego-Less SELF: Achieving Peace and Tranquility Beyond All Understanding. Dr. Nuckols' first book Cocaine: Dependency to Recovery, is a trade best seller, as are, his booklets Quitting Heroin, Quitting Alcohol and Quitting Marijuana (Hazelden) and Healing the Angry Heart.

Dr. Nuckols' formal educational background includes advanced work in such areas as medical research, pharmacology, neurobiology, education and psychology. His personal spiritual path has involved studies into various spiritual traditions predominately early Contemplative Christianity.

For more than 30 years, he has gratefully served the healthcare industry in multiple capacities as a clinician, supervisor, program director and hospital administrator. During his career Dr. Nuckols has been awarded national honors including the SECAD, Swinyard, University of Utah School on Alcohol and Other Drug Studies Service Award and Gooderham award, as well as, being recognized for his contributions to The American Society of Addiction Medicine's Patient Placement Criteria. Dr. Nuckols is on the review board of Counselor Magazine and serves as the conference chairperson for national conferences including the US Journal offerings “Neuroscience Meets Recovery”, and “Clinical Skills.”
W1-Px - The Female Brain and Substance Use Disorders: Implications for Prevention, Intervention and Treatment

Jeff Georgi, M.Div., LSAS, LPC, CCS, CGP

1 Day Workshop • Wednesday
5 CEUs

This workshop will be an overview of the emerging information that identifies the unique aspects of the female brain and the significance of limbic resonance giving a biological foundation for the relational nature of recovery. Despite the growing sensitivity to the importance of gender specific treatment far too many models of treatment still find their theoretical foundations in the male experience. Utilizing the works of Louanne Brizendine, M.D., author of The Female Brain, Nancy Andreasen, M.D., Ph.D, author of the Brave New Brain, Candice B. Pert, Ph.D., author of Molecules of Emotion and other important Neuroscientists, participants will be provided with a review of the female brain and a discussion of the treatment implications.

Objectives:
1. Participants will review the emerging understanding of the female brain.
2. Participants will be able to discuss the treatment implications specific to the female brain.
3. Participants will be provided the opportunity to discuss the importance of relationships for women in recovery.

W2-Ad - Establishing Trust, Rapport and Therapeutic Relationships in Adolescent Substance Abuse Treatment

Mark Sanders, LCSW, CADC

1 Day Workshop • Wednesday
5 CEUs

Adolescents are often difficult to engage in addictions treatment because they view the presenting problem (their addiction) as the solution to their problems. In this workshop you will learn strategies for building rapport, building trust, and engaging adolescents in addictions counseling within the first 5 minutes of contact, a strength-based approach to engaging adolescents in addictions counseling, strategies for turning an involuntary adolescent client into a voluntary client, evidence-based approaches to client engagement, rapport building, and change, and the use of motivational incentives to decrease resistance with adolescents with substance use disorders.

Objectives:
By the end of the workshop, participants will:
1. Be aware of 5 strategies for building rapport with adolescents within the first 5 minutes of contact.
2. Be aware of 7 strength-based questions that are effective in engaging adolescents in addictions treatment.
3. Be aware of the benefits of using motivational incentives to decrease resistance to counseling and facilitate change among adolescents with substance use disorders.
W3 - Beyond Trauma: A Healing Journey for Women

Twyla Wilson, LCSW

1 Day Workshop • Wednesday
5 CEUs

While research and clinical experience indicate a high incidence of co-occurring disorders in women’s lives, counselors and clinicians often struggle with the realities of providing treatment. This workshop is based on a woman-centered trauma treatment curriculum, Beyond Trauma, designed for use in outpatient, residential, and criminal justice settings.

Cognitive-behavioral techniques, mindfulness, expressive arts, and the principles of relational therapy are integrated in this strength-based approach. The curriculum also has a psycho-educational component that teaches women what trauma is, its process, and its impact on both the inner self (thoughts, feelings, beliefs, values) and the outer self (behavior and relationships, including parenting). The training includes interactive exercises that demonstrate techniques that counselors can use to help clients develop coping skills, as well as emotional wellness. In addition, there is a segment on specific issues in criminal justice settings. The abbreviated 5-session version entitled Healing Trauma is also discussed.

Topics
- Developing gender-responsive services
- Connection between trauma, mental health, and substance abuse trauma-informed services
- Gender differences in terms of risk and response
- Triggers and retraumatization
- Emotional development
- Secondary traumatic stress
- Specific concerns and challenges in criminal justice settings

Objectives:
1. Understand the historical background of trauma.
2. Explore the connection between addiction, trauma, and mental health.
3. Discuss gender differences.
4. Explicate the process of trauma.
5. Provide specific therapeutic interventions.

W4 - How to Implement The New ASAM Criteria - Skill Building in an Era of Health Care Reform

Dr. David Mee-Lee

1 Day Workshop • Wednesday
5 CEUs

The new edition of the ASAM Criteria was released October 2013. This workshop will identify what is new and how to implement ASAM Criteria principles of continuum of care, levels of care, clinically driven, individualized treatment and recovery-oriented systems of care. Focus will be on how to carefully assess clients in a multidimensional way; design outcomes-driven service plans in an era of healthcare reform; and effectively manage care using the ASAM Criteria.

Clinicians involved in planning and managing care often lack a common language and systematic assessment and treatment approach that allows for effective, individualized treatment plans. The ASAM Criteria provides this common language. It helps manage care through person-centered treatment planning and broadening services to provide a more flexible continuum of care.

Objectives:
Participants will:
1. Identify the underlying principles and changes in the new edition of the ASAM Criteria.
2. Apply case material to organize multidimensional data to individualize treatment and placement.
3. Discuss how to use the ASAM Criteria in developing, implementing and managing person-centered recovery plans in an era of healthcare reform based on community prevention goals.
W5-PX - Transforming Health: Using data to strategically diagnose community substance abuse problems and significantly improve health and well-being

Laurie Barger Sutter, MCRP, BSAS, B.A.

1 Day Workshop • Wednesday
5 CEUs

This is a “roll up your sleeves” session designed to help prevention practitioners and other behavioral health professionals become skilled community diagnosticians who can: 1) uncover the relationships between community substance abuse-related problems and the factors and intervening variables that cause them to arise, and 2) turn data into actionable information and use it to significantly improve community health and well-being.

Overly broad assessment and unfocused assessment processes can lead to “analysis paralysis” and loss of momentum and interest among partners and stakeholders. On the other hand, the lack of objective assessment and data-driven planning processes often result in ineffective efforts that are unable to achieve desired outcomes. In this session, participants will learn how to: 1) prioritize assessment activities, 2) identify and collect the most essential assessment data, and, 3) drill down strategically and efficiently through data to identify the most important leverage points that need to be targeted in order to achieve their desired outcomes.

The session will also include tips for addressing gaps in data and using common assessment measures to identify possible emerging issues. The session will also take participants through the initial stages of using data to plan their initiatives, including developing a solid problem statement and using data to identify the characteristics of the target populations that most need to be reached in order to achieve outcomes.

The session will combine presentation with interactive discussion and small group work to allow participants to apply the concepts of assessment using real data sets. Toward that end, participants are highly encouraged to bring a list of priority community problems related to substance abuse as well as any local data collected on those problems, local consumption or use of substances, and local intervening variables/underlying factors associated with substance abuse.

Objectives:
Participants will be able to:
1. Describe the stages of an efficient, effective and strategic assessment process.
2. Explain how different measures and types of data can be used to diagnose priority problems, identify possible emerging issues, and determine an effective course of action.
3. Describe effective strategies for addressing gaps in data.
4. Explain strategic processes for using data to develop a compelling and effective problem statement and identify the key target populations that need to be reached.
This presentation focuses on the developmental, emotional, and mental (psychological) ability of youth to respond appropriately to issues facing them today. Adults must understand that all youth don’t develop at the same rate. Information, programs and conversation has to be developmentally appropriate - a child who doesn’t possess the “ability to respond appropriately” may not know that he/she doesn’t know what they don’t know. This session aids in explaining this concept to adults who serve youth. Ideas about creatively resolving conflict and dealing with anger are explored. Participants are encouraged to understand the importance of making sure prevention and education efforts are developmentally appropriate per individual as we also consider risks and protective factors regarding benefits/consequences of concentrating on the “Response Ability” of the youth served.

Increasingly, more communities are feeling the impact of youth who have little or no support system - no village. It is important that more individuals understand and comprehend their role in the village’s future, particularly the young who will eventually grow up to make a contribution. It makes the entire village stronger when youth have the proper tools and support to be successful at home, in school and in life. Whatever their role everyone desires safer neighborhoods, good educational opportunities, and brighter futures for our children. Youth should know that adults are there for them as much as possible. However, to have a positive impact on the lives of our youngest villagers, individuals need to develop their “response ability” by better understanding youth culture and what influences it. This workshop engages participants in the exploration of the youth culture through language, music and trends to develop a working knowledge base of how to better serve their young villagers. Youth culture is identified as a viable resource to affect a solution versus being seen as a problem. This fun, interactive and inspiring workshop can equip willing participants with valuable, practical information that can be combined with other community and organizational prevention and intervention efforts. Recognizing and identifying your “response ability” can help get everyone one step closer to making a difference!

Objective:
At the end of this session participants will be able to:
1. Explain the concept of Ability to Respond Appropriately.
2. Discuss Developmentally Appropriate Choices and Decisions.
3. List/discuss strategies to improve “Thought Process”.

Marc Fomby, CPS
1 Day Workshop • Wednesday

W7 - Addiction 101: Understanding the Basics of Treatment and Recovery for Addiction Professionals

Sheila Cundiff, LCSW, CADC

1 Day Workshop • Wednesday
5 CEUs

This course is based on the disease model of addictions and reinforces the 12-step recovery process. This workshop provides participants information to assess, increase, grasp and develop an understanding of addiction and the process of recovery. This workshop will focus on the disease model of addiction and its effect on the brain. The workshop is designed to assist participants in evaluating their own thoughts and beliefs about addiction. The instructor will also present and discuss working definitions for addiction and recovery, along with demonstrating techniques and strategies for identifying and decreasing denial.

Objectives:
Upon completion of this workshop, participants will:
1. Learn about addictions and their effect on the brain and the progressive nature of the disease.
2. Learn the use and interpretation of an addiction progression chart.
3. Be introduced to the technique of using the stages of recovery chart and theory.
4. Be introduced to strategies for identifying and decreasing denial.
5. Have a general understanding of the tools for screening and assessment and a basic understanding of the importance of a 12 Step model in the recovery process.

W8 - Simple But Not Easy: Harm Reduction Skills with Case Consultation

Annie Fahy, R.N., LCSW

1 Day Workshop • Wednesday
5 CEUs

Harm Reduction (HR) has long been a public health and treatment response to substance use and other high risk behaviors. Many providers consider that there are two basic approaches to recovery. An “all or nothing” approach that requires abstinence at the outset of treatment and a harm reduction approach that promotes safety, risk management, continued engagement and a collaborative climate for change.

Harm Reduction modalities are the treatment of choice when working with chronic substance issues and have relevance when clients present with co-occurring conditions such as PTSD, chronic pain and other mental health conditions. Providers of these services often walk on a high wire of encouraging abstinence because the stakes are so high and promoting harm reduction in their clients because that is realistic based on client dynamics. This case consultation format offers harm reduction skill building + strategies + case consultation for staff adaptation of harm reduction methods in real world situations. Many experienced as well as new clinicians need additional skills in developing the directional strategies that complex behavior change with a harm reduction philosophy.

This consultation model will build on skills utilized in MI and create harm reduction expertise among participants. Like many other client centered modalities, harm reduction is simple but not easy. Sessions will implement skills strategies and coaching feedback. It is ideal for practitioners who want to improve their in the moment practice of harm reduction and think through ethical and other complicating factors in adapting diverse populations, harms and settings.

This course offers dynamic interactive multimodal learning utilizing case examples, role play and key interactive experiences.

Objectives:
Participants will:
1. Develop proficiency so that they may evolve as leaders and flexible innovators with challenging clients.
2. Address assessment, designing collaborative interventions, safety and community concerns, plan failure and ethical considerations.
W9 - Getting to Know the 12 Steps and the 12 Steps Fellowships

Gerry Boylan, Ph.D., CADC

1 Day Workshop • Wednesday
5 CEUs

This workshop is designed to increase the participants knowledge base and understanding of the 12 Steps. An introduction to the structure and origin of 12 step fellowships along with a review of the 12 steps individually will be given and the spiritual principles underlying the 12 steps will be independently examined and examples of their application will be presented. A comparison of treatment and 12 Step fellowships will be made with techniques for linking the two processes explored. This workshop will explore the steps and their practical application both in treatment and afterwards. Essentially the 12 Steps are a spiritual path, and the wisdom embodied there can be used successfully by anyone seeking growth and freedom. The workshop will explore how the steps support that spiritual path and how treatment can help it develop. The exploration will be both didactic and experiential.

Objectives:
1. Increase ability to explain and present the 12 steps to clients and staff.
2. Gain ability to distinguish between various 12 step fellowships.
3. Be able to match client with, and make more accurate referrals to 12 Step Fellowships.
4. Be able to present and discuss the differences between 12 step fellowships and treatment programs.
5. Be able to align the steps with therapeutic elements of treatment.

W10 - Building a Village - The Art of Cultivating Effective Community Supports

James Campbell, M.A., CACII

1 Day Workshop • Wednesday
5 CEUs

Establishing and maintaining long-term recovery requires cultivating effective community supports. Unfortunately, often those we serve lack adequate, effective supports for their recovery and are often uncertain of how to begin building them. Building a Village is an exploration of how to aid those we serve in developing positive support for recovery within our communities. In addition, our role in cultivating support for recovery-based programs and the recovery community at large will also be addressed.

Objectives:
Participants in this training will:
1. Develop an understanding of the systemic challenges for those with substance use disorders as well as the systemic supports needed for healthy recovery.
2. Explore the supports that are available in our communities.
3. Gain an understanding of the need for developing self-efficacy in ourselves and those we serve.
4. Cultivate a working knowledge of how to assist those we serve in identifying and accessing community supports.
5. Be given the opportunity explore ways that they can partner in building support for recovery-based services and programs in their community and be an effective advocate for recovery.

Steve Grinstead, Dr. AD, LMFT, ACRPS, CADC-II

1 Day Workshop • Wednesday
5 CEUs

This clinical skills workshop is for professional clinicians who want to learn how to help their clients identify and manage the warning signs and high risks situations that lead to relapse despite a commitment to sobriety. Participants will learn that relapse is a process not an event and that there are many identifiable warning signs that occur far in advance of alcohol and other drug use. Valuable tools will be introduced that will enable the participants’ clients to take the mystery out of the relapse process and develop a strategic relapse prevention plan.

Participants will learn how to develop an early relapse intervention plan and abstinence contract to set the foundation for the remainder of the training process. Then the participants will be led through a strategic step by step high risk situation identification process. The training process ends with teaching participants to help clients develop a relapse prevention plan designed to help them identify and manage future warning signs and high risk situations. This training includes a combination of lectures, demonstrations, group discussions, and experiential exercises designed to enhance the training process.

Objectives:
Participants will be able to:
1. Explain relapse as a process—not an event—and teach their clients that recognizing and managing early relapse warning signs is crucial step in stopping the relapse cycle.
2. Assist their clients to identify and manage relapse warning signs and high risk situations—and teaching clients that not recognizing and dealing with those two indicators of potential danger can lead to entering a relapse cycle that eventually ends in chemical use.
3. Understand how the inner saboteur—AKA A Return To Denial—is always the first step of entering the relapse cycle.
4. Identify the twelve (12) denial patterns employed by clients that are crucial to manage in order to stop a relapse cycle.

W12 - Mindfulness: Meditation for Self-Care and Client Treatment: An Evidence Based Practice

Frank Snyder, Ph.D., LCSW, CADC

1 Day Workshop • Wednesday
5 CEUs

This clinical skills workshop is for professional clinicians who Mindfulness has been described as non-judgmental moment-to-moment awareness. The use of mindfulness in the clinical settings is a rapid growing area of study and practice in the mental health and recovery fields in recent years. The number of research articles, books and popular press articles on the topic is growing exponentially each year for these evidenced based interventions. Its first application working with pain and stress was developed by Jon Khabot-Zinn at the University of Massachusetts and called Mindful Based Stress Reduction (MBSR). Since then other approaches focused on different populations have been introduced: Mindfulness-Based Cognitive Therapy (MBCT), Acceptance and commitment therapy (ACT), Dialectical Behavior Therapy (DBT), Mindful Based Relapse Prevention (MBRP) and others.

This workshop will be an introduction to mindfulness and its applications. This will be a learn by doing workshop as the way to learn mindfulness is to do mindfulness The participant will be learning how to attend to the mind and body using the practice of mindfulness. The experiential exercises will be evenly supported with didactic presentations. In the didactic sessions we will explore evidence base for these interventions, the psychobiological changes which occur and where mindfulness practices fit in relapse prevention. So bring a yoga mat and meditation cushion or bench if you have one and if not come still come, not required at all; wear comfortable clothing and come to experience and learn.

Objectives:
Participants will;
1. Understand the central role of mindfulness meditation practice in facilitating self-regulation of emotions mood and the relapse process.
2. Articulate the vital importance of the therapist’s ongoing mindfulness meditation practice and sustained mindful awareness within a psychotherapy framework.
3. Develop and/or deepen their own mindfulness meditation practice, emphasizing both formal meditative practices and mindfulness as a mode of being in daily life.
W13 - Understanding and Managing the Multi-System, Multi-Problem Client: Habilitation or Rehabilitation

C.C. Nuckols, Ph.D.

1 Day Workshop • Wednesday
5 CEUs

Over the last 20 years, emerging populations of younger and more chronic individuals have been entering the addiction, criminal justice and mental health settings. Often called “young chronics” or “multi-system, multi-problem” clients, these individuals are difficult to understand and to treat. Often in need of habilitation, they present with personality immaturity, early alcohol/drug usage histories and a high incidence of early life developmental trauma. In adult treatment centers their subjective experience doesn’t match the clinical program.

This skills training event will help the clinician not only understand the clients needs but also look at current management technology and community based trends helpful in the habilitation of these clients. Treatment must be understood from the perspective of a chronic illness in need of multiple community based options and/or “wrap arounds.”

Objectives:
Upon completion of this workshop participants will be able to:

1. Describe clinical approaches helpful in engaging this population.
2. List at least 5 different services needed to habilitate this population.
3. Discuss the developmental needs of the client (i.e., how to utilize neuroplasticity to help the prefrontal cortex develop).
4. Describe the process of limit setting.
5. Describe the importance of the therapeutic relationship and healthy milieu.

WE1 - The Anonymous People: A Grassroots Social Justice Movement Takes Aim at Changing the Conversation from Problems to Solutions for America’s Top Health Problem

Mike Barry, B.S.

2 Hour Ancillary • Wednesday
2 CEUs

The Anonymous People is a feature documentary film about the 23.5 million Americans living in long-term recovery from alcohol and other drug addiction. Deeply entrenched social stigma and mass participation in widely successful anonymous 12-step groups have kept recovery voices silent and faces hidden for decades. The vacuum created by this silence has been filled by sensational mass media depictions of addiction that continue to perpetuate a lurid public fascination with the dysfunctional side of what is a preventable and treatable health condition. Just like women with breast cancer, or people with HIV/AIDS, courageous addiction recovery advocates are starting to come out of the shadows to tell their true stories. The moving story of The Anonymous People will be told through the faces and voices of the leaders, volunteers, corporate executives, and celebrities who are laying it all on the line to save the lives of others just like them. This passionate new public recovery movement is fueling a changing conversation that aims to transform public opinion, and finally shift problematic policy toward lasting recovery solutions. (http://manyfaces1voice.org)

Objectives:
1. Learn the history and reasoning behind the new Addiction Recovery movement sweeping the country.
2. Learn to become a Recovery Advocate and why your story is important to help others recover.
3. See how the new public recovery movement is fueling a changing conversation that aims to transform public opinion, and finally shift problematic policy toward lasting recovery solutions.
WE2 - Needle Exchange and Integrated Treatment for Opiate Addiction

Barbara Carter, M.A., CADC

2 Hour Evening Workshop • Wednesday
2 CEUs

To help stem the deadly tide of heroin/opioid addiction, what can addiction counselors do for their opiate-addicted clients? Can we blend medication assisted treatment approaches with abstinence based treatment approaches, and if so, how?

With an opioid-injection-based HIV epidemic in nearby Southern Indiana, it’s important to ask questions: Is abstinence-based treatment alone effective (or effective enough) for opiate addicts? What does Medication Assisted Treatment (MAT) offer to opiate addicts? Can harm reduction be the door to abstinence based recovery? What are the benefits of a Needle Exchange Program, to the addict and to the community at large?

How can we reduce fear and resistance to Needle Exchanges? This training begins with a brief overview of MAT; how approaches to treatment within MAT have changed over the years. Our state’s first Needle Exchange Program, in Louisville, will be discussed along with the rationale for and benefits of developing such a program. Blending 12-Step approaches with traditional MAT treatment will be covered. The session will end with an open question and answer discussion. Bring your questions and an open mind.

Objectives:
1. Learn how to integrate abstinence based treatment modalities with MAT approaches.
2. Gain education around harm reduction and public health initiatives, such as Needle Exchanges.
3. Gain education around Needle Exchanges: what they are, what they include, how they may benefit the addict and others.

THAM1 - Women With Substance Use and Unintended Pregnancy: All Options Counseling and Referrals

Fausta Luchini, M.A., LPP
with Bree Pearsall, M.S.W

1 Half Day Workshop • Thursday
3 CEUs

Making good referrals is often part of the work of a substance abuse counselor. This training will overview the Provide Curriculum using the STAR model, a guide for how to make referrals for women with substance use and other conditions and feel comfortable providing full options counseling with clients who experience unintended pregnancy. The goal is to help counselors know what to do and how to do it in a way that respects client autonomy and recognizes the providers' own values and feelings.

Objectives:
Participants will be able to:

1. Use empathic listening with patients or clients ambivalent about an unintended pregnancy.
2. Consult knowledgeably on parenting, abortion, and adoption resources in the community.
3. Navigate emotions that arise around personal beliefs and professional obligations.
4. Cultivate a sense of comfort and professional pride in referrals.
5. Honor client autonomy.
6. Serve as an informed resource on specialized reproductive health care, including unintended pregnancy and abortion.
7. Offer empathy to patients or clients when making referrals even if individual beliefs conflict with the referral.

THPM1 - Neonatal Abstinence Syndrome What Have We Learned Over the Last Decade

Lori Devlin Phinney, D.O. M.H.A.

1 Half Day Workshop • Thursday
3 CEUs

This presentation will examine Neonatal Abstinence Syndrome over the last decade. In the presentation, we will look at changing trends in substance abuse during pregnancy and the impact exposure has on the prevalence and severity of NAS. We will review the tools used to recognize and evaluate infants with NAS and examine changes in those tools. We will also evaluate pharmacologic and non-pharmacologic therapy for NAS and innovations in therapy as we strive for standardized treatment. Finally we will look at what we know about developmental outcomes and how this will guide research and quality in the field.

Objectives:

1. Evaluate trends in substance abuse during pregnancy and NAS over the last decade.
2. Review changes in recognition and treatment of NAS over the last decade.
3. Review what we know to date about developmental outcomes for exposed infant.
4. Review innovation in the field of NAS.
THAM2- Provider Technical Assistance/ Guidance for TCM Curriculum Submission

Michele Blevins M.S., LMFT

1 Half Day Workshop • Thursday
No CEUs

DBHDID staff will provide an overview of the process and the requirements necessary to apply for approval of training curricula to ensure that providers are in compliance with requirements of Kentucky Department for Medicaid Services’ regulations, including:

- 907 KAR 15:040/45 (Coverage provisions and requirements regarding Targeted Case Management (TCM) for individuals with a substance use disorder (SUD)/Reimbursement provisions and requirements)
- 907 KAR 15:050/55 (Coverage provisions and requirements regarding TCM for individuals with co-occurring mental health or substance use disorders and chronic or complex physical health conditions/Reimbursement provisions and requirements)
- 907 KAR 15:060/65 (Coverage provisions and requirements regarding TCM for individuals with a severe mental illness (SMI) and children with a severe emotional disability (SED)/Reimbursement provisions and requirements)

And Kentucky Department for Behavioral Health, Developmental and Intellectual Disabilities’ regulation:
- 908 KAR 2:260 (Targeted Case Manager: Eligibility and Training)

Objectives:
1. Participants will gain information on how to access the on-line information to submit curriculum for DBHDID approval as is required per the KY Department for Medicaid Services (DMS) 907 KAR 15:040/45, 15:050/55, and 15:060/65 and 908 KAR 2:260.
2. Participants will gain understanding of what course content is required of all candidates interested in providing targeted case management for children/youth with SED, adults with SMI, adolescents and adults with SUD, and persons with co-occurring SED or SMI and/or SUD and chronic or complex physical health conditions.
3. Participants will be able to dialogue with staff from DBHDID and ask questions about the eligibility and training requirements.

THPM2 - Adverse Childhood Experiences (ACE) Study – What this tells us and why it gives us hope

Dr. Ruth Shepherd, M.D., FAAP

1 Half Day Workshop • Thursday
3 CEUs

This session will provide an overview of the Adverse Childhood Experiences (ACE) Study, a research study that explores the impact of childhood trauma on one’s behavioral health, alcohol and other drug usage, social wellbeing, and economic stability later in life. The session will highlight the importance of what happens in early childhood matters for a lifetime. The session will offer hope and recovery related to how risk factors can be mitigated with a protective factor framework and a trauma informed care approach.

Objectives:
1. Participants will understand the importance and vulnerability of the first 5 years based on early brain development.
2. Participants will learn the impact of Adverse Childhood Experiences, toxic stress, and trauma on an individual and how a public health approach to lifespan development can mitigate these negative impacts.
3. Participants will learn how Kentucky Strengthening Families Protective Factors Framework and Trauma Informed Care can combat against trauma, abuse and neglect.
THAM3 - The “What” and “How” of Evidence Based Practices (EBP)

Ed Johnson, M.Ed., MAC, LPC

1 Half Day Workshop • Thursday
3 CEUs

The term “EBP” is ubiquitous in the literature and in federal guidelines. This workshop will help providers better understand what an Evidence Based Practice is (and is not), and how to determine which ones will provide the optimum outcomes for the patients served. The issues of supervision and fidelity of Evidence Based Practices will be stressed.

Objectives:

At the completion of this workshop, participants will:
1. Be able to articulate what makes a therapeutic intervention “evidence based.”
2. Be able to access sources for identifying EBP and methods of implementation.
3. Increase their understanding of the importance of supervision and fidelity to implementing EBP and physical diseases.

THPM3 - Recovery Oriented Systems of Care: Changing the Focus to “Recovery”: What Would it Look Like and How Could We Do It?

Ed Johnson, M.Ed., MAC, LPC

1 Half Day Workshop • Thursday
3 CEUs

Many providers feel like they already do focus on recovery, but do they really? This workshop explores what addiction treatment and prevention currently look like and what they might look like, based on current research, if the focus were on recovery. Participants will explore how a recovery-oriented system facilitates more individuals being able to initiate and sustain recovery. Participants will explore the issues of acute versus chronic care, stigma, community engagement and the concept of recovery capital, recovery management and the use of peer support. The importance of language and terminology will also be discussed.

Objectives:

Upon completion of this workshop, participants will be able to:
1. Compare and contrast the acute care and chronic care model of substance use disorder treatment.
2. Demonstrate increased understanding of the concept of “Recovery Capital” and how it impacts recovery initiation and support.
3. Articulate the differences between Recovery Management and Relapse Prevention.
4. Increase their understanding of terms that addiction professionals use which perpetrate the stigma associated with substance use disorders.
TH1 - Previewing the DSM-5: Diagnosing Disorders in Adults
George B. Haarman, Psy.D, LMFT

1 Day Workshop • Thursday
6 CEUs

The DSM-IV was published in 1994 and updated by the APA's DSM-IV-TR in 2000. Since then the DSM has become the “gold standard” and the “mental health bible” for those practicing in mental health. With the publication of the DSM-5 in May 2013, the new standard for the diagnosis of Psychological and Emotional Disorder has been established. Some disorders are eliminated completely; others are reclassified; and some are subsumed under other disorders. New classifications are also established to clarify appropriate diagnostic criteria and allow for more effective treatment planning. Many of these have generated considerable controversy and debate among healthcare professionals, even before the manual's release. Other disorders have undergone minor changes in order to reflect the current thinking and new research available. It's imperative that all mental health professionals update their understanding of the APA's new edition of the DSM to effectively identify, diagnose, and classify behavioral and mental health issues in individuals.

While providing a brief overview of all the changes adopted in the DSM-5, this workshop focuses on diagnoses for adults. Because the DSM-5 is organized in sequence with the developmental lifespan and an internalizing/externalizing continuum, the disorders previously addressed have been reconceptualized. Therefore, accurately diagnosing is more important than ever, as those in the mental health field look to avoid misdiagnosing and overmedicating people. As a psychologist and a marriage and family therapist with more than 30 years experience, Dr. George Haarman, Psy.D., LMFT, brings clarity to the forefront regarding the new classifications issued in the DSM-5 and the rationale behind those changes. Using numerous case studies, Dr. Haarman prepares each attendee to be able to provide an accurate diagnosis that is essential to evidence based treatment.

Objectives:
1. Participants will be able to identify the disorders that are new to the DSM-5 that relate to adults.
2. Participants will understand the theory, rationale, and development of the DSM-5.
3. Participants will be able to distinguish between Bipolar and Persistent Depressive Disorder.
4. Participants will develop a working knowledge of the severity scale for assessing mild, moderate, or severe Substance Use Disorder.

TH2 - Helping Clients Move Beyond Perfection in Recovery
Mark Sanders, LCSW, CADC

1 Day Workshop • Thursday
6 CEUs

Many chemically dependent clients received the message in childhood that they had to be perfect in order to protect family secrets. Early drug use actually gave them permission to not be perfect. In recovery, this tendency toward perfection often rears its head again and threatens to undermine recovery. This workshop focuses on strategies to help chemically dependent clients move beyond perfection in recovery in order to achieve the type of sobriety that benefits them and society. A partial list of topics includes: The Differences between Healthy and Unhealthy Perfection; Sources of Perfection, Including the Family of Origin, Family Secrets, the Media, School, the world of Work, and Religion; Addiction and Perfection; Co-dependence as Perfection; Adult Children of Alcoholics as Perfectionists; The Link between Perfection and Process Addictions, Including Sexual Addiction, Religious Addiction, Workaholism, Addictive Relationships and Romance Addiction; and Strategies to Help Clients Move Beyond Perfection in Stage One and Stage Two of Recovery.

Objectives:
By the end of this workshop, participants will:
1. Be aware of the differences between healthy and unhealthy perfection.
2. Be aware of the sources of perfection for chemically dependent clients.
3. Be aware of the link between perfection and process addictions.
4. Be aware of 10 strategies to help clients move beyond perfection in recovery.
TH3-Ad - Adolescent ASAM Criteria: Skill-Building and Applying the Criteria in Adolescent Services

David Mee-Lee, M.D.

1 Day Workshop • Thursday
6 CEUs

The latest edition of the American Society of Addiction Medicine's criteria was released October 24, 2013: “The ASAM Criteria – Treatment Criteria for Addictive, Substance-Related, and Co-Occurring Conditions.” Using the Adolescent ASAM Criteria is not just completing a checklist that justifies admission to your program or level of care. This workshop will explain the underlying concepts and the six dimensions of the ASAM Criteria as well orient participants to the Adolescent criteria and levels of care.

Many clinicians already have some understanding about the ASAM Criteria. But there is a need for improved skills to carefully assess adolescents in a multidimensional way; and to document a more targeted and focused, individualized treatment plan. This workshop is also designed to help implement a continuum of care for adolescents. Specific hands-on exercises will be provided to help improve implementation the Adolescent ASAM Criteria.

Objectives:
Participants will:
1. Review revisions and the rationale of the Adolescent ASAM Criteria.
2. Discuss the clinical application of the Adolescent Criteria and the implications for broadening prevention and treatment services to better meet the needs of youth.
3. Identify how to organize assessment data to practice individualization of problems and treatment plans and to make proper placement decisions.

TH4 - Dilemmas Surrounding Medication Management In Recovery

Dr. Stephen Grinstead, LMFT, ACRPS, CADAC-II

1 Day Workshop • Thursday
6 CEUs

Healthcare and treatment providers are on the front line to accurately assess, intervene upon and develop appropriate treatment plans for people in recovery or the chemically impaired patient who needs to be in recovery who live with a chronic pain condition. Therefore, a major focus of this workshop will center on identification and effective intervention and treatment of prescription drug abuse for chronic pain patients. This will be accomplished in part by discussing how to identify the most common red flags of prescription drug abuse, and the high risk situations patients experience that lead to prescription drug abuse and/or addiction. It is also important that participants become familiar with common pain management drugs of abuse as well as recovery friendly alternatives.

For people in recovery who have chronic pain and/or psychological disorders including addiction a multidisciplinary treatment approach is crucial. This specialized treatment plan includes medication management, emotional and/or psychological symptom management, and non-pharmacological pain management interventions for chronic pain conditions. Positive treatment outcomes can be accomplished by managing pain and coexisting disorders utilizing the Addiction-Free Pain Management® synergistic multidisciplinary treatment system.

Objectives:
By attending this presentation participants will be able to:
1. Identify at least ten (10) the most common prescription drugs of abuse as well as identifying at least ten (10) recovery friendly medications for pain management.
2. Understand and explain the unique needs and obstacles confronting patients and their families who are in recovery and living with chronic pain conditions and other coexisting psychological disorders including addiction and need to be on prescription medications.
3. Identify at least twenty-five (25) Red Flags that indicate that clients are using their prescription medication problematically and learn simple interventions to address those problems.
TH5 - Intervention and Treatment Strategies for Resistant Clients with Mental Health and Substance Abuse Disorders

Geoff Wilson, LCSW, CADC

1 Day Workshop • Thursday
6 CEUs

Many practitioners commonly have the experience of completing an initial assessment and determining their client is suffering from co-morbid conditions. Recent surveys have found that six out of ten people with a substance use disorder also suffer from another form of mental illness. In addition, many of these clients will present as resistant to change for a variety of reasons. This workshop will provide attendees with an overview of what resistance is in the helping relationship and specific ways to address resistance with clients who present with co-occurring disorders. The treatment field’s response to addressing these issues will be explored along with specific strategies to enhance the therapeutic alliance between counselors and their clients.

Objectives:
Participants of this workshop:
1. Will identify what resistance is in the therapeutic process and specific signs of resistance.
2. Will review the core principles for treating clients with co-occurring disorders, including consensus based and evidence-based practices for mental health and substance abuse treatment.
3. Will identify specific strategies to enhance client engagement in the treatment process.
4. Will process how specific diagnoses can influence resistance and the importance of utilizing consultation and the referral process to decrease resistance and improve outcomes.

TH6 - Basics of Substance Abuse for Mental Health Professionals

Mark Miller, M.A., M.S., LMFT

1 Day Workshop • Thursday
6 CEUs

How do you identify whether someone is suffering from Bi-Polar Disorder or other mental health diagnoses or is going through the cycle of substance abuse? Compare and contrast typical symptoms of drug abuse and DSM 5 disorders. Identify the spectrum of DSM 5 Substance Use Disorder and how it pertains to your patients. Discuss referral options in and around your communities. What questions do you ask of a Substance Abuse professional? What questions should a Substance Abuse professional ask you? Discuss the pros and cons of drug testing as a means of ruling out Substance Use Disorder with your patients. This will be a good jumping off point for individuals starting to work with Substance Abuse or those who have been working in the field longer but were afraid to ask! Case Studies will be offered.

Objectives:
1. Be able to recognize the differences between Substance Use and Mental Health Disorders.
2. Understand the DSM 5 Substance Use Disorder spectrum
3. Learn the language of substance abuse versus the acronyms of mental health workers.
TH7 - Preparing to Become a CADC in KY

Jeanne Keen, R.N., CADC, M.S.
Mike Vance, M.B.A., CADC, CPP, LSW

1 Day Workshop • Thursday
6 CEUs

This workshop will provide the history and development of professional certification by ICRC and the Kentucky Application and Credentialing process. The workshop will include a step-by-step instruction upon successful completion of the application documents, the regulatory requirements and the requirements for submission of all documents. The workshop will further identify the Twelve Core Functions of Alcohol and Drug Counseling and will guide the participant toward a successful study plan that will allow adequate preparation for the new competency based comprehensive exam as introduced by ICRC in June 2008. The instructors will provide numerous suggestions about study methods, test taking ideas and techniques for successful exam taking. A sample exam will be given and will be scored on the day of the class.

Objectives:
1. Understand the IC&RC and development of the certification process.
2. Identify and describe the 12 Core Functions.
3. Discuss the process of the written exam.
4. Understand the CADC certification process.

TH8-Px - “I See, You See”: A Teen Perspective Cycle

Marc Fomby, CPS

1 Day Workshop • Thursday
6 CEUs

In this course, participants are introduced to the teen thought process relative to DMC (Disproportionate Minority Contact) and critical situations encountered by youth with key stakeholders and peers. Initially designed for our Junior Consultants to share with youth participants how their experiences and perspective creates a cycle that directly or indirectly impacts and shape their lives, the presentation has since grown due to adult demand. During the presentation, participants will experience what we’ve learned from youth regarding each peer and/or stakeholder group that is a part of the cycle.

Participants explore the theory and how it can help explain youth responses to programs and administrative policies and procedures that govern youth development in the context of family, home, school and community. This presentation is an insight into the views and thought process of today’s youth. Participants will learn how youth may translate what they see and hear into what they “do” resulting in positive or negative behavior.

Objectives:
At the end of this course, participants will be able to:
1. Identify the various peer groups that influence and shape the lives of youth.
2. Define and identify situations involving stakeholders that have an immediate and/or delayed impact on youth perspective and responses.
3. Assess critical role of stakeholders vital to addressing challenges in better communicating with youth.
TH9-Px - Comprehensive Community Approaches to Suicide Prevention

Dr. JoEllen Tarallo-Falk, Ed.D., MCHES, FASHA

1 Day Workshop • Thursday
6 CEUs

The goal of this session is to build the self-efficacy of the mental health and substance abuse prevention workforce to implement key elements of a comprehensive community-wide approach to suicide prevention, and to consider the challenges and opportunities that exist. Participants will be introduced to an ecological approach to promoting mental health wellness and preventing suicide within a continuum of care from health promotion through recovery. The relationship between substance use, mental health and suicide prevention will be discussed. Resources from umatter for Schools, umatter for Communities, umatter for Youth and Young Adults and umatter public information comprehensive school and community planning model developed and promoted by the VT Suicide Prevention Center, a program of the Center for Health and Learning, in collaboration with VT Department of Mental Health, will be presented. The following issues will be discussed drawing from eight years of developing comprehensive suicide prevention programming at the state and community level: role of connectedness and suicide prevention, consumer orientation, Staff and Parent Awareness training, importance of language and media messaging, how Gatekeeper training fits into a comprehensive plan, prevention and postvention protocols for schools and seven community professionals, cultural considerations.

Objectives:
1. Describe national models that utilize a comprehensive community approach to suicide prevention which includes evidence based strategies engaging schools, health care and community providers systems.
2. Describe the elements of a comprehensive approach and evidence-based practices for suicide prevention and postvention.
3. Acquire the tools for comprehensive suicide prevention action planning and determine short and long term strategies.

TH10 - Holistic Self Care for Practitioners: Discover the Tips, Tools, and Resources Needed to Create a Lifestyle Grounded in Simple Choices, Solid Boundaries, and Healthy Practices

Julia Persike, M.S., CSAC

1 Day Workshop • Thursday
6 CEUs

Whether defined as a purposeful act of simplifying one’s lifestyle or simply stated as a means of de-cluttering one’s home, work, and connections, Intentional Simplicity is a way of life that encourages individuals to let go of unnecessary, unused, and unneeded thoughts, beliefs, feelings, practices, and “stuff” which adds to the clutter of daily living. Intentional Simplicity is a lifestyle practice which involves creating limits, adhering to boundaries, and developing healthy expectations about everything which fills our lives (sometimes to the point of overload and exhaustion). Maintaining a lifestyle based in intentional choices leads to freedom, contentment, and a stronger sense of peacefulness no matter how complicated your caseload, no matter how many hours you work in a week, and no matter how many obligations you juggle.

Objectives:
1. Participants will learn the benefits of a lifestyle based in the roots of deliberate clarity and thoughtful choices.
2. Participants will gain valuable knowledge about how to create a lifestyle grounded in boundaries, contentment, and simplicity.
3. Participants will engage in a variety of learning methods (small group discussion, active learning, etc.) while exploring the benefits of lifestyle change, boundary adherence, and thoughtful simplicity.
4. Participants will learn from others in the class, will examine their personal choices, and will walk away feeling refreshed, rejuvenated, and ready to enjoy the benefits of a lifestyle based in Intentional Simplicity.
TH11 - Engaging Families in Treatment and Recovery

James Campbell, M.A., CACII

1 Day Workshop • Thursday
6 CEUs

Families have a tremendous impact on individuals with an addiction. All too often we know this to be true, and yet very few treatment programs effectively engage families and treat the family system as a whole. Engaging Families in Recovery is a look at addiction as a family disease as well as recovery as a family process. Special emphasis is placed on how to engage families in treatment as well as effective interventions with families.

Objectives:
Participants in this training will:
1. Develop an understanding of the impact of family systems on substance use disorders.
2. Define historic views of family roles and how those have impacted family engagement.
3. Distinguish between families of origin and families of support.
4. Explore how to leverage families in fostering recovery through practical, effective steps and suggestions for engaging families in treatment.

TH12 - Removing Defects of Character: A New Way of Looking at Things

Cardwell C. Nuckols, Ph.D.

1 Day Workshop • Thursday
6 CEUs

Character defects are a source of suffering and can lead to relapse and other self-defeating behaviors. At the root of these defects are narcissistic beliefs about the self (I, me and mine) and a distorted self-image. Defects of character respond poorly to psychotherapy and pharmacotherapy and are more amenable to change utilizing spiritual tools such as humility, honesty, acceptance and surrender.

This skills-training event will teach clinicians how to assist clients in the removal of these defects including pride, greed, jealousy and envy. Understanding that “I am jealous and I will change” is an illusion and the fact that change occurs in the “moment” will be at the heart of this transformation.

Objectives:
Upon completion of training, participants will be able to:
1. Understand and describe how character defects are formed.
2. Understand that thought cannot facilitate change as it has limited power.
3. Describe how the notion of change in the future is an illusion.
4. Describe the process of change as it happens in the “moment” where the power of transformation resides.
Debbie Acker, R.N., CFN

Mike Barry, B.S.
Mike Barry has had his share of broad life experiences from which to draw. By age 40 he had reached the peak of his profession as a TV News Anchor, reporter, and producer. But behind the polished image of success was a man already overwhelmed by the disease of alcoholism. His story is more common than you think, which is why the driving passion of his life today is to help others in need of a new life, free from addiction and in long-term recovery, he himself found. His new calling as an advocate for the recovery movement is enhanced by his training and experience in broadcasting and technology. His unique combination of talent, energy and devotion to the cause has placed Mike Barry at the heart of this movement. He travels the country seeking to educate others about addiction, to remove barriers and discrimination, and thus enable those in long-term recovery and no longer using alcohol or other drugs to become productive members of society.

Jonathan I. Cloud, B.A., B.A.
Jonathan I. Cloud has thirty years of experience in the human services field that encompasses case management, administration, and program development. His career has included special initiatives in youth outreach, family support, community organizing, child protective services, foster care reform, juvenile justice, and disaster recovery. His areas of demonstrated expertise include strategic planning, organizational development, program planning and development, partnership-building, and systems change through targeted project planning and execution.

Transitioning into independent consulting in 1992, Jonathan served as the Urban Initiatives Consultant for the U.S. Department of Education’s Southeast Regional Center for Drug-Free Schools and Communities, and a Certified Trainer and Strategic Consultant for Developmental Research and Programs, Inc., then a leading national organization in prevention science. He provided technical assistance to communities engaged in the Weed & Seed national crime reduction initiative and provided training and technical assistance to scores of communities on behalf of the Department of Justice’s Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention (OJJDP). For this federal agency, he assisted with the development and delivery of their Comprehensive Strategy Training and Technical Assistance Initiative, a rigorous, science-based planning process that links a community's prevention, intervention, and corrections systems. Other consulting highlights include:

- National Council on Crime and Delinquency: a field of study of programs that identified and documented best practices in prosecution, community policing, prevention, and neighborhood revitalization.
- Project Safe Neighborhoods: Department of Justice national gun violence reduction initiative.
- Florida's Department of Juvenile Justice: redesigned the manner in which the State allocated funding for juvenile delinquency prevention.
- OJJDP: Targeted Community Action Planning Initiative that is designed to address serious juvenile offending in selected cities.
- National Center for Missing and Exploited Children: numerous trainings on protecting victims of child prostitution and on school safety.
- Outagamie County, Wisconsin Division of Youth and Family Services: assistance in improving its efforts to reduce disproportionate minority contact, integration of child welfare and juvenile justice, and community-wide strategy to address child sex trafficking.
- Georgia's Governor's Office for Children and Families/Georgia Criminal Justice Coordinating Council: consultation, technical support, and training for the Commercial Sexual Exploitation of Children initiative.
- U. S. Department of Labor/YouthBuild USA: technical assistance provider to YouthBuild Programs focused on training and support of development for youth out of the education mainstream.

Jonathan has provided trainings on numerous topics and delivered keynote addresses for conferences across the country. He is the author of Parenting the Guardian Class: Validating Spirited Youth, Ending Adolescence, and Renewing America's Greatness, which argues for empowering youth rather than controlling youth. His higher education includes holding BA degrees in Religion and Psychology and extensive graduate studies in Public Administration and Social Work.

Ruth Ann Shepherd, M.D., FAAP
Dr. Ruth Ann Shepherd is the Division Director for Maternal and Child Health in the Kentucky Department for Public Health. Dr. Shepherd brings to Public Health more than 20 years experience as a board certified neonatologist and pediatrician, and has practiced in both urban and rural settings. As the Medical Director of the Level II NICU in Pikeville, KY for 17 years, Dr. Shepherd saw firsthand the impact of the growing problem of neonatal abstinence syndrome in the infants she cared for in the NICU. Now, as a state Public Health official, she has had the opportunity to address the issue at a policy level, convening public and private partners to develop tools that practitioners and communities can utilize to deal with the growing problem of substance abuse in pregnancy and neonatal abstinence syndrome.
A Kentucky native, Dr. Shepherd completed her medical training at the University of Louisville School of Medicine, her pediatric residency at Methodist Hospital, Indianapolis, Indiana, and her fellowship in Neonatal Perinatal Medicine at the Medical University of South Carolina (Charleston). She is board certified in Pediatrics and in Neonatal-Perinatal Medicine. Dr. Shepherd has additional certifications from Duke University in Non-Profit Management, Auburn University Certificate in Business Administration for Physicians and from the National Association for Healthcare Quality (Certified Professional in HealthCare Quality). She has served as past president of the Kentucky Perinatal Association and chair of the Greater Kentucky March of Dimes Program Services Committee, and is active in many professional organizations. Dr. Shepherd has presented on preterm birth prevention and other public health topics in several states and nationally, including the 2008 Surgeon General’s Conference on Preventing Preterm Birth, the National WIC Association, the NICHD Education Committee, and the 2009 March of Dimes Perinatal Quality Symposium. She also served on the National Quality Forum Steering Committee on Perinatal Indicators. In 2012 Dr. Shepherd received the inaugural award for Excellence in State MCH Leadership from the Association of Maternal and Child Health Directors, and also the President’s Award from the Association of State Health Officers for her leadership and work on prematurity prevention. Dr. Shepherd is currently a member of the Secretary’s Advisory Committee on Infant Mortality for U.S. Department for Health and Human Services.

Ruth Shim, M.D., M.P.H.

Becky Vaughn has been working in the addictions field for over 30 years. She was a member of the founding board of The Georgia Association for the Prevention and Treatment of Substance Abuse (GAPTSA) in 1992 and became their first Executive Director in 1994. Her responsibilities included training and advocacy at the local, state, and national level. In July of 2000 GAPTSA merged with an Atlanta coalition creating The Georgia Council on Substance Abuse where she served as President and CEO until 2007. Her work continued there as an advocate at the Legislature and catalyst in the community on issues related to prevention, treatment, recovery, homelessness, and drug courts with the goal of reducing the impact of substance abuse on GA communities. Her work included passage of many bills addressing substance use disorder solutions as well as securing budget resources. Beginning in 2008 she took over the helm of the State Associations of Addiction Services (SAAS) as their CEO after serving on its Board since 2000. Since the recent merger of SAAS with the National Council for Behavioral Health, Becky is now serving as the newly created VP for Addictions at the Council with a goal of building the addiction presence and services at the Council. She has served on numerous state and federal committees and panels and speaks on the issue in a variety of settings. Becky received her degrees from the University of GA and GA State University. She grew up in Atlanta, but is enjoying being part of the DC community. As a former teacher and the mother of four, she is passionate about preventing and finding solutions to the far-reaching problems caused by untreated addiction.

While You Are Here:

Onsite Check-In: REQUIRED

Onsite check-in will be open Sunday, Aug. 16, 2015 from 2:00-6:00 p.m. Sunday’s plenary begins at 5:00 p.m., followed by a reception. Check-in will be open Monday-Thursday from 8:00-10:15 a.m. Nametags and information packets will be distributed at this time. The location for onsite check-in is outside Crowne A Ballroom. Check-in is required only the first day of your workshops.

Nametags, Barcodes and CEUs

Nametags include a barcode that will be scanned at the beginning and the end of each workshop (including when you exit and re-enter at lunch), and at the beginning (only) of each plenary. Certificates for CEUs and Contact Hours will be generated after the conference based on participants’ scans. Please keep name badge secure and easily accessible for scanner.

Certificates with CEUs or Contact Hours earned will be available online to download and print after Sept. 21, 2015. An email message with instructions will be sent to attendees after Sept. 21.

PLEASE KEEP YOUR NAMETAG SECURE AND WEAR IT AT ALL TIMES. A $5.00 fee will be assessed to replace lost nametags. See Onsite Registration outside the Crowne Ballroom for replacements.

Handouts

Handouts were posted online prior to KSAODS. Each registrant was emailed the link to workshop(s) to download and print handouts for their sessions (approximately Aug. 1, 2015). Registrants are responsible for this process. Printed handouts will not be available on site.

Please note, a workshop that has a Px or Ad designation may also be appropriate for a treatment provider and vice versa. The designations are indicated to provide preventionists and adolescent treatment providers guidance in selecting workshops that will be most appropriate for their credentialling boards’ approval.

Evaluations

Your feedback is valued by conference planners.

- Plenary - session evaluations will be available. Please complete at the conclusion of each session and leave on ballroom tables.
- Workshop - evaluations will be distributed at the conclusion of each workshop; leave with workshop facilitator.
- Conference - evaluations will be conducted online, and upon completion, certificates will be available to participants.

Meals

Lunch will be provided daily and is included in your registration fee. Lunch Monday and Thursday are buffet style. Lunch Tuesday and Wednesday are box lunches. Tuesday Evening Banquet: There is no additional cost with full-week registration for the Tuesday evening Awards Banquet; however, your attendance was to be indicated during the registration process. Other registrants are welcome to attend, but must register at onsite registration and pay $35.00.

Vendors/Exhibitors

A list of vendors and exhibitors is available in registrant folders received at Check-In. Please be sure to visit the 2015 Vendors/Exhibitors in the Exhibit Hall. Satisfaction surveys will be in participant folders. Please complete after visiting the exhibit hall and take to registration area or leave in Exhibit Hall.

Please Remember...

- Bring downloaded handouts to all sessions (copies will not be available onsite)
- Bring sweater/light jacket for air conditioning comfort (it is almost always chilly in sessions)
- Keep nametag accessible for scanners
- Arrive to sessions at the scheduled times
- Silence electronic devices during all sessions
- Enjoy the conference!
